Establishment of Named Funds

The James N. George Fund

The James N. George Fund was established September 3, 1982, by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University with gifts to The Ohio State University Development Fund from The George Foundation of Columbus, Ohio.

All gifts are to be invested in the University's Permanent Endowment Fund, under the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University, with the right to invest and reinvest as occasion dictates.

The annual income is to be made available for the use of Dr. James N. George, Professor of Medicine at The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio as long as he is an active member of the university faculty. The income would also be available for Dr. George's use should he become an active member of any other university faculty. During that time, the annual income is to be used by Dr. George for research and training in hematology.

When Dr. George retires or, if prior thereto, he indicates no further use for the funds, they will remain with The Ohio State University College of Medicine. The entire fund will then be used to endow a faculty chair in the College of Medicine. The use of the faculty chair shall be left to the discretion of the Dean of the College of Medicine.

The Mildred S. and Noel F. George Fund

The Mildred S. and Noel F. George Fund was established September 3, 1982, by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University with a gift to The Ohio State University Development Fund from the Kaplan-Halpert Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio through the generosity of Noel F. George ('32 Law), a trustee of the Foundation, on the occasion of his 50th Anniversary of graduation from the College of Law.

All gifts are to be invested in the University's Permanent Endowment Fund under the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University, with the right to invest and reinvest as occasion dictates.

The annual income is to be used to provide support for the Library in the College of Law at the discretion of the Dean of the College of Law.

Should the need for this fund cease to exist or so diminish as to provide unused income, then the income may be used for any purpose whatsoever as determined by the Board of Trustees, with preference being given to recommendations from the appropriate administrative official of the University who is then directly responsible for legal education.

Both Drs. Flesher served the University with distinction for many years. The name of the fund will be changed to "The William Ray and Marie Adamson Flesher Professorship in Educational Administration" after the demise of Dr. Marie A. Flesher.

All gifts are to be invested in the University's Permanent Endowment Fund, under the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University, with the right to invest and reinvest as occasion dictates.

The annual income is to be used to provide support for the work of a distinguished scholar in the field of educational administration. Appointment to the Flesher Professorship will be recommended by the Dean of the College of Education to the Provost and approved by the Board of Trustees.

Should the need for this faculty position cease to exist or so diminish as to provide unused income, then the income may be used for any purpose whatsoever as determined by the Board of Trustees, with preference being given to recommendations from the appropriate administrative official of the University who is then directly responsible for educational administration.

PRESENTATION--A DIRECTORY OF RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT RESOURCES AT THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

President Jennings:

Yes, Mr. Chairman, I'd like to call on Dr. Garland and Dr. Adams to describe to you a booklet recently published by Ohio State called Partners for Strength and like for them just to describe that and describe some of their activities--Jim.

Dr. Garland:

Well, as a major research institution, Ohio State has always had the responsibility to serve the needs of the State of Ohio and of the nation as a whole. I think we all realize that this need is heightened today by our depressed economy and by the unprecedented unemployment in the state. One of the solutions to this problem--perhaps one of the only solutions--is to try to change the focus in this state away from a manufacturing base into a high-technology base. Part of the difficulty at Ohio State in making our resources available to the citizens has been a communication problem. Ohio State is so large and so diversified--it's a literally comprehensive institution--that we have found it difficult to explain to people what we were doing and what our capabilities were.

About a year and a half ago, Dr. Adams undertook to prepare a directory of research and development resources at Ohio State, and this directory has just come off the presses in the past week, so I thought it would be appropriate for him to tell you a little bit about its background.

Dr. Adams:

I don't think I will go into the history, the background that much. I know you have a lot of other important things to do, but as we've been worrying more and more lately about extending further our relationships with business and industry, I think we've all become very sensitive to the point that Jim just made that when a businessman or a person running an industry needs help of some sort from a university, he doesn't know where to go, and he doesn't know who to call--it's like a big complex jungle as you people well know, and if he goes into the wrong place, he gets the wrong answer and he hates us forevermore, and says that place doesn't love us and doesn't try to help us and so forth. We decided that since we publish bulletins of courses every quarter for the students so they know which course is going on, where and when and who's teaching it and so forth, that it might not hurt to do the same kind of thing for business and industry, and that is what we have tried to do here. In effect, this is simply a guide to what the University does primarily in industry and in its principal services available for business and industry. It lists in the first section (there are three sections of it) the general areas, the general resources we have in research and services.

RESOURCES AT THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY (contd)

In the second section--the one I like best, the light blue--that's a list of almost ninety research centers and laboratories. In each case, the description tells the person who may have an interest or a need what the facilities are, what strange things that center can do that no one else in the world can do. And down at the bottom, there's a person's name and a telephone number, and I hope the index would help them find that. And up in the front of this thing is the telephone number of the Vice President for Research and University Business Relations. In other words, we hope that this becomes a kind of yellow pages, if you will, for OSU for people who need help so that they can find their way in here quickly and get the answer from the expert they're after, and if they can't, then they talk to the Vice President and he's got the book, he knows everything. That's about the size of what I have to say, Mr. President.

President Jennings:

Well, thank you, Art. This we hope will emphasize what we are best capable of doing. I might add, whether it's business and industry or any other organization interested in research capabilities at Ohio State, you'll see that the great bulk of the activity, I hate to use the words, but is involved with basic research is what Ohio State does best, that is defined very differently from department to department and college to college, but it does represent, I think, quite an accomplishment to compile from this massive institution. This is a condensed version, I might add, of this--I think the original information was a stack about this high and--is a condensed version, so there is a good deal of abbreviation, etc.

Dr. Adams:

May I add just one point--we do intend to get this out across the country to our alumni and friends, to some of the important business concerns in the country, and closer to home, to our own friends in the Chambers of Commerce in the city, the state, and so forth. And inside, now that we actually can tell ourselves what we do on this campus and how much we do, we'll pass it around here and try to impress ourselves with it.

PRESENTATION--CANCER INSTITUTE HOSPITAL

President Jennings:

Knowing full well we don't need to impress ourselves as one of the great--the greatest--public institutions in the country, members of the press, I would now like to call on Dr. Tzagournis to present to you some of the detailed plans and operations that should and will truly recognize Ohio State University as the world's leading cancer research center in the world--we are now, but this will improve that very substantially. Manuel.

Dr. Tzagournis:

Thank you--Mr. President, Board members. I think you have heard from me sufficiently already so I would like to call on one of our distinguished faculty members in cancer to do the subsequent introductions--it is Dr. Art James who was a former president of the American Cancer Society and has chaired the faculty group in the planning of this cancer hospital and institute. Art.

Dr. James:

Thank you, Manny. Mr. President and members of the Board. I can't tell you how pleased I am to think that the idea of a cancer hospital has finally materialized to the point that the elements of an operational plan are to be presented to you this afternoon. As you well know, this has been a long time in coming. There was much work done on this in the early 60's and in 1962, for example, the Columbus Dispatch carried an article announcing the planning of a 100 bed cancer hospital and it was interesting that at that time this institution was to cost $2.5 million--we should have built it then.

Then in 1977 the Citizen Journal announced that we were planning a 200 bed cancer hospital and those of you--many of you will remember that. But at any rate, things have finally jelled, and we are on our way and it is extremely gratifying to realize that we are going to have a first-class cancer hospital on our campus. Now this will be a very unique institution. It will be so designed, so staffed and so equipped that it will compete very favorably with the leading cancer hospitals in this country--Sloan-Kettering, Roswell Park and M. D. Anderson--and it still will be a very integral part of the University medical center. I am sure that one day it will be considered one of the better accomplishments for Ohio State University.

To get this going, a preliminary program of requirements was first drawn up. Part of this information came from the medical planning group that was engaged by a long range planning committee for the medical center and part through personal visits to cancer institutions. The program was reviewed and supplemented by the committee on cancer and its many subcommittees and there were about 50 faculty members that took part in these subcommittee reports. In addition the architects held over 100 meetings to other faculty members and other personnel so that all in all the input has been from a tremendous number of faculty and people. Presentations were made at faculty meetings and to the Committees of the Hospitals Board and then after many meetings with the architects an operational plan has been developed and this has been presented to the Committees of the Board and has been approved by the Executive Committee of the Board and is to be presented to you for your consideration at this time by the architect. Our architectural firm is Bohm--NBBJ, and seated back here representing them is Mr. Jack Pettit, who is the Chief Architect and Vice President; and John Currie, who is Director of Medical Facilities Planning; and its President, Mr. Friedl Bohm, who will make the presentation.

Mr. Friedl Bohm:

Thank you, Art. When we look at the basics of this profile of the Cancer Institute Hospital it is very obvious--what we are looking at is at a program that on the one side wants to be a major part of the medical center of OSU at the same time also be independent in terms of its leadership in patient care, its leadership in terms of research, and its leadership as a teaching institution for physicians. If we look at the separation between the basic services offered and the clinical disciplines offered or represented, you can see a separation in the clinical disciplines in terms of the medical oncology, the surgical oncology, radiation therapy and the pathology as being the four major areas and then broken down in a series of different services.

I think it is interesting when one looks at some basic numbers in terms of how many people will be served by the institution and what service will be provided by the institution. In an oversimplified way we can break it down into outpatients and inpatients. The outpatient total work load, and I am not sure if it is legible on the bottom of that sheet, is around 66,000 outpatients per year that will be treated in the mid 80's when the cancer unit is in full operation, which comes to approximately 250 outpatients per day being treated within the facility.

On the other side when we look at the inpatient, we are looking at a need--initial need--of 160 beds which will increase over a period of 8 to 10 years to approximately 220 beds. When Art talked about comparison between The Ohio State University cancer research institute and on the other side the M. D. Anderson, Sloan-Kettering, it is probably good to look at comparison of patient group and a comparison of patient work load between M. D. Anderson and Sloan-Kettering, and if we used the 1980-81 figures of Sloan-Kettering and the 1981-82 figures of M. D. Anderson and the projected mid 80's figures of OSU Cancer Institute, you will see that the numbers at OSU sit right in the middle between those of M. D. Anderson and those of Sloan-Kettering. So our projection of outpatient visits per hospital admission and our projection of outpatient visits per bed are actually higher than Sloan-Kettering's, a little bit lower than M. D. Anderson. I think that gives us a good feeling as to where we sit with our projections.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

PRESENTATION--CANCER INSTITUTE HOSPITAL (contd)

Mr. Friedl Bohm: (contd)

The objective of the Cancer Institute Hospital is to provide facilities for research, teaching, and for patient care. The base of the hospital is obviously always patient care. We have approximately 55 percent of the space dedicated for patient care; about 18 percent of research in patient care; about 14 percent for research; and about 8 percent for teaching and conference facilities.

If we look at the total space program, the Institute Hospital has a total space need of approximately 200,000 square feet--actually, exactly 196,000 square feet. And in addition to it, the space need for the Radiation Therapy Facility is 31,000 square feet.

One of the early elements that have impelled all the programming was really an analysis of the site definition--where should the hospital happen, and the recommendation is to locate it directly east of University Hospital in the area that is designated by the red circle. For orientation purposes, you can see the drive up to Rhodes Hall about the center of this picture and the large block in the middle of the picture is the total University Hospital and the red circle there on the east side of the University Hospital.

One of the difficult things when we look at a site and the ability of a site handling such a complex institution that has to accommodate visitor traffic, has to accommodate inpatient traffic, has to accommodate outpatient traffic, service traffic, and staff traffic is really to find a way of fitting it within the campus plan within the campus as is. In an oversimplified way, the proposed traffic flow to the facility works the following--our major traffic flow happens and will happen in the future north and south on Cannon Drive whichever way Cannon Drive ties into the overall circulation network. From there the drive will go up in a circle back and front of Rhodes Hall and actually the access to the Cancer Institute Hospital is this, a little blue line, the secondary loop that comes off the main loop that goes to Rhodes Hall, the brown area depicting the location of the new facility. There is a secondary access for outpatient and for radiation therapy patients which would come up and down Twelfth identified in the green arrows on the drawing that you can see up there.

The Institute Hospital ties into University Hospital, ties into Rhodes Hall, will use as many of the functions that are already in place as possible--at the same time will create its own identity. It will also tie into the existing traffic network and use the existing proposed parking structures. Right now we have a parking garage on Ninth which is on the bottom of the picture within two block access of the Hospital. There is another parking garage on Eleventh to the east just across Neil, again, in direct, visible contact with the proposed hospital, and a garage planned on the north side of Twelfth which will have direct access to the hospital.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

PRESENTATION--CANCER INSTITUTE HOSPITAL (contd)

Mr. Friedl Bohm: (contd)

In a little bit closer proximity, you can see in light brown how the building fits between the dental building to the north and the optometry building to the south, the blue arrows depicting a basic traffic concept with the building on the lowest floor connecting directly into University Hospital, connecting into the Materials Handling System, connecting into the total circulation of University Hospital with a patient access for radiation therapy patients coming in from the north from Twelfth Avenue, tying directly into the total circulation of the hospital which will basically have three ways of vertical circulation--one for visitors, one for in-house use, and one for materials handling.

On the ground floor, the entrance floor, on the right-hand side of this light brown area, the blue arrows depict the public entrance of an entrance loop into a lobby; public elevators going up and down the building, the green arrow on the left-hand side depicts the present inpatient pickup area of University Hospital which will become in the future the major inpatient area for dropoff and pickup for both the University Hospital and the Cancer Institute Hospital. We will also have to build a dropoff for outpatients within that loop; and then four stories develop on top of that first floor with the subsequent stories above being patient floors--four patient floors on the top of it, a series of laboratory floors. There is a separation between basically two buildings--on the one side, the Cancer Institute Hospital and that sliver really between the bare tar you see there and the dental building--being two stories of the radiation therapy building.

It might help just to look at a couple of quick slides of a stacking diagram that gives you a feeling how the new facility fits into the site. This is actually a cut through the site with everything that's below the gray line around the building being underground, with the blue and yellow lines and black line are tunnels and underground utilities. And you can see are the ground floor, the basement floor fits into the gray area being the base of the Cancer Institute Hospital tying into the base of University Hospital, the yellow area being the radiation therapy portion of the building.

You can see now the ground floor, the potential access area in front, the circulation going around it, and then the first floor of the Cancer Institute Hospital with the light yellow in the back being radiation therapy, the darker yellow in front being public entrance areas and part of the clinical space. The floor above will all be clinical space, again, directly tying into the second floor of University Hospital; the third floor would be the bone marrow floor; the fourth floor becomes the surgical floor--that ties again into the fourth floor which presently in Rhodes Hall is the surgical floor of University Hospital complex. The fifth and the sixth floor of the new facility would be mechanical floors servicing the building in both directions, and then starting at the seventh floor, the seventh and eighth and the ninth floor and the tenth floor all being patient floors of the Cancer Institute Hospital, we have by three of those four floors would tie directly into University Hospital, and then the eleventh floor and the twelfth floor of the facility will be laboratories based again on top of the building, obviously, with them being capped off with the roof.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

PRESENTATION--CANCER INSTITUTE HOSPITAL (contd)

Mr. Friedl Bohm: (contd)

If you look in a section on the left-hand side, the gray area depicts University Hospital; on the right-hand side a section through the Cancer Institute Hospital, you can see that most floors have direct connections between University Hospital and the proposed new hospital.

When we look at future expansion, if ever, the optometry building might not be there. There's an ability to expanding the facility to the south. There's an ability to expanding radiation therapy and other areas within the hospital.

And last but definitely not least, a little drawing that shows the on-ground pedestrian circulation, the tie-in of the Cancer Institute Hospital as a part of the total campus complex, an arcade going around the building that really connects from the dentistry building all the way to the front of Rhodes Hall and really accommodates the pedestrian flow, that's a pretty important way of circulating within that part of campus at this time and hopefully also in the future. And this is really kind of a summary of the last six months of work on the project.

President Jennings:

That's first of all amazing that when you made that presentation to the Hospital Board--to summarize it that well--what was about an hour and a half presentation to the University Hospitals Board was going from there. As a result of that, on the recommendation of the Hospital Board, we are asking for a variety of recommendations from the Board so that we can go on with that. That is included in your Board documents in special reports. Do you have something else?

--o--

ARCHITECT'S PRESENTATION--ARTHRITIS AND GERIATRICS CENTERS

Dr. Tzagournis:

Yes, we have just another brief presentation on the site of Geriatrics and Arthritis Centers.

President Jennings:

The first item in your Board report is the location of Arthritis and Geriatrics and we'll pick up on that and then go into the cancer things.

Dr. Tzagournis:

The presentation on the site of Arthritis and Geriatrics will be given by Mr. Carmichael, architect--Mr. Carmichael.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

ARCHITECT'S PRESENTATION--ARTHRITIS AND GERIATRICS CENTERS (contd)

Mr. Carmichael:

Ladies and gentlemen. In the process of selecting a site for the Arthritis/Geriatrics Center, there were seven different locations that were considered--Sites 2, 3, 4, and 5 were rejected for reasons of size, circulation, or prior assignment to another project as in the case of number 5. Sites 1 and 6 were studied in some depth, presented to the Review Committee and rejected for reasons of congestion, inconvenience or cost. Site number 7 in the Dodd Hall area was the one that seemed to offer the greatest promise for development and the one that we are presenting today.

Our proposal is located in the immediate, adjacent vicinity of Dodd Hall to the south; is also in close proximity to the intersection of the new off-ramp from 315 coming east and the relocated Cannon Drive. Access to this site is by a return loop that is located as far east on Eighth Avenue as possible in order to minimize the problem of backup traffic from this signal light.

The topography of this site lends itself quite well to a provision for ground-level parking as shown in this drawing with 65 cars approximately parked there. The only building element at this level is a small reception control area with vertical circulation elevators to the floors above. These drawings that you see are not in any sense final design drawings, they are rather feasibility studies based upon the gross departmental areas as defined in the program, and of course, their purpose is to determine the suitability of this site for the project.

The first floor of the Geriatrics/Arthritis Center adjacent to Dodd Hall would be occupied by administrative spaces and patient treatment areas. The patient treatment areas are--the floor itself also is level with the Dodd Hall floor and connected directly to the therapy facilities of Dodd Hall, most notably occupational therapy, physical therapy, and the therapeutic pool. And it's this proximity to these features that is perhaps the most telling advantage that this site has in comparison to the others.

The second floor would be devoted to research and laboratory facilities--like the first floor, it is connected directly to the corridor system of Dodd Hall, also to the elevators which service all floors of Dodd Hall including the basement which is tied into the tunnel system and provides access for patients, staff, and services to all of the various buildings in the medical center.

This elevation sketch may serve to clarify some of the things that I have said. As you can see, the parking area is slightly depressed from the road level--it's about the same level as the playing field across Cannon Drive. The administrative and patient treatment areas would be this long elevation with exposed glass areas. This would be the laboratory and research area.

The project has a total of 41,000 gross building square feet and with the parking area at the level would require a budget as assigned of $8 million of which about $5,575,000 would be for direct construction. We estimate six months to complete the drawings after release to proceed plus two months for bidding and contract awards, and about a year and a half for construction--a total of two years and two months to complete the project. Do you have any questions on it?

President Jennings:

Thank you a lot. The recommendation before you is the site selection of the Arthritis and Geriatrics Center as described south of Dodd Hall--upon the recommendation of the Facilities Committee, the site designated in the proposal as recommended for location of the Arthritis and Geriatrics Center is recommended by the Executive Committee of the Hospitals Board.

OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY)

Resolution No. 83-37

Synopsis: Amendments to Rules 3335-5-03 and 3335-5-48 and the adoption of Rules 3335-5-021, 3335-5-022, and 3335-5-023 of the Administrative Code are being proposed.

WHEREAS it is recognized that financial and other resources available to The Ohio State University may be limited in the future so as to necessitate reductions in University programs; and

WHEREAS the Administrative Code does not contain procedures for the reduction of University programs during periods of financial exigency, nor for the protection of tenured faculty members during such periods:

- (1) That the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University amends Rule 3335-5-03, adopts Rules 3335-5-021, 3335-5-022, 3335-5-023, and amends Rule 3335-5-48 of the Administrative Code as proposed by the University Senate in its action dated June 5, 1982;

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

3335-5-021 Financial exigency.

- (A) Definition. Financial exigency is an imminent financial crisis which seriously jeopardizes the ability of the university as a whole to survive as an institution of excellence in teaching, research, and public service. Projections of enrollment, of instructional subsidies, and of other sources of revenues must demonstrate that the shortage of funds will be both severe and persistent and cannot be alleviated by temporary or voluntary measures, as specified in paragraph (B) (2) of this rule.
- (B) Mechanism of determination.
- (1) In the event of an imminent financial crisis, as announced and defined by the president to the university senate, the president will solicit the recommendations of the fiscal committee, as provided for under rule 3335-5-582 of the Administrative Code, to ascertain whether a determination of financial exigency is warranted.
  - (2) The fiscal committee, acting in accordance with rule 3335-5-582 of the Administrative Code, shall have the responsibility to:
    - (a) Review the budgetary documentation of the crisis, having full access to that documentation.
    - (b) Assess whether the crisis would reduce the quality of the academic programs of the university as a whole to an unacceptable degree and would render the university unable to meet its obligations to the public.
    - (c) Ascertain the extent to which consolidation or elimination of some administrative offices and services or reductions in operating and equipment budgets would alleviate the crisis.
    - (d) Ascertain the extent to which voluntary retrenchment mechanisms, including early retirement or resignation or other economic incentive plans, would alleviate the crisis.
    - (e) Make a recommendation based upon the above considerations of the need for a determination of financial exigency.
    - (f) Report the results of its deliberations to the university senate.
    - (g) Monitor the financial condition of the university during a state of financial exigency.
  - (3) Upon receipt of the report of the fiscal committee, the university senate shall make its recommendations as to whether there should be a determination of financial exigency.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

- (4) Upon receipt of the recommendations of the fiscal committee and the university senate, the president will notify the university community and the university senate of the administration's analysis and proposed response to the financial situation, allowing an opportunity to respond to questions and to solicit advice and opinions.
  - (5) In the event that the recommendations of the university senate and the president differ substantially on recommending determination of financial exigency to the board of trustees, recommendations of both shall be forwarded to the board, which has final responsibility for the determination of financial exigency. No further establishment of financial exigency will be required for one year at which time the full procedures must be invoked again.
- (C) Review of administration proposals for alleviating financial exigency.
- (1) Upon determination of a state of financial exigency and upon receipt from the vice president for academic affairs and provost of proposals, prepared in consultation with the college faculties, for curtailment of academic programs to alleviate financial exigency, the council on academic affairs shall review the proposals.
  - (2) For the purpose of this review, the council is to be an advisory committee to the president and is to report the results of its review both to the president and to the university senate.
  - (3) The vice chairperson of the council shall act as chairperson of the council for the review of these proposals and for the submission of results to the president and to the university senate.
  - (4) In the conduct of its review, the council is authorized to:
    - (a) Obtain explanations of the proposals or provisions thereof;
    - (b) Request or initiate changes in the proposals and seek concurrence of appropriate administrators. In the event of non-concurrence, the council will note any points of disagreement.
  - (5) All proposals are to be reviewed both individually and as a coordinated set.
  - (6) In the review, the council shall:
    - (a) Consider alternatives to those proposals which would result in involuntary termination of tenured faculty members or regular faculty members in the probationary period;
    - (b) Determine that the proposals are consistent with established educational and academic policies of the university;

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

- (c) Determine that there has been appropriate consultation with administrators, faculty, and students in the preparation of the proposals;
  - (d) Determine the extent to which the proposals affect the affirmative action commitment of the university;
  - (e) Determine that the proposals consider the effect upon students whose faculty advisers are reassigned or terminated and students whose field of study would be eliminated;
  - (f) Determine that the reassignment, economic incentive, and retraining provisions under rule 3335-5-022 of the Administrative Code have been considered;
  - (g) Determine that the proposals take into account the quality of relevant programs.
- (7) The council shall conduct a hearing or hearings at which appropriate administrators, faculty members, and students are invited to testify.
- (8) Within sixty days of the receipt of the proposals or such time as the president may designate, the council shall submit its report to the president and the university senate.
- (D) Ending a state of financial exigency. A state of financial exigency ends one year after determination, unless ended sooner by the board of trustees.

3335-5-022 Treatment of tenured faculty members during financial exigency.

(A) Definitions and construction.

- (1) "Academic program" or "program" means:
- (a) A college, school, department, division, or instructional unit headed by an academic administrator;
  - (b) A research or service unit (which may or may not educate students) headed by an academic administrator;
  - (c) A coherent set of courses, or program of study, which leads to an academic degree; or
  - (d) A coherent set of courses, or program of study, which does not lead to an academic degree but which serves to educate or train students (e.g., a professional certification program or a remedial program).

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

- (2) "Curtailed" means reduced or eliminated, while "preserved" means not eliminated.
- (3) "Tenured faculty member" means a regular tenured member of the faculty.
- (4) "Tenure initiating unit" (TIU) means the specific academic unit responsible for making the initial recommendation on a regular faculty member's tenure status as recorded on the university tenure audit list available at the office of academic affairs. For purposes of this definition, the university tenure audit list of March 12, 1982, shall be retained, except as subsequently modified in accord with paragraph (C) of rule 3335-5-14 of the Administrative Code.

(B) Involuntary termination of tenured faculty.

- (1) Hiring of faculty during financial exigency. The university shall not appoint new faculty while terminating tenured faculty appointments because of financial exigency unless a serious distortion in academic programs would otherwise result.
- (2) Preservation of tenure initiating unit. A tenured faculty member whose TIU is preserved shall not be involuntarily terminated because of the curtailment of academic programs to which the faculty member is assigned.
- (3) Administrative restructuring of tenure initiating unit. A tenured faculty member whose TIU is restructured by an administrative reorganization (e.g., by consolidation or merger with other TIU's, or by dispersal into several TIU's) shall not be involuntarily terminated for that reason. The faculty member shall be transferred to the appropriate reorganized TIU in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (C) (4) of this rule.
- (4) Reinstitution of tenure initiating unit. If an eliminated TIU is substantively reinstated or established within a remaining TIU within three (3) years, the university shall offer to reappoint all terminated tenured faculty members at their previous ranks.
- (5) Elimination of tenure initiating unit. A tenured faculty member whose TIU is scheduled for elimination shall not be involuntarily terminated for that reason until the reassignment provision of paragraph (C) of this rule and the economic incentives of paragraph (D) of this rule have been offered to all eligible faculty members in the TIU.
- (6) Notice of termination. A termination of appointment because of the elimination of a tenure initiating unit shall become effective no sooner than one full appointment period following the expiration of the faculty member's current appointment.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

(7) Eligibility for termination compensation. A tenured faculty member who has been involuntarily terminated because of the elimination of his or her tenure initiating unit shall be entitled to accrued benefits and such compensation as authorized by the board of trustees.

(C) Reassignment of tenured faculty members.

(1) Change of tenure initiating unit. If a tenured faculty member's TIU is scheduled for elimination, then the university shall offer to transfer the faculty member to any suitable authorized position in the remaining TIU's provided that a simple majority of all tenured faculty in a TIU are willing to accept the faculty member. The evaluation of the professional qualifications of the faculty member shall be made by the faculty in the new TIU, based on considerations of the faculty member's potential contributions to the needs of the program according to the prevailing standards of the new TIU.

(2) Reassignment to new position. A tenured faculty member whose tenure initiating unit is scheduled for elimination shall not be reassigned to another position unless that reassignment includes a change of TIU and retention of tenure. This requirement shall not preclude the possibility of employing in a non-faculty position a faculty member who has lost tenure because of resignation or involuntary termination. A faculty member shall not be obligated to accept an offer of reassignment.

(3) Eligibility for economic incentives. A tenured faculty member who accepts an offer of reassignment according to the provisions of paragraphs (C) (1) and (C) (2) of this rule and who voluntarily resigns from the reassigned position within six months, shall be entitled to any of the economic provisions of paragraph (D) of this rule that were applicable at the time of reassignment.

(4) Rate of compensation. Reassignment of a tenured faculty member to a different tenure initiating unit shall not be at a reduced rate of compensation. If reassignment necessitates a change of compensation base (e.g., conversion between nine-month and eleven-month appointments), then the change shall be calculated according to standard university accounting procedures.

(5) Displacement of other employees. A tenured faculty member who is reassigned to a new tenure initiating unit shall not displace an incumbent in an existing position (e.g., a tenured faculty member in a program which is curtailed shall not be assigned to a position in another TIU held by an untenured faculty member, or to a position held by an administrative and professional employee).

(6) Retraining of faculty. Where reassignment of a tenured faculty member according to the provisions of paragraphs (B) (1), (C) (1), or (C) (2) of this rule would be facilitated by or contingent upon a period of retraining, the faculty member shall be eligible for a reassignment training leave.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

(D) Economic incentives and retraining programs.

- (1) Early retirement program. The university shall invoke the provisions of the Ohio state university early retirement program to facilitate the voluntary reduction of tenured faculty members in a curtailed academic program.
- (2) Reassignment training leave program. The university shall invoke the provisions of a reassignment training leave program to facilitate reassignment of tenured faculty members to other programs or tenure initiating units.
- (3) Other programs. The university shall invoke any other feasible methods to reduce by voluntary means the number of tenured faculty members in a curtailed academic program. Such methods could include a voluntary resignation program (e.g., a "buy-out" plan), among other possibilities.

3335-5-023 Appeal procedures for tenured faculty because of termination of appointments during financial exigency.

(A) Scope and construction.

- (1) A tenured faculty member who has received a notice of termination because of financial exigency shall have the right to a hearing before a faculty hearing panel.
- (2) The responsibility for presenting the formal appeal and for responding to the hearing panel's requirements at all stages rests with the faculty member bringing the complaint ("the complainant").
- (3) The determination of financial exigency or the decision to eliminate a tenure initiating unit shall not constitute grounds for an appeal.
- (4) An appeal may be made only on the basis of a complaint over the interpretation or implementation of paragraphs (B) through (D) of rule 3335-5-022 of the Administrative Code. In considering complaints over implementation of the aforementioned rules, the hearing panel shall consider only whether those individuals making the decisions followed the appropriate procedures and considered the important evidence material to a fair determination.

(B) The university senate faculty hearing committee.

- (1) Written notice of intention to appeal shall be given by the complainant within thirty days of the receipt of a termination notice. An additional thirty days will be allowed for the complainant to submit the formal appeal. The notice of intention to appeal and the formal appeal will be submitted to the vice president for academic affairs and provost and to the chairperson of the faculty hearing committee.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

- (2) In response to each notice of intention to appeal, the faculty hearing committee shall select a hearing panel of tenured faculty members according to the provisions of rule 3335-5-581 of the Administrative Code. The hearing panel shall begin its review of the case not earlier than thirty days and no later than sixty days from receipt of the notice of intention to appeal, except by mutual consent of the complainant and the chairperson of the faculty hearing committee.
- (3) The hearing panel shall conduct an investigatory proceeding in accordance with the following provisions:
  - (a) The proceeding shall not be adversarial in nature. The proceeding shall be an investigation leading to a report on whether or not those individuals making the decision followed the appropriate procedures and considered the important evidence material to a fair determination.
  - (b) The complainant shall have the right to be present at any hearing before the panel where testimony is taken concerning the complainant's case and to bring an adviser. No formal transcript of the hearing need be made unless requested by the complainant.
  - (c) The complainant shall state the case in writing and shall have the opportunity to present the case in person to the hearing panel and to offer any evidence in support of the claim.
  - (d) The person or persons responsible for the decision may be called upon by the hearing panel to demonstrate that the important and material evidence was considered.
- (4) At the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing panel shall either dismiss the complaint or support the complaint. In either case, the panel shall record its findings in writing, providing specific responses to each charge made by the complainant, summarizing the evidence and rationale which led the panel to its decision. These findings shall be reported to the administrative officer of the tenure initiating unit, to the dean of the college in which the complainant is a member, to the vice president for academic affairs and provost, and to the complainant.
- (5) The hearing panel shall recommend to the vice president for academic affairs and provost and to the president either that the complaint be dismissed or that corrective action be taken.
- (6) Within thirty days of the receipt of the panel's decision, the vice president for academic affairs and provost shall respond in writing to the hearing panel and to the complainant stating what action has been recommended and the reasons therefor.

October 1, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

ESTABLISHMENT OF RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (RELEASE OF TENURED FACULTY IN CASE OF FINANCIAL EXIGENCY) (contd)

- (7) Except for those documents received under the promise of confidentiality, all written documents and recorded testimony obtained by the hearing panel shall be made available to the complainant upon request.

(C) The president.

- (1) After receipt of the hearing panel's recommendations under paragraph (B) (5) of this rule, and the vice president for academic affairs and provost's recommendations under paragraph (B) (6) of this rule, the president shall review the matter and take whatever action is deemed appropriate.
- (2) All decisions of the president under this procedure shall be provided in writing to the hearing panel, the vice president for academic affairs and provost, and the complainant.

3335-5-03 Election of faculty and staff; tenure.***

The board of trustees shall annually appoint the president and all employees of the university not in the classified civil service, subject to the laws of the state of Ohio, and in the case of regular faculty, to the rights and protection of tenure. Tenure is a commitment by the university and may be earned by all individuals with regular faculty status subject to a probationary period. Regular faculty status is defined in rule 3335-5-19 of the Administrative Code. The protections of tenure and academic freedom extend to all levels of faculty responsibility within the university in accord with rule 3335-5-01 of the Administrative Code and are not restricted to activities identified with specific instructional, research or public service programs. Tenure is lost by formal resignation, by retirement, or may be terminated by reason of proved incompetence or grave misconduct in accordance with rule 3335-5-04 of the Administrative Code, for causes set forth in rule 3335-5-02 of the Administrative Code, or under the conditions of bona fide financial exigency, as specified in rule 3335-5-021 of the Administrative Code.

3335-5-48 Council on academic affairs.

- (H) Upon determination of a state of financial exigency, the council on academic affairs shall review the administration's proposals as provided under rule 3335-5-021 of the Administrative Code.
- (I) Reports by the council on academic affairs to the president, other than those made through the university senate, shall be made through the vice president for academic affairs and provost.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 83-43

Synopsis: Resolutions honoring the service of a former member of the Board of Trustees and three of this University's faculty members who have recently died are being proposed.

RESOLVED, That the Board adopt the following Resolutions in Memoriam and that the President be requested to convey a copy to the families of the deceased.

Upon motion of Mr. Galbreath, seconded by Mr. Redman, the Board of Trustees adopted the foregoing resolution by unanimous voice vote.

Frederick R. Eckley

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on August 29, 1982, of Frederick R. Eckley, former member of the Board of Trustees.

Frederick R. Eckley was born in Delaware, Ohio, on August 22, 1914. He was graduated from The Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree in 1936.

Mr. Eckley was appointed to the position of president of Ohio Bell Telephone Company in December 1962. In May, 1964, he moved to American Telephone & Telegraph Company as executive vice president, returning to Ohio Bell's presidency in April, 1966.

His telephone career began with the Commercial Department of New Jersey Bell Telephone Company in 1936, shortly after his graduation from Ohio State. Ten years later he moved to A. T. & T. in New York where he worked on several public relations assignments and as a right-of-way sales engineer.

Mr. Eckley joined the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company at Omaha in 1952 as commercial operations supervisor and rose to assistant vice president of sales and merchandising in 1955. He returned to New York in 1956 as business engineer for A. T. & T. A year later he became assistant vice president of merchandising and in 1958 he transferred to the Commercial Department as assistant vice president. In 1959, he was named director of personnel and public relations in A. T. & T.'s Long Lines Department, and in 1961, he moved to Detroit to become vice president and general manager of Michigan Bell.

Mr. Eckley was appointed to The Ohio State University Board of Trustees on May 5, 1969, for a term expiring May 13, 1973, and served as chairman of the Board for 1972-73.

Mr. Eckley was active in civic and professional affairs in the greater Cleveland area. He was a director of the Greater Cleveland Growth Association, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, Republic Steel Corporation, Central National Bank of Cleveland, and the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Mr. Eckley was an active alumnus and helped to establish the Pace Setters Club, an honorary organization for business students in the College of Administrative Science.

Frederick R. Eckley (contd)

Frederic W. Heimberger

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on August 31, 1982, of Frederic W. Heimberger, Dean of Faculties Emeritus and Professor Emeritus in the Department of Political Science.

Dr. Frederic Heimberger earned his undergraduate and graduate degrees at The Ohio State University. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree in political science in 1931.

Dr. Heimberger joined the faculty of The Ohio State University as an Instructor in 1936. Prior to that time he had served as Assistant and Associate Professor at Ball State College from his graduation in 1931 until he returned to his alma mater. In 1942 he was promoted to Assistant Professor at this University and by 1948 he had earned the rank of full Professor.

As a faculty member, he served the department and its students well. He taught a variety of courses and made an important contribution to keeping the department functioning and on an even keel during the war years. He was much involved in the intellectual and administrative life of the department.

Dr. Heimberger was selected in 1945 to begin what was to become a distinguished career in university administration. The department's loss was the University's gain. Dr. Heimberger distinguished himself as Acting Secretary, Assistant Dean and Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and beginning in 1951 until his retirement in 1964 as Vice President. It can clearly be said that Dr. Heimberger was an administrator who had a considerable and positive impact on the development of this University.

It is fitting testimony to his contribution that 18 years after his retirement, the Columbus Citizen Journal in an editorial praised his role in the defense of academic freedom. Dr. Heimberger was honored by the American Association of University Professors for his devotion to this cause. Given the difficult times and the cross pressures of high administrative office, these were perhaps his finest hours and a legacy to be remembered. As an administrator, he never forgot that he was a faculty member first.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Donald J. Hoff

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on July 25, 1982, of Donald Jerome Hoff, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Agronomy.

Dr. Hoff was born in Cherhill, Alberta, Canada, in 1922. His early years on a wheat and cattle farm in Canada provided a background that was exceedingly helpful in his professional career. Upon completion of high school in Edmonton, Canada, he served for three years in the Canadian army with participation in the African and Italian Campaigns of World War II. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Agriculture degree in 1951 and a Master of Science degree in Soils in 1953, both at the University of Alberta. He received the Doctor of Philosophy degree from The Ohio State University in 1956. Don became an Assistant Professor in the OSU Department of Agronomy in 1956 and was promoted to Associate Professor in 1961 and Professor in 1966.

From 1956 to 1959, Dr. Hoff conducted research on soil fertility and crop production at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center at Wooster. During the following four years, he served as Soil Scientist with the OSU Educational and Research Mission to India. He was located at the College of Agriculture in Udaipur where he was advisor to the Soil Chemistry Department. Upon returning to Ohio, Dr. Hoff continued his research on soil fertility with particular emphasis on manganese effects on soybean production. In addition, he taught courses in soil fertility, soil erosion and soil management. These courses brought him into contact with hundreds of students who will long remember him for his dynamic and inspired teaching. Dr. Hoff served as Director of The Ohio State University Soil Testing Laboratory in 1966.

Dr. Hoff had a broad knowledge of tobacco production and was also widely recognized for his leadership in soil fertility research on various crops. He published research papers in several scientific journals and was particularly noted for his use of the Composite Design in his research.

Don was a member of the American Society of Agronomy, Soil Science Society of America, International Soil Science Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was named a fellow of the latter society in 1964.

Those who worked closely with Don, respected his personal integrity, his devotion to his work, his pride in his teaching and research, and his warmth and kindness. He will be long remembered for his excellence in teaching and his emphasis on the fundamental concepts of learning.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM (contd)

W. Lloyd Sprouse

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on September 17, 1982, of W. Lloyd Sprouse, Director of Admissions Emeritus.

Dr. Sprouse was born on January 20, 1896, in Georgetown, Ohio. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio University in 1921. He later attended The Ohio State University and received his Master of Arts degree in 1928 and his Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1940.

Dr. Sprouse served as a high school administrator from 1921 through 1938. He served as a principal in Mannington, West Virginia; Kenton, Ohio; and Logansport, Indiana, where he also was superintendent of schools.

Dr. Sprouse's career in higher education began as a member of the faculty at the University of Buffalo and later at the University of Rochester where he became Assistant Professor of Education. He returned to Ohio in 1944 as Director of the Division of Instruction for the Department of Education of the State of Ohio.

In 1957, Dr. Sprouse was appointed University Examiner at The Ohio State University, a title that was changed to Director of Admissions in 1962. Initially, he was appointed as Assistant University Examiner in 1946. During the post World War II era, the student enrollment at The Ohio State University increased from approximately 12,000 to more than 40,000. Dr. Sprouse will be remembered for his administrative leadership in effectively managing the admission of the "tidal wave" of all students to the University during this unprecedented growth in student enrollment. He retired in 1966 and was recognized with title, Director of Admissions Emeritus.

Dr. Sprouse was involved in numerous professional and community groups. He was an active member of Phi Delta Kappa and the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers and served the Methodist Church at the local level at Circleville, Ohio, as well as the District and State levels. He was a veteran of World War I serving with the Army Engineers in France and took part in the Argonne Drive.

Dr. Sprouse exemplified the ideal of integrity in the sensitive role of an admissions officer and was a dedicated administrator of the University. His wit and charm and his compassion for friends and colleagues were his hallmarks.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Dr. Sprouse its deepest sympathy. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed in the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as sincere appreciation of the Board's realization of the loss that the family, the University, and his many friends and associates have sustained.

OFFICE OF BUSINESS AND FINANCE

Establishment of Named Funds

The Ohio State University Name and Seal Scholarship Fund

Funds in the amount of $50,000 have been made available as a result of royalty income from the University's Name and Seal Licensing Program, as authorized at the September 6, 1974 meeting of the Board of Trustees. These funds and any subsequent funds made available for this purpose are to be invested in the University's Permanent Endowment Fund, under the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University, with right to invest and reinvest as occasion dictates.

As specified in the resolution adopted by the Board in 1974, funds received through the licensing of the use of the University's identifying marks are to be used to supplement this University's scholarship funds. An appropriate budget account has been so designated to receive these funds.

OFFICE OF BUSINESS AND FINANCE (contd)

Establishment of Named Funds (contd)

The Ohio State University Name and Seal Scholarship Fund (contd)

Students who have demonstrated academic ability and the need for financial assistance shall receive first consideration for scholarships awarded from this fund. Awards are to be made from the interest income accrued in the budget account. Selection of the recipient(s) and authorization of expenditures from the fund are to be made jointly by the University Scholarship Committee and the Office of Business and Finance.

Should the need for this fund cease to exist or so diminish as to provide unused income, then the income may be used for any purpose whatsoever as determined by the Board of Trustees, with preference being given to recommendations from the appropriate administrative official of the University who is then directly responsible for the licensing of the University's identifying marks.

September 6, 1974

Use of University's Name and Seal

Action was initiated in November, 1973 by the Vice President for Business and Administration to cause to be registered with the United States Patent Office the name and seal of The Ohio State University, as a means of establishing control over the use of the University's name and seal by persons or organizations not associated with the University or with the State of Ohio.

In so doing the University may now control the use of its name and seal to (1) prevent any use that reflects unfavorably on the University, and (2) provide a supplement to this University's scholarship funds from all funds received through the licensing of the University's name and seal.

President Enarson recommended that the program for the controlled use of the University's name and seal as described be authorized and implemented.

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on September 25, 1982, of Laurence N. Snyder, Professor Emeritus in the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Laurence "Larry" Snyder was born in Canton, Ohio, August 9, 1896. He graduated from Canton Central High School in 1915 and later served in the Army Air Force during World War I. In the fall of 1922, he enrolled at The Ohio State University and graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1925. As an undergraduate, Snyder won national recognition as a track star, setting University records in both the high and low hurdles, in the high jump and in the long jump. As a senior, he won the Big Ten Scholarship Medal for combined excellence in scholastic achievement and in athletic accomplishments.

In 1925, Snyder was hired as assistant track coach at The Ohio State University, and thus began what was to become a long and distinguished career in the sport of track. In 1932, he was named head track coach at Ohio State, where he remained until his retirement in 1965, except for the 1943-45 period, when he enlisted in the Navy during World War II.

Snyder was a member of the U. S. Track and Field Hall of Fame, the Helms Foundation Track and Field Hall of Fame and The Ohio State University Athletic Hall of Fame.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. ## Commencement Speaker

---

Albert Shapero

Today's speaker is held in high regard by both students and faculty on this campus. Albert Shapero, professor of management science and the holder of the William H. Davis Chair in the American Free Enterprise System, is indeed a distinguished faculty member of this University.

His achievements and honors have brought him national and international recognition and respect and have also brought great credit to The Ohio State University. His accomplishments in the field of management science are extensive and outstanding.

A faculty member since 1978, his areas of interest include entrepreneurship, small business, economic and industrial development, and management of professional activities. He has received numerous honors and awards for his work.

His varied background includes experience as a structural steel worker, soldier, farmer on a U.S. kibbutz, research engineer, president and founder of a research organization, and an engineer and manager in the missile industry. Prior to coming to Ohio State, he was a professor of management at the University of Texas at Austin.

He received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering and his master of science degree in industrial engineering from the University of California at Berkeley. A member of several national and international associations, he is the author of numerous publications and has served as consultant to a number of government agencies and industrial concerns.

Distinguished Service Awards

Donald P. Cottrell

Under Donald P. Cottrell's wise and prudent leadership, the College of Education became one of a handful of leadership colleges in the field of teacher education. A magnetic leader and a discerning analyst of people, he welcomed initiative on the part of his staff and provided an environment in which they could grow to full stature as educational leaders. He shared his wisdom and his understanding with educators in many countries. Through his international leadership, his scholarship, and his service to professional associations, his influence has been felt far beyond the confines of the campus. He has exemplified a commitment to the field of education that has been earnest, abiding, and truly professional. He has been generous with his time and his wisdom. His efforts on behalf of education have won for him the admiration of his colleagues from Ohio State and throughout the world.

Sydney Nettleton Fisher

For 35 years, Sydney Nettleton Fisher served this University with distinction as a professor of history. He achieved a national and international reputation while exemplifying the best of the teacher-campus statesman. He was instrumental in promoting the international dimensions of Ohio State's programs and was deeply involved in what was to become one of the top Slavic studies programs in the country. Thoroughly trained in the professional languages of French and German, he then studied Arabic and Turkish to become conversant with the best of European scholarship. His qualifications as a publishing scholar are beyond question. His classic text on the Middle East was recently published in its third edition. The high regard in which he is held by his students is a further indication of his accomplishments as a distinguished scholar and teacher.

William E. MacDonald

A loyal and supportive alumnus, William E. MacDonald has invested substantial amounts of time and service on behalf of this University. Through his leadership the College of Administrative Science has developed strong and growing ties with the business community. He was instrumental in creating several organizations—among them Pace Setters and Partners—that have provided substantial support to the college. He served with distinction as chairman of the board of The Ohio State University Development Fund. His significant success as a business leader has brought him through the management ranks of the Bell System to his current position as president and chief executive officer of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company. These leadership efforts combined with his selfless and persistent dedication to the interests of the University have resulted in contributions of an outstanding and lasting character.

Everett C. Shimp

A kind and tireless exemplar, Professor Emeritus Everett C. Shimp enhanced the School of Social Work's stature as a leader in graduate education in community organization. His national reputation attracted students who today are national leaders in that field and in United Way efforts. His leadership as a professor of social work and later as director of the school was dramatic and responsive. More than any other person, he laid the groundwork for raising the academic status of social work to that of a college. A skillful communicator and patient, perceptive listener, he has enriched the community by his leadership and dedication. Many have been richly and better served because of his selfless pursuits, his dedication to Ohio State and to the profession of social work, and his ability to care about people and what happens to them.

December 9, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY
INTRAMURAL PRACTICE PLAN (contd)

NEW RULES

3335-107-01 Introduction.

The Ohio state university college of dentistry, recognizing that the intramural practice plan of dentistry by all full-time members of the faculty of the college of dentistry who are licensed to practice dentistry in the state of Ohio will serve to enhance the teaching, research and patient care missions of the college, hereby grants to each member the privilege of conducting such intramural practice subject to the terms and conditions incorporated into this practice plan. All persons beginning service as full-time faculty members at the Ohio state university on July 1, 1982, and thereafter, shall be subject to this plan as a condition of their employment at the Ohio state university and all persons who began service as a full-time faculty member prior to July 1, 1982, shall have the opportunity to join this practice plan and it shall then be a condition of their employment at the Ohio state university.

- (A) "Full-time faculty member" shall mean a member of the faculty of the Ohio state university college of dentistry who is appointed to the college on an appointment requiring one hundred percent service to the university.
- (B) "Salary" shall mean the individual faculty member's base salary specified in the annual notice of appointment issued by the Ohio state university.
- (C) "Practice income" shall mean total receipts from patient care fees generated by a full-time faculty member covered under this plan from the performance of patient care services.
- (D) "College" shall mean the Ohio state university college of dentistry.
- (E) "Dean" shall mean the dean of the Ohio state university college of dentistry.
- (F) "University" shall mean the Ohio state university.

3335-107-03 Operational procedures.

(A) Practice time.

All full-time faculty members of the college who are licensed to practice dentistry in the state of Ohio will be permitted to practice up to an average of one day per week within the Ohio state university in accordance with the policies and procedures regarding outside professional services as adopted by the university. No other practice by a full-time faculty member outside the university will be permitted. Practice time and location will be agreed upon by the dean of the college, the individual faculty member and the chairman of the section in which the faculty member serves.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY
INTRAMURAL PRACTICE PLAN (contd)

- (B) (1) The college of dentistry will supply clinical facilities, known as the "intramural practice clinic," where the individual faculty member is to conduct his intramural patient care practice. Such clinical facilities shall include designated practice space and fixed equipment, including a dental chair, and fixed handpieces associated therewith, laboratory equipment, and operating equipment. The college shall see that the personnel or mechanisms necessary to support the practitioner and to coordinate appointments and billings in accordance with paragraph (C) of rule 3335-107-03 of the Administrative Code are provided the faculty member.
- (2) The individual faculty member shall be responsible for furnishing and paying for his or her own specialized materials, instruments, and laboratory fees as determined by the dean.
- (C) Appointments, billings and collections.

The college shall be responsible to see that a professional fee office will be maintained as a part of this practice plan. This office shall be responsible to see that billing statements are issued, fees collected, and that appropriate records of all billings and payments are maintained for all full-time faculty participation in this plan. The records will be kept current and be open for inspection by the dean of the college, section chairpersons, or any faculty member participating in this practice plan. Appointment books recording the daily private practice of the members will be kept in the intramural practice clinic by individuals designated by the dean. These books are subject to review by the dean or his representatives.

3335-107-04 Allocation of fee income and costs associated with production of fees.

- (A) Distribution of costs.

The college shall maintain accurate records of the total costs (direct or indirect) incurred in university facilities to support patient care practice. ### RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 83-64

Synopsis: Resolutions honoring the service of four of this University's faculty members who have recently died are being proposed.

C. Joseph DeLor

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on November 9, 1982, of C. Joseph DeLor, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Medicine.

C. Joseph DeLor was born January 24, 1907, in Sandusky, Ohio. He attended the public schools in Sandusky and obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree from Michigan in 1928. He later transferred to The Ohio State University and obtained a Master of Science degree in Pathology in 1934 and a M.D. degree in 1934. Following graduation from medical school he interned at the old St. Francis Hospital from 1934 to 1935 and was a resident in medicine at the University Hospital from 1934 through 1937. He joined the faculty as a Clinical Assistant in 1937. He rose through the ranks and obtained the rank of Professor in the Department of Medicine in 1959. He was a member of the American Board of Internal Medicine, the American College of Physicians, and the American Gastroenterological Association. He was later appointed to the Pomerene Chair of Medicine and in 1977 became Professor Emeritus in the Department of Medicine.

Dr. DeLor received many honors during his career, among these being the Distinguished Service Award from The Ohio State University in 1980. He also received the Alumni Achievement Award from the College of Medicine. There was a named scholarship in biology contributed in his honor at Wittenberg University.

Among his many contributions to the College of Medicine, none was more important than the fact that he was able, in collaboration with former Professor of Surgery, John W. Means, to found the Division of Gastroenterology. The origin of this was commonly known as the old Gallbladder Clinic but gradually developed under Dr. DeLor's direction into the Division of Gastroenterology. He remained head of this Division until 1968. During this time a recognized training program was established in gastroenterology which has remained until this time. In collaboration with Ernest Scott, former Professor of Pathology, John W. Means, and Harry Reinhart, Professor of Pathology, and other contemporary associates, Dr. DeLor published a large number of scientific papers, largely in the field of gastroenterology and particularly some early important work in the field of gallbladder and biliary tract disease.

One of Dr. DeLor's most notable characteristics was that of an extreme sense of loyalty to his family, his friends, his patients, and particularly to The Ohio State University and its College of Medicine. No faculty member ever worked harder to promote the quality of patient care and instruction at this College of Medicine.

Among Dr. DeLor's many interests, none was more important to him than his love of nature. He was an avid fisherman and hunter and, more important, a conservationist in the true sense of the word.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Robert M. Gatrell

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on November 4, 1982, of Robert M. Gatrell, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Art.

December 9, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM (contd)

Robert M. Gatrell (contd)

Professor Gatrell earned his undergraduate and M.A. degrees at The Ohio State University.

Professor Gatrell joined the faculty of The Ohio State University as an Instructor in 1929 and continued to serve until 1976, a total of 48 years of service going through the successive ranks of Instructor to full Professor.

During World War II, Professor Gatrell served first in the Military Police and then in Army Intelligence as a photo-interpreter and was awarded the Bronze Star for special detections he made during Third U. S. Army operations in France.

When he returned to the University in 1946, the School of Art entered upon a period of expansion and an extensive revision of its curriculum. Professor Gatrell became a leader in establishing new educational standards for the school and was instrumental in inaugurating the new area of graphic arts in the instructional program of the school.

Over the years, Robert Gatrell received numerous awards and purchase prizes for his works in various media and is represented in dozens of private and public collections in Ohio. He and his wife have been a part of - and in many ways have guided - the growth and enrichment of art in Columbus for nearly half a century.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Martha Nelson Lewis

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on October 27, 1982, of Martha Nelson Lewis, former Director and Professor Emeritus of the Medical Dietetics Division, School of Allied Medical Professions.

Martha Nelson Lewis was born November 26, 1900, at Good Hope, Ohio. She was educated in the public schools of Washington Court House (Ohio) and received her B.S. degree from The Ohio State University in 1923. Her certificate of dietetic internship and M.S. degree were awarded by the University of Iowa, 1924. She pursued doctoral studies at Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, and The Ohio State University, 1929-1932. Mrs. Lewis was unable to complete her doctoral program but her scholarly activities earned her an honorary Doctor of Science degree from The Ohio State University in 1979.

Dr. Lewis joined the Home Economics faculty at The Ohio State University in 1941. She served as Director of the Dietary Department at University Hospital 1941-1956 during which time she also organized and directed a dietetic internship master's degree program. Mrs. Lewis relinquished her position as director of the hospital dietary department in 1956 in order to devote more time to teaching responsibilities.

Martha Nelson Lewis (contd)

Innovative educator that she was, Mrs. Lewis began immediately to design an undergraduate dietetics program characterized by integration of clinical with didactic learning experiences. This new Medical Dietetics program was approved in 1962 and was housed in the Department of Preventive Medicine. Ten years later the Millis Commission recognized the coordinated undergraduate curriculum in clinical dietetics as a prototype for the country. For her innovative efforts in dietetic education, Mrs. Lewis was presented the Copher Award, highest honor bestowed by the American Dietetic Association (1968).

Dr. Lewis made a significant contribution to research through balance studies of well infants (1926-1929) and metabolic studies of children with diabetes, celiac disease, epilepsy and malnutrition (1926-1931). During her tenure at The Ohio State University her research related to nutritional aspects of medicine and surgery. Her own diversified list of scholarly publications and the 150 theses written under her direction illustrate her commitment to improving the science of nutrition and application of its principles in the health care setting.

A Martha Nelson Lewis Lecture Fund was established in 1978 with gifts from friends and associates. This endowment fund supports a lecture series on the subject of nutrition.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Marion Llewellyn Pool

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on October 31, 1982, of Marion Llewellyn Pool, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Physics.

He was educated at the University of Chicago and received his B.S. degree there in 1924 and his Ph.D. degree in 1927.

In 1928, he came to The Ohio State University as an Assistant Professor. He became Associate Professor in 1932 and Professor in 1941.

A prolific research worker, Pool published literally hundreds of papers in the fields of artificial radioactivity, nuclear reactions and nuclear spectroscopy, plasma physics, and reactor physics. He also constructed at OSU one of the first cyclotrons in this country.

After his retirement in 1971, he continued active research work at the Departments of Chemistry and Physics at Western Illinois University on problems of magnetic confinement of fusion plasmas, a subject he was working on at the time of his death.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION - PRESIDENT EDWARD H. JENNINGS

President Jennings made the following statement:

Part of the essential mission of a university is to ensure that all the talent available to society is developed to its full potential. In my experience, I have found that it is not at all unusual to find the most talented and qualified students, faculty, staff, and administrators among the ranks of women, minorities, and other groups that have been excluded from full participation in society in the past. It is my goal, and it is the commitment of The Ohio State University, to promote the principles of equal opportunity and affirmative action as an integral component of every aspect of this institution.

Unfortunately, equal opportunity and affirmative action are too often viewed as merely obligations of law and regulation. There is more than the force of law behind Ohio State's commitment. This is a question of right and wrong, and our commitment is based on the ethical and moral obligation of a university in society to take a leadership role in advancing these principles.

Specifically, it is our policy at Ohio State, both traditionally and currently, that discrimination against any individual for reasons of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, age, handicap, or Vietnam-era veteran status is prohibited. We will continue to actively promote equal opportunity in admissions, educational programs, employment, and all University activities through a positive and forceful affirmative action program.

Although laws and regulations (such as Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibiting sex discrimination, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 prohibiting discrimination on the basis of handicap, Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and Executive Order 11246, as amended), exist to allow enforcement of such principles, I want to re-emphasize that every individual and especially every manager at Ohio State is obliged to act not only in accordance with federal law, but also in accordance with the positive spirit of this University's stated goals. Thus, employment decisions, including recruitment, hiring, transfers, layoffs, promotions, and evaluations of managers' and supervisors' success, must be designed to promote the principles of equal opportunity.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION (contd)

President Jennings' statement (contd):

We must openly recognize that past practices may not have provided full opportunities for all individuals to compete equally. Traditional criteria on which judgments have been made have often failed to measure adequately the potential of persons who have not been the beneficiaries of all society's privileges and opportunities.

While our commitment flows from the top and the Office of Affirmative Action is designated as an arm of the Office of the President, the daily responsibility for carrying out this obligation rests with every faculty member and administrator, every supervisor and manager, and every employee of Ohio State. Affirmative action in employment is sound management. It makes full use of all our resources. In a university, more than any other of society's institutions, diversity must be valued, appreciated, and encouraged to flourish.

Affirmative action in our educational programs is equally important, especially in regard to the role higher education plays in providing individuals with the opportunities to compete on an equal footing in the future, and in developing all of society's human resources to the fullest extent possible.

It is my belief, as was pointed out in the report of the Commission on Women and Minorities, that awareness and articulation of this commitment is one positive step that we can take as an institution toward achieving our goals. More than voicing our concern, however, we must take action to achieve our goals.

I place the full power of the presidency of this institution behind our continuing commitment to affirmative action. The Ohio State University will move forward under these principles because it is our inherent obligation to do all we can to seek the real goal of equal opportunity for all people.

HOLIDAY BOWL TRIP - PRESIDENT EDWARD H. JENNINGS

President Jennings made the following statement:

I would like to also make a comment, Mr. Chairman. As you know, Ohio State has been offered the privilege of our football team being invited to San Diego to take part in the Holiday Bowl, and I think it is very important to recognize that representation of the University is expected and, of course, appropriate whenever and wherever the football team plays a game. In that regard the Holiday Bowl trip is a business trip like any other, and operates consistent with our standard policies on business travel. Of course a primary advantage of the trip is maintaining and enhancing contacts with our alumni. We have more than 8,000 alumni in the southern California area, and I would estimate the Holiday Bowl will be the largest alumni meeting of the entire year, perhaps of the entire decade.

December 9, 1982 meeting, Board of Trustees

HOLIDAY BOWL TRIP (contd)

President Jennings' statement (contd):

The funds to pay for the official representatives come both from the Bowl receipts and from unrestricted gifts to the University. This is in many ways a fund-raising activity for Ohio State's representatives, both in developing goodwill and in generating immediate donations and long-term potential to benefit the continued academic excellence of The Ohio State University.

I might add that we are also very proud to have a football team that generates such desirable invitations and makes these opportunities possible for The Ohio State University and for the State of Ohio.

PRESENTATION - JESSE OWENS PLAZA SCULPTURE

President Jennings:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I'd like to now call on Mr. Weldon Ihrig to introduce some folks who will present to you the final touch, the final exciting touch, to the Jesse Owens Plaza that was recently completed at the north end of the Ohio Stadium. Weldon--

Mr. Ihrig:

Thank you, Mr. President. Before we proceed with the opportunity this afternoon to unveil what we think is a very special piece of art work and a special memorial to Jesse Owens to be added to this campus, I would like to express my special appreciation to many, to two key people who really helped us on this project outside the University itself. First of all, Mrs. Jesse Owens, who has been extremely helpful on this project and has been so gracious to welcome us into her home in Phoenix, and provide direct assistance, and it's been a special pleasure for me to have the opportunity to meet her and get to know her as a result of this project. Secondly, the several people, beyond the immediate University family that have assisted us, such as Chuck McMurray, who is an alumni of Ohio State and has really helped us very much in having this project work. And one final word before I turn this over to Bill Griffith, who is Assistant Vice President for Facilities Planning on campus and he and Robert Stull, who is Associate Dean of the College of the Arts, who has done fantastic work on this whole effort. But, this type of project goes beyond just the work at Ohio State, and it has reminded me, even though all the years that I've been here, of the total diversity and the quality of this institution, especially in the people that make it all happen, and it's this type of project that makes everything a real joy. And, as you can tell, I think, from my remarks, the enthusiasm may be contagious, so beware on this. I would like to introduce Bill Griffith and Robert Stull at this time to proceed.

Dr. Griffith:

Thank you, Mr. Ihrig. Mr. Chairman, members of the Board, and Mr. President, I'd like first to introduce to you and acknowledge two other members of our faculty who have been very much involved in the project and indeed without whose help it really would not have progressed as it has. These two gentlemen, along with Professor Stull formed the committee that worked on the project and actually formed the selection committee which chose the sculpture, which is to be revealed in a few moments here. I'd like to introduce them, they are Professor David Black and Professor Eugene Friley, along with Professor Stull. All three of these gentlemen are Professors in the Department of Art, all three are sculptors, themselves. We also have with us today the sculptor of the piece that we are presenting and he will be introduced a bit later. I must say on a personal note that I am deeply indebted to these three gentlemen; they have been my counselors and hand holders throughout this process.

February 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

PRESENTATION - JESSE OWENS PLAZA SCULPTURE (contd)

Dr. Griffith (contd):

The committee went through what we believe to be a very careful process in making the selection. We considered at the outset more than thirty sculptors of national and even international repute, and went through a very careful screening process and as a result of that chose three sculptors whom we invited to enter a design competition--a paid competition, they were paid a nominal amount to cover expenses and travel and that sort of thing. Each of those three gentlemen visited the campus; talked with the selection committee at length; visited the site, of course, where the sculpture is to be located; talked with other people on the campus. They also had the opportunity when they were here to go to the University Archives and review the extensive collection on Mr. Owens and were given copies of any materials that they wished from that collection. We provided each of them, of course, extensive information about Mr. Owens and his accomplishments and also provided each of them with a statement of written requirements and specifications for the sculpture project. Each of them then submitted, for consideration by the committee, a model of a sculpture proposal. The committee spent a good many hours deliberating on those over three different sessions. The result was a unanimous selection by the committee of the sculpture submitted by Mr. Curtis R. Patterson of Atlanta. And, as I said, Mr. Patterson is here and will be introduced shortly.

I have to add one other thing in my introductory remarks. The highlight of this whole process to me, and I think to the others who were involved, occurred last week when Weldon Ibrig and Professor Stull and I, along with the sculptor, Mr. Patterson, journeyed to Phoenix to present the model of the sculpture to Mrs. Owens. We were very warmly and graciously received by her and very happy that she was very, very enthusiastic about that sculpture. She said many things about it, but I think the one word that stuck in my memory, she described it as "mag-nificent," and that was a very happy occasion for all of us.

I would like now to ask Professor Stull to do the presentation of the sculpture to you, and he will then also introduce the sculptor, Mr. Patterson.

Professor Stull:

Chairman Smith, Board of Trustees, Dr. Jennings, this is a real pleasure. This has been a time of 18 months or so, this has been the most exciting project that I have worked on in my professional career. I hope that my words don't leave me at this point. This is a schematic of a plaza as it exists with the Woody Hayes Memorial Drive on this side, the stadium rotunda here, the confluence of an east/west pedestrian way at the center of the plaza, and this is the location of the sculpture. The height of this room is approximately nine feet; the height of the sculpture itself is twelve feet. The sculpture will be constructed of bronze plate, reinforced internally with steel. It will have approximately the same appearance that it has as you see it now. The interior surfaces of the sculpture will have quotations and records set by Mr. Owens in the course of his life, not only as an athlete, but as a world class humanitarian, which will be selected by Mrs. Owens. Additional quotations will be suggested by the University and by friends of Mr. Owens which will then be approved by Mrs. Owens before being placed on the surface.

February 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

PRESENTATION - JESSE OWENS PLAZA SCULPTURE (contd)

I would like to talk about the symbolism of the sculpture. This is Woody Hayes Drive here. This element which will be at the same scale as the sculpture itself, will be placed near the street at the entry of the plaza and will bear simply the inscription "Jesse Owens Memorial Plaza." This symbol represents a stylized hurdle. Now I'll move this section out so that you can take a look at it. This symbol represents the struggle that the man reached or went through to attain the heights that he attained both as an athlete and as a humanitarian in his later years.

The symbolism of the four elements of the sculpture represent primarily two single events in his life: the winning of four gold medals represented by these four points; also the fact that in one afternoon at a sister university up north he set four world records, in one afternoon. Having the bronze depicted as bronze rather than permitting it to oxidize, keeps its gold color and also then keeps it in conformity with the notion of the gold medals and the preciousness of his contribution to our society. The circular diameter of the actual piece, not the table it is sitting on, is approximately thirty-five feet, which leaves more than adequate space for people to move through during high traffic areas. The distance between each of these elements is five feet, so this is a very personal experience when people move in. We were very much concerned that the piece be something that would relate to the contexts in which it was placed, that it be an adequate memorial to Mr. Owens, and that it be an outstanding work of art in its own right. The inscriptions as they are placed by the sculptor--the placement will be determined by the sculptor, and some of the quotations that relate directly to youth will be low, at a height at which they can easily read them, and then moving higher.

I would like to now introduce the sculptor, Mr. Curtis Patterson of Atlanta, Georgia. Curtis, come on up. There are photographs here which were done which shows exactly what the sculpture will look like when it's in place and I will leave these at the head of the table. Thank you very much.

Mr. Patterson:

Thank you for inviting me to participate in this activity. At this point I am really very happy that I am a visual artist, because I am all but lost for words to express my gratitude for being able to participate and finally to receive the commission to do the memorial for Jesse Owens. There is no point, I think, in being redundant in saying how significant Mr. Owens' contributions, and then I am sure all of you are aware of that. I just want to say that this whole experience has just been a really wonderful and very fulfilling involvement for me, and I am very eager to purchase materials and begin working and hopefully sometime in the early fall deliver a piece of sculpture to Ohio State. Thank you very much.

February 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

PRESENTATION - JESSE OWENS PLAZA SCULPTURE (contd)

President Jennings:

It is exciting; it's kind of hard to go on with the rest. That, I think, will make a wonderful tribute to Mr. Owens, but also a magnificent addition to the campus. I think all involved need to be complimented greatly, particularly to the faculty, Mr. Patterson, Weldon, Bob, Bill, we thank you all very, very much. I am sure that that will be a proud and major addition to this campus that we will all be able to be very proud of for many, many years in the future. They assure us, incidentally, that the maintenance will not be too expensive on this and that it can get done.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 83-78

Synopsis: Resolutions honoring the service of six of this University's faculty members who have recently died are being proposed.

RESOLVED, That the Board adopt the following Resolutions in Memoriam and that the President be requested to convey a copy to the families of the deceased.

Upon motion of Mr. Berry, seconded by Mr. Immke, the foregoing resolution was adopted by unanimous voice vote.

Edith L. Berry

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on December 4, 1982, of Edith Berry, Professor Emeritus in the Cooperative Extension Service.

Miss Berry was born May 30, 1894, in Frederic, Iowa. She received her A.B degree from Iowa State Teacher's College, Cedar Falls, Iowa, in 1926. She was appointed Home Demonstration Agent in Fairfield County on February 1, 1930. On July 1, 1936, she was appointed as a Clothing Specialist and held this position until her retirement on June 30, 1957.

On behalf of the University community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Miss Berry its deepest sympathy. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed in the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the nephew, Bernard Smith, as sincere appreciation of the Board's realization of the loss that the family, the University and her many friends and associates have sustained.

Fred A. Carlson

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on December 3, 1982, of Fred A. Carlson, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Geography.

Fred Carlson was born in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, October 24, 1892. He received the Bachelor of Science degree from Massachusetts State College (now the University of Massachusetts) in 1918, and the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Cornell University in 1922. From 1918 to 1919, Carlson attended Harvard University. He served as an Instructor in Geography and Geology at Cornell from 1919 to 1921, and as an Assistant Professor of Geology at the University of California at Davis from 1922 to 1923. He was appointed an Assistant Professor of Geography at The Ohio State University in 1923 beginning a life-time of service to the University ending in his retirement in June 1963. He had been promoted to Professor in 1926.

Professor Carlson's early field work, research, and teaching was in soils geography and agricultural geography. He carried on soil surveys and field work in various states, and then undertook research and field study in Latin America. This latter research led, ultimately, to the publication of the Geography of Latin America (1936, three editions). Earlier, he had published jointly with C. C. Huntington, a text, Environmental Basis of Social Geography.

Fred Carlson taught in and supervised the program in undergraduate physical geography for more than 25 years; in addition, he provided instruction and research in soils, the geography of commerce, and Latin America. He was well known for his kind and gentlemanly manner, and for his precision and neatness. Until this past year, he remained an ardent attendant at O.S.U. home football games.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. From 1940 through 1942, he was a member of the Columbus Board of Education. He was elected president of the Board in 1942.

During World War II, Professor Craig served as principal attorney in the Office of Price Administration. In this capacity he supervised the legal work of the Rent Division of the Chicago and Cleveland regional offices. In 1943 he was appointed to the post of Special Assistant to the Attorney General of the United States.

Professor Craig joined the faculty of The Ohio State University in 1947. He became a full professor in the Department of Business Administration in 1953. In 1959, he co-authored Basic Business Law, which became a standard text for a generation of business students. Professor Craig retired from The Ohio State University in 1966.

On behalf of the University community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Mr. Craig its deepest sympathy. RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM (contd)

Andreas Dorpalen

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on December 18, 1982, of Andreas Dorpalen, Professor Emeritus in the Department of History.

Professor Dorpalen, historian of twentieth-century Germany, was born in 1911 in Berlin, Germany; he received a Doctor of Law degree from Bonn University in 1933, but was forced to emigrate in 1936. He came to New York City, where he worked as a freelance writer and served as an editorial assistant with the Columbia Encyclopedia. In 1943, the U. S. Army invited him to teach about Germany in its Specialized Training Program at Kenyon College. He taught European history at Saint Lawrence University, Canton, New York, from 1944 to 1958, becoming a full professor in 1948. In 1953-54 he was a Guggenheim Fellow at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, New Jersey, to which he returned for another term in 1969. From 1958 until he became emeritus in 1978, Mr. Dorpalen taught German and European history at The Ohio State University.

With his 1942 study of Karl Haushofer, whose ideas form the basis for many of Hitler's geopolitical views, and his 1957 biography of the influential nineteenth-century German historian Heinrich von Treitschke, Mr. Dorpalen concentrated on the intellectual underpinnings of German politics. In Hindenburg and the Weimar Republic (1964) and Europe in the Twentieth Century (1968) he focused directly on the exercise of political power.

Since 1968 a series of articles built his reputation as a leading western authority on East German historical scholarship. A man of formidable courage who was stricken with paralytic polio shortly after arrival in this country, his work was stamped throughout by fiercely rigorous research and professional commitment.

Mr. Dorpalen served as president of the New York State Association of European historians 1951-52, an executive committee member of the Modern European Section of the American Historical Association 1966-68, and chairman of the Conference Group for Central European history in 1972. He received The Ohio Academy of History Distinguished Service Award and was an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Professor Dorpalen was truly an outstanding scholar who brought great distinction to The Ohio State University. His special role was in encouraging younger colleagues to press ahead to become the very best teachers and scholars. He was deeply devoted to his Department and to this University. His colleagues and his many friends and admirers in the world-community of scholars mourn his passing.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

McLachlan's academic appointments included Professor of Metallurgy (also Physics and Mineralogy) at University of Utah from 1947 to 1953, Professor of Physics at University of Denver from 1962 to 1963 and Professor of Mineralogy at The Ohio State University from 1964 until his retirement in 1976. McLachlan also had a number of positions and consultantships in industry. These included Corning Glass, American Cyanamid Company, Stanford Research Institute, General Electric Company and Battelle Memorial Institute.

McLachlan was the author of seventy-five research publications, mostly dealing with X-ray radiography, crystallography and mineralogy. Two of these publications were books. Eleven patents and two copyrights are registered in his name. He is the editor of a book, History of Crystallography in America, due to appear in the near future.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. Dr. Wayt was born on February 20, 1921 and reared on a general purpose hill farm near Moundsville, West Virginia. He was very active in 4-H during his youth. Bill earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Education at West Virginia University in 1943. From 1943 to 1945 Dr. Wayt served in the U. S. Army with an Infantry Division, receiving combat experience in the European theater during World War II. He earned a Master of Science degree in 1947 and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1956, both in Agricultural Economics from The Ohio State University.

From 1965 to 1968 he served as a research officer on a CIC/AID study of university contracts abroad for the African region. For three months in 1969, he was an agricultural economics advisor at the University of Udaipur in India. After his retirement from The Ohio State University in 1978, Bill served as a consultant with the Public Administration Service on USAID sponsored projects on two occasions. First, he was assigned to the Indonesia Agricultural Development Bank in Jakarta for the remainder of 1978. Second, he served as Training Advisor with the Kenya Agricultural Finance Corporation in Nairobi from June, 1981 until his death.

During his career, Dr. Wayt was a member of the American Agricultural Economics Association, American Economics Association, International Association of Agricultural Economists, and the International Development Society.

Those who worked closely with Bill respected his warmth and kindness, his personal integrity, his pride in his work, his concern for his fellow man, and his devotion to those students he advised.

BUDGET - PRESIDENT JENNINGS

President Jennings made the following statement:

Mr. Chairman, with your permission I would like at this time to deviate from the agenda and attempt to bring you up to date on the very difficult situation we find ourselves in on the financial level. We often talk about the Rites of Spring in universities; I hope we do not get into the Rites of February--this is my second February Board meeting and I am in a position of having to cut budgets for the second straight February. Unfortunately, however, dealing with the problem--while it is difficult, I feel that we must, at this stage.

BUDGET - PRESIDENT JENNINGS (contd)

President Jennings (contd):

Given the Governor's speech I would like to suggest a context that we are dealing now with financially at Ohio State. As you know, last year at approximately this time, we were forced at Ohio State to go through a budget cutting process that in the end amounted to slightly more than $55 million. That was being cut from a budget that on national standards is indeed an enormously tight budget. I remind you that the State of Ohio is forty-seventh in the nation in per capita support for higher education and the structure of our budget reflects that very difficult situation. Furthermore, we are not only low relative to other states but higher education at Ohio State during the last several years has had a declining share of what is by any standards a very tight state budget. In 1979, for example, higher education represented approximately 15 per cent of total state budget; today it is approximately 12 per cent of the budget of the State of Ohio.

It is also in a context that we are dealing with budget cuts where student demand continues to increase. As all of you know, we--in the context of Ohio State's enrollment limit, enrollment for next fall, the fall of '83, was closed January 15 reflecting the enormous demand for our services throughout the State of Ohio. We are also in a situation where for three years now the budget has not been a firm budget. As a matter of fact, when I started at Ohio State we were in an unusual situation of not even having a budget. When I began, a budget was developed in November, revised in January of '82, revised again in June of '82, and now we are on our fourth revision in the less than eighteen months that I have been President at Ohio State.

It is also in a context where throughout the nation there is tremendous temptation in higher education to lower quality in higher education, to begin paying lower salaries, to reduce faculty, to reduce staff, to reduce expenditures in higher education. I remind you that higher education is in the unique situation of once we begin to lower quality, that quality will stay down for at least a generation. We are doing everything we can to maintain that quality but the threats to the quality of this institution and many other institutions are extremely severe because of these budget reductions--these unprecedented budget reductions. As I said last year, the budget reductions we were going through here on a percentage basis are worse than that experienced by this University during the period of the Great Depression.

Finally, in this particular situation, we have five months to deal with this budget. We have not the luxury of time; we have a situation where most of our expenditures have already been committed and anything we must do must be done immediately. We do not have the luxury of waiting to see what the final outcome of the legislative proposal is.

We are approaching this budget reduction in a way that I believe will preserve the essence of the academic enterprise. The budget reductions that I will be undertaking will not be across the board. But whatever happens it will be an enormously difficult situation particularly in the context of not only several months but several years of continued budget reductions on a budget that is already very small by any standards, any standards of this nation.

Let me just summarize the problem for you as I understand it from the state's situation. In the Governor's speech last Tuesday, he outlined that the state was in a deficit situation of approximately $528 million. He attributed roughly $300 million of that of shortfalls in revenue and $200 million of that of increases in expenditures as a result of the demands on the state from the very severe unemployment situation that we have in this state. In that budget message he proposed two solutions. He proposed a tax solution that would accommodate approximately $246 million of that $528 million and a budget reduction solution that would accommodate approximately $282 million of which in an executive order that has now been promulgated has directed the Board of Regents to reduce their 1982-83 budget by $38.7 million. That $38.7 million represents an enormously large figure but I do have to say that given the context of the state I think that we have an obligation as a state institution to do our share. He has asked the taxpayers to do their share; we have an obligation to do our share and despite several years of difficult budget situations we have an obligation to accommodate this as best we possibly can. But I emphasize again that this budget on an annual basis, given the 10 per cent reduction last year, given the 5 per cent reduction that this approximately represents, given the enrollment penalties that we have had at Ohio State on an annual rate basis, even with this relative to where we started with last June this represents in excess of 20 per cent budget reductions that will have gone through by the end of this fiscal year. I further would point out that whatever our solution is today it does rely on additional revenue for the state and if there is not additional revenue forthcoming that this solution that we are going to outline today will be small compared to the type of problem that we will face if that Governor's proposal is not passed by the General Assembly fairly rapidly and fairly quickly.

Now, how does it affect Ohio State? Unfortunately, any numbers that I deal with at this stage must be approximate. I am confident that any numbers I am dealing with are close to how it affects Ohio State and feel that at this stage we must proceed because of the tremendous shortage of time and the magnitude of this situation. But as we get down the line on this we will get more precise numbers but they are our best estimate today as to how this will affect us. As you all know our budgets are in various pieces and the recommendation coming down is not across the board to those various pieces but does appear that it will average approximately 5.2 per cent. Our best estimate of the loss is the following: In these various pieces, of course, the Columbus instructional subsidy is the largest single piece and of the loss, that represents approximately $7.95 million. On the Regional Campuses, while the numbers are small it will be very critical to the Regional Campuses. It represents a loss of $320,000. In the various restricted appropriations--and this includes the Hospital, this includes Cooperative Extension,

February 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

BUDGET - PRESIDENT JENNINGS (contd)

President Jennings (contd):

this includes OARDC, it includes the labor education program, the losses appear to amount to $2.4 million. And then finally, as you know, in December the Board of Regents--improperly, I believe--reduced Ohio State's budget by $2.3 million as an enrollment penalty for which we were not overenrolled. The total magnitude of those losses--the $8 million from Columbus instructional subsidy, the $320,000 from Regional Campuses, the $2.4 million from the restricted appropriations and the enrollment penalty amount to $12.97 million or approximately $13 million for the remainder of this fiscal year.

So in essence today we must deal with $13 million and how do we accommodate to that. Let me also go back a bit in history. The budget that was approved by the General Assembly last June and in turn approved by this Board--in the General Assembly that budget, when it was approved, there was a 2 per cent automatic budget reduction that was to take place if state revenues were short through the process. That piece of it was not signed into law but nevertheless the General Assembly and the Governor and all parts of state government were pointing to the fact that the budget passed last June may have serious difficulty associated with it. And in the budget we passed last June we did indeed set aside 2 per cent of the budget that was passed last June in order to accommodate a shortfall of this nature. That 2 per cent would represent $4.24 million of the approximately $13 million budget deficit that we are currently facing. That leaves the continuing staggering amount of $8.7 million that we have to cover beyond central reserves. Now I also want to point out that had we not had to use this 2 per cent, this $4.5 million, we could have used that for some of the major shortages associated with this institution. We can go throughout this campus and we can note that our equipment needs on this campus are staggering. Our equipment is becoming more and more obsolete. Our youngsters are being trained on equipment that is one and two and three generations old, we are losing ground in our library books, we are losing ground on our physical plant. These monies could have been used to make some progress on those activities. Lest we forget, those monies would not have disappeared; they would have been used for good academic reasons. But we can apply those monies to this budget deficit.

Now sometimes in all situations you would rather be lucky than good. As all of you are very much aware, with the exception of today we have had a very, very mild winter. We also had a mild summer. Because of that mild weather we have produced approximately one million dollars of savings in our utility plant, in our power plant, in our fuel and purchase of electricity. So that I can apply that one million dollars to this budget deficit reducing it from 8.73 down to of course 7.73. In terms of the enrollment penalty--$2.3 million--it was a negative penalty, it was an improper penalty. But during the past six weeks our financial officers have made plans to cover that through the tuition income that was generated with those students and a variety of miscellaneous income and savings accounts which are a whole series of small accounts, and is netting out to roughly $900,000. That still leaves a problem of $5.4 million. Now with that I have today issued instructions to our vice presidents to provide me with a plan to accommodate this remaining $5.4 million through new budget reductions and I emphasize new budget reductions--this is on top of a $55 million budget reduction last January, 10 per cent reduction on the June budget, and a $2.3 million enrollment penalty that should not have been placed on us. All these figures are, of course, subject to adjustments as we get the final figures from the Board of Regents.

BUDGET - PRESIDENT JENNINGS (contd)

In terms of developing this plan, I have asked our vice presidents to develop a plan within the following policy guidelines. Despite these difficulties we are not, and I emphasize not, in financial exigency. Current employment practices remain, with any proposed staff reductions accomplished through attrition. We will not recommend an increase in tuition, fees or charges for the Spring Quarter--I emphasize for the Spring Quarter. There will be no general freeze; it is my belief that the vice presidents can deal with this situation without a general freeze. Proposed budget reductions that they make will apply only for the remainder of this fiscal year. I want to remind everybody again that this is assuming the Governor's proposal on new taxes. If that proposal is modified in any way, modified downward, these budget reductions will have to be increased. And even with new taxes, it is very clear to me that this state is not out of the financial difficulty it is in. Even these new taxes will not make either The Ohio State University or the State of Ohio will not turn around the financial situation completely. It will obviously help, but it will not put us in a position where we will have sufficient resources for an outstanding institution. Finally, that earnings operations of the institution have a responsibility similar to that of the General Fund in their set-aside of that 2 per cent contingency. Now based on those guidelines and on total resources in each unit, including the General Fund and earnings operations but excluding restricted accounts I have established the following planned reductions subject to the approximate nature of the total. As I noted that the total remaining liability is $5.43 million. In developing the plans we will expect the regional campuses to reduce budgets by no less than $200,000. We will expect the restricted appropriation accounts--again, the Hospital, OARDC, Cooperative Extension, Labor Education and a variety of other units--to reduce budgets by no less than $1.73 million. We will expect the seventeen colleges of the institution to reduce budgets by no less than $1.35 million, and I will expect out of the offices of the vice presidents budget reductions of no less than $2.5 million. I will expect those plans to be in place by February 9 which is next Wednesday. For those of you who have been keeping track of that, that adds to 5.73 and not 5.43; I have kept a contingency of $300,000 for adjustments to this so that as difficulties arise we have some very modest means available with us with which to deal.

I am confident that this plan, this can be accomplished, without a disaster at this institution. It will be extremely difficult but I think with good management it can be done and I want to emphasize that we do have good management at this institution. We have an outstanding group of deans, who have been going through this now and I am confident will be able to accomplish the objective without an impairment to quality. Our vice presidents as all of you know are some of the most outstanding people in the country both in their management abilities and their sense of an academic enterprise and can indeed get through this. I am confident also in the faculty and staff and in the student body, that they will pitch in and cooperate in this very difficult time. This plan during this past week has been discussed and comments have been allowed from the Fiscal Affairs Committee of the University Senate, the Steering Committee of the University Senate, the Faculty Compensation and Benefits Committee of the University Senate, the Deans' Council and the vice presidents. They are all prepared and I am confident that this can be accomplished very shortly, but must be accomplished within a short period of time. It will be very difficult but I think the Governor's proposal is fair. He faces the most difficult economic times since the Great Depression in the State of Ohio. Our unemployment figures were at 14 per cent; they haven't been that high since the late 1930's. The Governor, in his speech, was clearly looking for permanent solutions. He is looking to fix the temporary situation but looking for permanent solutions and I am confident that with his help, cooperation of the General Assembly and the community at large that we can get through this and look forward to better times as the economy begins to improve. It will indeed be a great burden--it will be a burden to our faculty, to our students, to our staff; it will be a great burden to the people of Ohio. But I think in these difficult times that can be shouldered, and with cooperation we can accomplish this. We will do our share as I am confident the community at large will do its share. I wish we didn't have to go through this, but I am afraid we do and I think this will work and I think you can be confident that the people of this institution will pitch in and get the job done. Any questions?

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS (contd)

Mr. Jackson:

Mr. President, Dr. Firebaugh is here with an overhead view of the Farm Science Review which had some discussion this morning--if it is the pleasure of the Board to present that.

President Jennings: Dr. Firebaugh.

Dr. Firebaugh:

Mr. Chairman, Members of the Board of Trustees, and President Jennings. We are pleased with your continued interest in Farm Science Review and in our relocation at the Molly Caren Agricultural Center. Craig Fendrick, who is our manager for the Farm Science Review, has turned on the overhead, if you would direct your attention there. You will recall the site is in Madison County and the work that has been done so far is primarily in the region south of 70 and north of 40. The electrical work which you are about to vote on will be for the improvement in the exhibit area. I wonder if there are specific questions that Craig or I might address in relation to this overall plan. I should add that our current use of the facility will be for Farm Science Review. We are taking a still longer range look at the site for possible additional uses of the Center but our initial use will be for Farm Science Review and Craig and I would be happy to address any specific questions.

Mr. Havens: What is the access point off of Route 70?

Dr. Firebaugh: Craig, would you show the other transparency and give the access point?

Mr. Fendrick:

The access point actually off of 70--the access to the Review site is truly off of U. S. 40. We will access at 42 and 70 and 56 and 70, so that access points will actually come from 70 to the old National Road.

Dr. Firebaugh: Are there other questions that we might address?

President Jennings: I think that is all.

Dr. Firebaugh: We will look forward to seeing you at the Farm Science Review.

President Jennings: I bet I know at least one that will be there.

Upon motion of Mr. Hilliker, seconded by Dr. Jacob, the foregoing resolution was adopted by unanimous roll call vote.

NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, That pursuant to the actions previously authorized by the Board, the award of contracts and the establishment of project funds and contingency funds for the projects listed above are hereby approved.

President Jennings:

Mr. Jackson there was a question on the contingency on the Fontana Laboratory. Perhaps you would respond to that at this stage.

Mr. Jackson:

I will attempt to respond. The reason that the contingency is of the magnitude that it is, is because the people who are responsible for this--these plans and specifications were put together late last year--and with another winter and with the bids it was hoped that after examination if there was additional damage as a result of the additional freezing and thawing that this would give them an appropriate contingency with which to expand the contract if appropriate. If additional work is not required then obviously the additional funds would not be expended but it really was the addition of another winter that was causing the size of that particular contingency.

President Jennings: Mr. Havens?

Mr. Havens: I accept that.

Upon motion of Mr. Havens, seconded by Mr. Hilliker, the foregoing resolution was adopted by unanimous roll call vote.

President Jennings:

Mr. Chairman, I think it is very important to note that in the contracts awarded for the Cancer Institute to clear the ground. As you know, the Governor referred to the escalating medical costs in this state in his Tuesday's speech which we are all very conscious of and spoke of a moratorium on hospital construction throughout the state. I think it is very important to note that the Cancer Institute is a research facility and that it has already begun and that that moratorium would not apply to this facility.

March 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

Dr. Jacob, Vice Chairman, called the meeting of the Board of Trustees to order at 11:50 a.m. He requested the Secretary to call the roll. The meeting recessed into Executive Session for the purpose of considering legal issues and personnel-related matters.

Present: John D. Jacob, D. James Hilliker, Daniel M. Galbreath, Edmund C. Redman, John W. Berry, and Shirley D. Bowser.

--O--

Dr. Jacob, Vice Chairman, reconvened the meeting at 1:30 p.m., and called on President Jennings to present his agendas.

President Jennings:

Yes, thank you, Mr. Chairman. I would like to call on Vice President Diether Haenicke to report on the graduate-professional education ratings that were recently completed at the national level.

AN ASSESSMENT OF RESEARCH-DOCTORATE PROGRAMS IN THE UNITED STATES

Dr. Haenicke:

Mr. President, members of the Board, I would like to give you a brief report on the charts that you will find assembled in the blue folder that by now should be in front of your seats, and let me make the following observations.

Once during every decade, the American academic community engages in a widely debated ritual called 'A Rating of Graduate Programs.' These ratings are sponsored by different agencies. A report produced by Roose-Anderson and sponsored by the American Council on Education was issued some ten years ago and hotly debated at the time, but provided for many years the basis for a reputational assessment of Ph.D. programs in this country.

The latest attempt to rate Ph.D. programs was sponsored by the Conference Board of Associated Research Councils, which included the American Council on Education, the National Research Council, and the Social Science Research Council. This study 'focuses only on programs awarding research doctorates and their effectiveness in preparing students for careers in research. . . . Other purposes of graduate education are acknowledged to be important,' but they are not considered in this assessment.

Disciplines were chosen from the biological, mathematical, physical, social, and behavioral sciences; the arts and humanities; and engineering. The disciplines included were chosen primarily on the basis of the number of doctorates produced. They finally chose 32 disciplines. Ohio State offers Ph.D.s in 84 separate programs of which 38 were assessed. The reason the number of Ohio State programs included exceeds the number of disciplines is that in some of the physical and biological sciences we have more than one program related to a given discipline.

March 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

AN ASSESSMENT OF RESEARCH-DOCTORATE
PROGRAMS IN THE UNITED STATES (contd)

Dr. Haenicke (contd):

Examples:        Botany and Plant Pathology
                      Biochemistry and Physiological Chemistry

In each discipline, programs invited to participate in the study were those that accounted for at least 90 per cent of the doctorates awarded in that field FY 1976-1978. This means that all of the large major comprehensive universities like Ohio State were involved, as well as many of the smaller more specialized universities and institutes like the California Institute of Technology.

In contrast to the Roose-Anderson study (1970) that focused solely on subjective reputational ratings, this study provided 12 measures for all disciplines.

- Three measures on the size of each program in terms of faculty, current enrollment, and number of recent Ph.D. graduates.
- Four measures of characteristics of those program graduates.
- Four questions asking the faculty invited to rate each program about their perceptions of the quality and effectiveness of the program, recent change in the quality of the program, and their degree of familiarity with the program.
- An index of Library size.

In addition, for the sciences and engineering there were:

- 2 measures of research support and
- 2 measures of publication.

Each participating university was invited to recommend members of its doctoral faculty in each discipline to serve on that discipline's panel of reputational raters. No rater rated his own program.

The relative rating of our University in this latest study has attracted the attention of the local press and has led to significant debate among the faculty and various other groups on campus. Although the authors of the study warned against focusing on a single program measure, the interest in the public and the academic media--as expected--has focused on measure 8: 'The scholarly quality of program faculty.' It should be understood that among all the 'reputational' measures this one, the quality of the doctoral faculty, draws the most intensive discussion in academic circles and is probably at the same time the most difficult one to document. However, the reputations of departments are largely based on this measure.

March 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

AN ASSESSMENT OF RESEARCH-DOCTORATE PROGRAMS IN THE UNITED STATES (contd)

Dr. Haenicke (contd):

We believe that, unless they have direct knowledge, graduate students choose departments more frequently than not with regard to this particular aspect; and we similarly believe that faculty advising undergraduates about taking graduate studies at other institutions are largely guided by this reputational factor, I am, therefore, basing this presentation today exclusively on this particular aspect.

The following nine charts which you will find in the booklet on your desks have been compiled by Dean Poland of the Graduate School, and I would like to offer some brief comments on each of the charts.

1. This chart presents a summary showing the overall ratings for the Big 10 universities and the universities in the State of Ohio together with the number of programs rated in each university. The summary shows that Ohio State and six of the nine other Big 10 universities have overall ratings of 'good' across the whole spectrum of disciplines rated. The highest possible rating any program could receive was 'distinguished,' which necessitated a mean rating of 4.6 or better. The highest possible rating was 5.

What this chart further shows is that The Ohio State University had more programs rated than any other university represented in this table. It also clearly indicates that it has the strongest academic programs of all universities in this state.

2. Chart 2 shows the ratings of Ohio State's individual programs. Of the 38 programs rated, two are considered strong, 23 are rated good, and 13 are rated adequate. I think we can take particular pride in this assessment which tells us that not a single one of our Ph.D. programs has a reputation of being marginal and that the majority of them are considered 'good' or 'strong.'
3. Chart 3 shows a comparison of overall Big 10 rankings based on ratings from the Roose-Anderson report (1970) and this new study. What it shows is that the general scene, as far as reputational rankings in the various disciplines go, has remained significantly stable.

The next five charts are graphic displays of our programs by college or discipline groupings. Each display shows Ohio State's reputational rating in the context of the highest and lowest rating for that discipline within the Big 10 universities.

4. Chart 4 shows the various disciplines grouped under the arts and humanities. In eight out of nine fields we are well within the envelope of our sister institutions.

March 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

AN ASSESSMENT OF RESEARCH-DOCTORATE
PROGRAMS IN THE UNITED STATES (contd)

Dr. Haenicke (contd):

5. Chart 5 shows the basic life sciences. Here the picture is slightly different. In six out of nine fields we find ourselves outside the envelope of our sister institutions. However, we should note that even in this area, two programs are rated 'good' and the other four are rated 'adequate.'
6. Chart 6 shows a very positive picture of the mathematical and physical sciences. Each and every one is well within the envelope of the Big 10 with chemistry rated very high.
7. Chart 7 shows the social and behavioral sciences which house geography, one of the two departments in the University rated as strong. Again, all departments rated are well within the envelope of the sister institutions with the exception of anthropology; but again note that the Anthropology Department is rated adequate in the overall assessment.
8. Chart 8 shows the doctoral programs rated in the College of Engineering. Again, the picture is most pleasing since all of our programs are well within the envelope.

As I said in the beginning, the reputational ratings are very difficult to substantiate and document, and it is nearly impossible to achieve broad consensus on these ratings in the academic world. The temptation to use these 'ratings' and change them into 'rankings' will always remain strong. I would, and so would most of my colleagues, discourage a straight-out 'ranking' of universities or even particular disciplines based on this one selected reputational measure. The range of measures used in this particular survey is broad, and it takes significant statistical knowledge and sophistication to interpret the very complex data compiled in these five volumes.

What is perhaps a good question to ask at the end of these observations is: 'In what group of universities are we settled if we look at the overall picture of institutions of higher learning in the United States?' For this purpose, Chart 9 is included with a statement from John Williamson in the Miami Herald. If one were to pick the top 30 U. S. universities (and let us remember that we are now talking about close to 200 bona fide universities in this country), the name of our university would, in the opinion of most serious scholars, typically come up in such a list. The chart with the title 'Pecking Order of the Elite' gives a suggested picture of the leading research institutions in the nation, Ohio State University being one of them. As you study the list you will see that it includes the names of the famous private institutions whose history extends much further into the past than ours, whose funding is very different, and whose mission clearly differentiates them from ours. I think we can take significant pride in the fact that if you separate the private from the public institutions we are clearly among the country's most prominent public land-grant institutions.

AN ASSESSMENT OF RESEARCH-DOCTORATE
PROGRAMS IN THE UNITED STATES (contd)

President Jennings:

Mr. Chairman, I asked our people to put this together so that we could attempt to put The Ohio State University in a context where we stand not only regionally, but nationally. It is important to emphasize the caveats that Diether has put on this; this is--these are very difficult items to measure. As I am sure first of all, all of you are aware now, while this was 32 programs, it's enormously important to recognize that this is less than half of the graduate programs at Ohio State University, that even this analysis does not include the extent, the extensive nature of Ohio State. I think it is also important as Diether mentioned that of--in Chart 9, of the thirty universities mentioned in Chart 9 roughly fifteen are private institutions or roughly half are private institutions, with a substantially, substantially different mission and responsibility than exists in the public sector. It is enormously important to recognize that when you are ranking graduate schools and when you rank schools like Ohio State and another private institution, we are an institution with roughly 47,000 undergraduate students compared to some of the lesser institutions on the east coast that you see there, you couldn't put three or four of them together and get that many undergraduate students--very important to recognize that as well as the private activity. Terminology is also important. You heard Dr. Haenike mention the 'adequacy' of several programs; the term 'adequate' was used. But that is 'adequate' within a context of the major universities of America. It is not within a context of 'adequate' within the industry of higher education, it is within the major, major institutions of America. To be adequate in--with that sort of competition from Harvard and Yale--and Case Western here in our own state of Ohio, Cal Tech, Berkeley, Stanford and so on, is adequate is perhaps a poor choice of words within that context. It is also, I think, enormously important to emphasize that this has been indeed an independent rating, this is not Ed Jennings or Ohio State or this Board or Diether saying this. This is the United States and the academic community saying this. This is not self aggrandisement, this is an independent study that Diether--mentioned he would not have been allowed to rank Ohio State's German Department; had business been included I would not have been allowed to rank Ohio State's business program. This is--and in that context it does represent the peer review, and that we can be extremely proud of this situation; these are fine distinctions. There are many distinctions to be made but clearly Ohio State is in a group of major universities in the United States which indeed implies in the world, and I frankly think we can be enormously proud of what has come out of this situation, particularly considering the public nature, the heavy undergraduate activity, our sheer size, and the competition with which we were compared. I frankly think this is a--we should all recognize that is indeed a great university and this independent ranking confirms it.

If there's no more questions we now get an opportunity to have that confirmed further. The College of Medicine was not part of this as were several of the professional schools were not part of this, but I have asked Jim Garland and Manny Tzagournis to give you a brief update on what I think is--can be--one of the most exciting innovations in medical technology that we have seen in many, many years or will see in many years to come, and Ohio State is part of this because of its excellence in the College of Medicine. But I also might add Jim, I don't mean to leave you out in physics and chemistry, etc. Can you tell us, Jim, about Nuclear Magnetic Resonance--have I got it right?

AN ASSESSMENT OF RESEARCH-DOCTORATE PROGRAMS IN THE UNITED STATES (contd)

President Jennings (contd):

NMR SCANNER

Dr. Garland:

Thank you. It's a pleasure to come before you all and tell you about our new plans in this area. Basically, the reason I am here is to announce the University's intention to make a major commitment to a new area of medical research. The area is known as Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Imaging or NMR Imaging; and as President Jennings said, it is a brand new development in medical technology and in the written field of Radiology. There has been enormous interest, very recently, in the medical community and also in the public about this new technology, and I thought I'd just read you a sentence from a recent article in the New York Times, which says (this is a few weeks ago) 'Radiologists say they have developed another revolutionary technique for medical diagnosis that they expect to perform significantly better and more safely than the advanced CAT scanners that overtook the field only a decade ago.' I discovered when reading accounts of this that the word 'revolutionary advances' is almost inevitably used, and I think it is important to understand that we are not talking about just another medical doo-dad, this is really a significant step in technology. The technology is so new that it has not yet been approved for clinical use by the FDA. Our interest at Ohio State in this technology is because of its research use in the health sciences, also in the biological sciences, and as President Jennings alluded to, even in the physical sciences. I think in future years there is no question that this technique is going to have widespread clinical application, but our immediate interest is in its research use.

Now, as part of our commitment to the new area, we are purchasing a new instrument, called an NMR scanner, which is used to obtain images of the internal parts of the body. We've evaluated the bids from the handful of manufacturers that make these scanners, and it appears that the low bidder is the Technicare Corporation of Cleveland, Ohio. Technicare is a subsidiary of the medium-sized, high technology medical instrument company, it is a subsidiary of Johnson & Johnson. I want to stress that our proposed arrangement with Technicare encompasses far more than just a purchase agreement. We really envisage establishing a relationship with this company to do research for them in the whole area of nuclear magnetic resonance technology.

Now, let me show you what one of these machines looks like. Here, I think I just pushed the button. Superficially, you see it resembles a CAT scanner, for those of you that have seen a CAT scanner. It has a large gantry and then there is a housing for the patient, who then slides inside this housing. That housing does not contain x-ray tubes as a CAT scanner does, it contains a large electromagnet. The electromagnet is actually made out of a superconducting wire, it's a niobium titanium alloy and it's kept cold by being immersed in a bath of liquid helium at a temperature of about 4° above absolute zero. The output of the machine appears on a video screen and this part of it resembles what you might see in a CT scanner, although the resemblance is actually, if you'll forgive the expression, skin deep. I think the internal workings of the machine are quite different.

NMR SCANNER (contd)

Now, before showing you a little more about this technique, I would like to introduce you to a couple of individuals who have been instrumental in putting together this new area of research at Ohio State. You know Dean Tzagournis, so I won't bother to introduce him to you; but you may not know Dr. A. J. Christoforidis, who is the new Chairman of Radiology at Ohio State; and I'd also like to introduce (if I can find him) Dr. Arny Deutchman, behind you, who is a new Assistant Professor of Radiology; he has been very interested in this technique. And then finally, we've recently hired a new faculty member at Ohio State to direct our program in NMR imaging and that's Dr. Bill Hunter. In fact, I would like Bill to come up here for a minute. I think it's appropriate to use him as a test case. I would like to show you a photograph of Bill on the next slide that is taken with one of the Technicare machines. That is obviously the side view of his head (I think you can see the resemblance). I'd like to stress now that this is not the kind of photograph that you would see with an x-ray machine. In a conventional x-ray that we are accustomed to seeing, what you see is the whole side view of a person's body superimposed on each other. What you are seeing in this photograph, if you look at Bill for a second here, is about a two millimeter wide slice down his head, from back to front. It is an extraordinary resolution. Now notice that the image that you see shows very clearly the distinction between gray tissue and white tissue in the brain, it shows the ventricles of the brain. I think you can appreciate with the kind of resolution that is attainable in this technique that its applicability in cancer research for the diagnosis of tumors; in cardiology, we can also take photographs of the heart; in (as you will see in a little bit) arthritis research, physical medicine and sports injuries, in almost the whole area of medical research this type of diagnostic tool provides a significant major advance. It's possible to measure fatty deposits on the walls of an artery; it's possible to apply chemotherapy to a cancer patient, and instead of waiting months to see the results of the chemotherapy you can see the results in a matter of days. To the best of our knowledge it is a safe technique, there is no x-radiation involved in it.

Next slide shows a picture of the spine (this is Bill's spine, I believe) and you can see the spinal cord, in essence you are looking through the spine and the spinal cord. Again, this technique is very valuable in looking at soft body tissues. It is an area in which traditional x-ray techniques simply do not work.

Then in the next slide, here is a picture of knee joints. And it can show the cartilage and the tendons connected to the knee; it can show inflammations. Again, this is a kind of picture that really is not possible to obtain by other types of techniques.

Dr. Garland (contd):

Just to give you one other idea of this technique, I am going to show you a few seconds of a video tape, let's see if you can turn this off and put on the video tape. Now, this is going to be a series of head shots that were taken with--I think this is Bill's head again. What you are going to see is a top view of his head and also side view and back views, and this was all taken from one scan of the machine, so this kind of information is stored in the computer memory. OK, now you see in the upper left there, that is going to be the top view, side view is on the right, and on the bottom is a back view. OK, now we are going to show the top view and now here is the bottom of Bill's head and now we are moving up through the top, as you can see, that's right, and sliding up. And now there you see his nose is beginning to appear. OK, now you'll see ears beginning to show, and now there comes the brain and you'll see the--you saw the spinal cord down at the bottom.

Dr. Deutchman: These are one millimeter thick slices.

Dr. Garland:

That's right. One millimeter thick. OK. Now, there are the ventricles in the brain in the center there, two sides of the brain. OK, now we are moving up through the top. It is black hair. OK, now here is a side view going from one side to the other. In one ear and out the other, that's right, here we go, there's his right eye, and we'll see his nose begin to appear, left eye. You can imagine if Bill had a brain tumor we'd be able to see it instantly on this type, no invasion of the body at all. And now, here is a back view, back to front, OK. This is a fairly low resolution image. Here we come starting at the back, OK, the back of his skull moving towards the front and you can see the spinal cord developed there. OK, there it is, the spinal cord. Ear is coming out, moving towards the front, now you see the mouth cavity, there are the back of the eyes. OK, that is enough of the video tape. It is also possible--someone get the projector there. Turn the lights on if you would. There are other things that we haven't shown you on the machine. You can construct what are called real-time images; you can see a heart beating. It's possible, for example, to see the arteries in the heart dilate right before the heart muscle contracts and you can see damaged heart valves, you can see arterial damage. It is also possible to have the computer construct three-dimensional images and then rotate those images so that you can get perspective views of it. It's an extraordinary--I think you will agree it's an extraordinary technique.

Now, a few details about our--about the purchase of the machine. The list price of one of these machines that we are interested in is around somewhere between $1.5 and $1.8 million. Now, we are buying this as a package with some other medical instruments that have been approved by the University Hospitals for some time, and by buying it as a package we are able to effect a substantial discount. I don't know how much precisely, because we don't--in the package we don't break it down on an item by item basis, but it's a savings on the order of half of what the actual retail price of the machine is. In the negotiated agreement a research--mutual research contracts are part of the agreement. I want to stress again that's very important to us at Ohio State. Also mention that this instrument is being paid for out of University funds, and not patient charges, and that's important to assure its use as a research instrument. And we have also been promised very early delivery on the instrument by the corporation. Our agreement contains an option to buy a second generation machine down the road several years at a very favorable price. Now, we are still working out the details of where we are going to locate this machine. There are three possibilities currently under consideration. One in Means Hall, one in University Hospital, and the other in Wiseman Hall. We are working with the Technicare people to decide what the optimal site is. As it turns out there are fairly stringent technical requirements on the location of the site for this type of instrument.

I might also mention that there are only a handful of other institutions in the country that have machines of this sort, but to my knowledge none of them will really have as sophisticated a machine as will be acquired at Ohio State. Massachusetts General Hospital has one, University of Pennsylvania, Case Western Reserve and the Cleveland Clinic have them because of their close proximity to Technicare which is in Cleveland. And University of California-San Francisco has one. There are probably a hundred others, machines on order now by universities and hospitals around the country, even though they are not yet approved for clinical use on patients. I think you will be hearing a lot more about this technique in the months and years to come, but I thought you might be interested in getting a preview at this time. Thank you.

President Jennings:

Thank you Jim. That is--it is very exciting, I--as you saw--and please--they can all do better, but this is, I think truly describes when we in the academic world talk about the cutting edge of research and basic research. This is the type of activity that our people all over the institution are exploring. The soft tissue is, perhaps, at least in my mind, the most impressive aspect of this is where the exploratory surgery could become less frequent than is the case. Just as important is the relationship being developed on a business--industry and research activity that you bring together a university and a major high technology corporation, in this way it does represent some of the fruits of what we have been talking about for quite a long while, and I look forward to many, many more of these relationships that can develop. Very impressive Jim, Manny, I still can't pronounce it--but this is the type of thing that will push those ratings that you saw on the half hour ago even further, further up because it can become enormously important in years to come. We thank you folks for that, very impressive, very impressive.

A candidate for admission as a regular or special student in a professional program must meet the pre-professional requirements of the school, college or division of a college the candidate desires to enter. If the candidate does not meet the pre-professional requirements, the candidate may be admitted subject to such deficiencies (or conditions) as that school, college or division of a college may permit.
- (D) Transient student. To be considered for admission as a transient student, the candidate must present a brief, definite program endorsed by the president or dean of the student's university or college. Where this and all other pertinent matters are satisfactory to the director of admissions, the candidate may be admitted unless there is objection by the college, school or division of which the candidate seeks admission.

3335-9-06 Admission to advanced standing.

- (A) An applicant presenting credentials for admission to advanced standing as an undergraduate student will in general be refused admission unless the applicant's record is at least "C" as an average of all courses undertaken.

ADDITION OF NEW RULE AND AMENDMENTS TO
RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (contd)

- (B) The director of admissions may admit an applicant who does not fully meet this standard, provided the applicant's record is one that shows progressive improvement and provided the total credits allowed shall not be more than one-half the credit points counted on the applicant's complete record.
- (C) An undergraduate applicant having fewer than ninety transferable quarter credit hours at the time of first enrollment shall be subject to the provisions of rules 3335-9-04 (A) and 3335-9-25 (B) of the Administrative Code.

3335-9-10      Removal of entrance conditions.

Entrance conditions assessed against students at the time of admission or transfer to a college may be removed by the assistant vice president for registration services, when the dean of a college in which the conditioned student is registered has certified to the director of admissions that the deficiencies have been made up. The methods to be followed in making up entrance conditions shall have the joint approval of the director of admissions and the dean of the college concerned and, for undergraduate students, shall be in accordance with policies established by the council on academic affairs in consultation with the council on admission and registration. Removal of entrance conditions shall take precedence over the student's regular college schedule. If credits earned in the university are to be substituted for such deficiencies, five quarter credit hours and ten credit points shall be added to the graduation requirements of the conditioned student for each unit of entrance condition to be removed by this method.

3335-9-25      Academic probation.

- (A) Any student who has accumulated fifteen or more deficiency points shall be placed on probation. The probation shall continue provided the student's college considers the student's progress to be satisfactory and shall be removed when the deficiency points are fewer than fifteen. The student shall be notified of probationary status by the dean of the college or the director of the school in which the student is registered, except as provided in rule 3335-9-27 of the Administrative Code. Such notification shall include a clear statement of what shall be considered to be satisfactory progress.
- (B) Probation by special action. If at any time the preparation, progress, or success of a student in an academic program is determined to be unsatisfactory, the college or school in which the student is registered shall be empowered to place the student on academic probation. An undergraduate student admitted with conditions and who has not satisfied the conditions after earning thirty quarter credit hours through regular course enrollment at this university shall be placed on academic probation.

March 4, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

ADDITION OF NEW RULE AND AMENDMENTS TO
RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY (contd)

- (C) Requirements and definition. In order to remain in good standing in the university a student must maintain a point-hour ratio (see rule 3335-7-26 of the Administrative Code) of at least 2.00. Deficiency points are applied only to the records of students whose point-hour ratio is below 2.00 and are defined as the number of credit points a student would have to earn to bring the student's point-hour ratio up to that level. Deficiency points may be calculated by subtracting the total number of credit points earned from twice the total number of credit hours attempted for which calculable grades ("A," "A-," "B+," "B," "B-," "C+," "C," "C-," "D+," "D," or "E") were given.

3335-9-30 Requirements for an undergraduate baccalaureate degree.

To obtain an undergraduate baccalaureate degree from this university, an undergraduate student must:

- (C) Have satisfactorily completed the number of credit hours required for the curriculum being pursued. The minimum number of credit hours required in each curriculum shall include the credit hours required under rules 3335-7-06 and 3335-7-07 of the Administrative Code. Credit hours required to satisfy admission conditions shall not be used to satisfy the requirements of rules 3335-7-06 and 3335-7-07 of the Administrative Code. Credit hours are considered as "satisfactorily completed" only if the student has received, at this university, the mark "A," "A-," "B+," "B," "B-," "C+," "C," "C-," "D+," "D," "EM," "K," "S," or "PA" in those hours (see rule 3335-7-21 of the Administrative Code).

NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, That the new rule and amendments to the Rules of the University Faculty be adopted as recommended by the University Senate.

Upon motion of Mr. Galbreath, seconded by Mr. Redman, the Board of Trustees adopted the foregoing resolution by unanimous voice vote.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 83-90

Synopsis: Resolutions honoring the service of three of this University's faculty members who have recently died are being proposed.

RESOLVED, That the Board adopt the following Resolutions in Memoriam and that the President be requested to convey a copy to the families of the deceased.

Upon motion of Mr. Galbreath, seconded by Mr. Redman, the foregoing resolution was adopted by unanimous voice vote.

Richard Heinley Baker

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on February 4, 1983 of Richard H. Baker, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

Professor Baker, agriculturalist, born 1908, Seneca County, Ohio; received the Bachelor of Science degree in 1930, Master of Science degree in 1938 and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1948, all from The Ohio State University. Following the baccalaureate degree he spent a year studying large scale and corporate farming as organized in the mid-western, western and southern areas of the United States. This study and interest in large scale farming operations was reflected throughout his professional career. During the early depression years Dr. Baker served as a land use consultant with the Natural Resources Board and later with the Resettlement Administration and Farm Security Administration.

Joining the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology in 1937 he made influential contributions with his study of dairy farm production costs and analysis. Labor simplification, farm worker safety, farm accounting, and taxation were productive areas of his work. He was recognized as being especially helpful in the development of a computerized linear programming price mapping technique for farm planning and decision making. During the several years prior to and following retirement he made significant contribution in the development of a series of educational income tax programs. These programs are recognized as being very useful by farmers, tax practitioners and Internal Revenue Service representatives.

Until his untimely death, his income tax expertise was appreciated by those seeking an incisive understanding of the income taxation provisions.

Farm accidents and farm fatalities resulted in a national awareness of the need for a meaningful educational effort. His study of farm safety and contribution to the safety program resulted in the prevention of much human suffering, loss of life and productivity. As a result of this contribution, he was involved in The President's Conference on Occupational Safety during the Eisenhower presidency.

Professor Baker shared his scholarship with all who came to know him and was an excellent representative of the University community. His open, friendly manner and sincere personal interest in others caused all of us who knew him to value his counsel and to mourn his passing.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as our expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Lawrence A. Larrimer

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow at the death on January 28, 1983, of Dr. Lawrence A. Larrimer, Associate Professor Emeritus in the College of Dentistry.

Dr. Larrimer received his D.D.S. degree from The Ohio State University in 1933.

Dr. Larrimer was a member of the faculty of the College of Dentistry from 1946 until 1975 when he retired.

Dr. Larrimer was a member of the First Community Church, Sigma Nu Fraternity, Omicron Kappa Upsilon Honorary, the American Dental Association, Ohio Dental Association, Columbus Dental Society, Major U. S. Dental Corps WW II, past commander of Upper Arlington Post No. 443 American Legion.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM (contd)

Jennette A. Stein

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on January 16, 1983, of Jennette A. Stein, Professor Emeritus in the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

She was educated at The Ohio State University and received her B.S. degree in 1926 and her M.A. degree in 1933.

In 1930 she was appointed an Instructor in the Women's Division of the Department of Physical Education. She became Associate Professor in 1946 and Professor in 1960.

Professor Stein's interests and efforts were primarily in undergraduate education. For many years she had the administrative responsibility for the required program in physical education for women. She taught in this program and in the undergraduate professional preparation program until her retirement in 1964.

Professor Stein was active in state, regional and national organizations serving her profession.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

The Ida Topper College of Law Faculty Research Fellowship Fund was established March 4, 1983, by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University with a gift to The Ohio State University Development Fund from Mrs. Isadore Topper of Columbus, Ohio.

All gifts are to be invested in the University's Permanent Endowment Fund, under the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University, with the right to invest and reinvest as occasion dictates.

Should the initial recipient or any successor recipient of this fellowship resign or retire from the College of Law faculty, a successor recipient shall be chosen by a committee made up of those members of the College of Law faculty then occupying Endowed Professorships or Chairs, with consultation and advice from the Dean of the College of Law. If the vote of the committee be tied, the Dean shall cast the deciding vote.

The fellowship shall honor past outstanding service by the recipient as teacher and scholar and in recognition of outstanding community service.

The annual income and/or principal in this fellowship fund shall be used for activities and purposes that will further the recipient's academic research and writing including but not limited to:

- (1) Release time from teaching duties to pursue research
- (2) Research assistants
- (3) Secretarial assistance
- (4) Mechanical support equipment and facilities, such as computer equipment
- (5) Travel expenses

The recipient shall propose to the Dean from time to time, as needed, expenditures from the income and/or principal in the fellowship fund to support his or her research and teaching. The Dean shall approve such expenditures unless they would be clearly inconsistent with the purpose of this fund or unless the expenditure would exceed the principal remaining in the fund. Unused income may each year be added to principal. - (3) To prepare, after consultation in accordance with the pattern of departmental administration, a statement setting forth the criteria and procedures according to which recommendation concerning salary increases, promotions in rank, and granting of tenure are made within the department or school. This statement shall be made available to all present and prospective members of the department or school, and a copy shall be deposited in the office of the vice president for academic affairs and provost. A student may not change to or from the pass/non-pass option after five p.m. of the third Friday of a quarter or the second Friday of a term.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 83-111

Synopsis: Resolutions honoring the service of five of this University's faculty members who have recently died are being proposed.

RESOLVED, That the Board adopt the following Resolutions in Memoriam and that the President be requested to convey a copy to the families of the deceased.

Upon motion of Dr. Jacob, seconded by Mr. Hilliker, the foregoing resolution was adopted by unanimous voice vote.

Dr. Jacob paid tribute to Dr. Oscar P. Snyder as follows:

I'd just like to say that Dr. Oscar Snyder was a graduate of The Ohio State College of Dentistry and served in the highest position in the U. S. Army that a dentist can serve, and that is as the Surgeon General of the Dental Corps. And then he returned to Ohio State and served on the faculty for, I'd say, about eight years and during that time I had the pleasure of being a student of his and certainly appreciate what he taught me. He lived a very long and useful life, and I was happy to be able to spend about an hour and a half with his family at the time of the funeral; and I'm certainly glad that we are able to recognize him. And I just think that he has been of great service not only to the University, but to the country.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM (contd)

Carl A. Nissen

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on February 8, 1983, of Carl A. Nissen, Associate Professor Emeritus in the Department of Sociology.

He received his B.S. degree in 1922 from Linfield College, his M.A. degree from the University of Chicago in 1929, and his Ph.D. from The Ohio State University in 1947.

In addition to his work at O.S.U., Professor Nissen taught at Berea College, Baldwin-Wallace, Denison University, and the Askov-Folk-School, Denmark. He was professionally interested in the ministry and he served a number of churches in the central Ohio area.

Within the field of sociology, Dr. Nissen's primary interests were in the areas of marriage and the family. He had the ability to communicate extremely well with students and many sought his guidance. He was associated with the department's counseling program and also served as a marriage counselor at the Broad Street Methodist Church in Columbus. He retired from O.S.U. in 1965 and moved to Sun City Center, Florida, where he continued to be active in community organizations.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Eldis O. Reed

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow at the death on December 14, 1982, of Professor Eldis O. Reed, Department of Engineering Graphics.

Professor Reed was born in Canton, Ohio, on November 12, 1922. He earned a bachelor's degree in Metallurgical Engineering from Ohio State University in 1943 and a master's degree in Education in 1950.

Professor Reed began his career as an undergraduate laboratory assistant with the Department of Engineering Graphics. He joined the faculty as an instructor and was advanced to Assistant Professor in 1951. He obtained the rank of Professor in 1970.

Professor Reed was a registered professional engineer who was employed during the summer by the City of Columbus in 1953, the Ohio State Aerodynamic Laboratory in 1954, the B. C. Wilson Co. in 1955 and Purtz and Reed, Inc. from 1956 to 1961. Since 1961 he served as consulting engineer to several organizations.

Professor Reed served with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers during World War II, rising from the rank of private to second lieutenant.

April 1, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM (contd)

Eldis O. Reed (contd)

Professor Reed was a dedicated teacher who enjoyed his work with his students. He was the founder of the Society of Women Engineers chapter at Ohio State and spent many hours promoting the cause of engineering as a career for both men and women. He believed that engineering education encompassed other countries and cultures and promoted international study tours to broaden the engineering students' horizons. An outgrowth of these two activities was the Professional Development Laboratories that brought practicing engineers and industrial managers together with undergraduate students for a weekend of information exchange and discussion.

Professor Reed was a member of the American Society of Engineering Education; Sigma Gamma Epsilon, metallurgical and mining engineering honorary; the International Committee of the YMCA, and the First Community Church. He was an honorary member of Delphi and Texnikoi.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was requested that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Dr. Oscar P. Snyder

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow at the death on February 21, 1983, of Dr. Oscar P. Snyder, Assistant Professor Emeritus in the College of Dentistry.

He served with the 28th Division in France during World War I and in the European and Pacific Theaters during World War II. Dr. Snyder rose through the ranks and was promoted to Major General in 1954 when he was appointed chief of the Dental Corps by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He retired in 1956 after serving 40 years in the service. He served as a faculty member at the College of Dentistry from 1957 until 1965 when he retired.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Charles A. Thompson (contd)

Charles Thompson was born in Gas City, Indiana, July 8, 1942. He received the Bachelor of Science degree from Ball State University in 1965, the Juris Doctor degree from Indiana University at Indianapolis in 1969 and the Master of Law degree from New York University in 1970. Thompson was the reporter for the Indiana Criminal Law Study Commission from 1970 to 1973 and was an Associate Attorney with Henderson, Daily and Foxworthy of Indianapolis in 1973 and 1974. He joined the faculty of The Ohio State University College of Law as an Assistant Professor in 1974 and was promoted to Associate Professor in 1977. He was promoted to Professor in 1979 and served in that capacity until his death from a heart attack in February of this year. He was the Director of the Legal Clinic at the College of Law from 1978 to 1982.

Professor Thompson left behind a remarkable legacy of scholarship especially in view of his premature death. He was the leading authority on Indiana criminal law having written the commentary for the six volume Indiana Code of Criminal Law and Procedure as well as the two volume traffic code. Thompson was also an expert on civil procedure having written (with Fink) revisions for two volumes of Moore's Federal Practice and co-authored with W. J. Hostetler a five-volume work on Indiana Forms of Pleading and Practice. In addition he was a co-author with John Slain and Freda Bein of Agency, Partnership and Employment (1980). Thompson also authored numerous articles in legal periodicals.

Professor Thompson was respected as an outstanding teacher of both clinical and traditional law courses. His casual and approachable manner and his sincere interest in his fellow human beings won him deep affection from his students and his colleagues. His zest for life was illustrated by among other things his interest in his motorcycles and in jazz and he will also be remembered as the founder, captain and inspiration for the faculty-student softball team known as the Stranger City Strangers.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deep sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Professor Wheeler worked extensively in the areas of conditioning and therapeutic exercise, neurological and physical handicap and various dimensions of retardation. She was the author of several articles for professional journals and her publication, Physical Education for the Handicapped, has been a widely used text. She contributed her expertise not only to the University but to many community agencies through numerous clinics and workshops.

On behalf of the University, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding in its loss. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as an expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy.

Upon motion of Mr. Immke, seconded by Mr. Berry, the Board of Trustees adopted the foregoing resolution by unanimous roll call vote.

Mr. Havens commented concerning the handling of this financing as follows:

Mr. Chairman, this matter came before our committee this morning and we did mention in the committee and we would like to mention again today that under the direction of Ed Jennings, with Dick Jackson and other people participating, I think they did an outstanding job in presenting this to the Trustees. They showed great initiative and great judgment because I think this will save us $100 million over the next twenty years. I think the staff administration should be greatly complimented, its good judgment, good initiative, and also a lot of hours and a lot of work to also the individual members of the Trustees. They visited each and every Trustee, went through the report, took hours to consume it and went through untotaled time. I just think that Ed Jennings and his staff should be thoroughly complimented on the way this was approached.

President Jennings:

Thank you, Mr. Havens. That should be noted that Ed Jennings had very little to do with it. It was Dick Jackson and Tom Smith's group that were the ones that went through that and I know they will appreciate your 'thank you' and your thanks and appreciation.

Upon motion of Mr. Immke, seconded by Dr. Jacob, the foregoing resolution was adopted by unanimous voice vote.

President Jennings made the following statement:

All right. This would be--I think there's two important things here. One is that Diether is exactly right: with a couple of very minor exceptions, we are the only law school remaining on a quarter system. There are other law schools in a quarter system institution that are now on the semester system; I think the best example is the University of Minnesota, if I'm not right, Jim. But, it also I think is a reflection of the great diversity in this institution and the institutional attempt to try and be as flexible as possible. I frankly think this has no implication for changing to semester for the entire campus, I think that's a whole separate issue. I think this is attempting to accommodate a rather unique situation around the country in law schools where it is not only bar exam, but it is different in sync. It is the bar attempting to judge the academic credits of our students versus everybody else. And I think this is something we can accommodate. There are a few, roughly ten, law school students who also take non-law courses that everybody has been alerted to--whether it is in the dormitory system or every place else that we will have to accommodate--make special accommodations for these few students who are in law school and taking other courses throughout the institution. Jim assures me, however, that the law school will not make any change in their policy of being certain to have an even number of students. In law schools you have to have an even number of students because they can't make a living unless there are at least two of them.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 83-129

Synopsis: Resolutions honoring the service of four of this University's faculty members and one staff member who have recently died are being proposed.

RESOLVED, That the Board adopt the following Resolutions in Memoriam and that the President be requested to convey a copy to the families of the deceased.

Upon motion of Mr. Immke, seconded by Mr. Berry, the foregoing resolution was adopted by unanimous voice vote.

Edward L. Fox

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on April 1, 1983, of Edward L. Fox, Professor of Physical Education in the College of Education.

Professor Fox was born on May 30, 1938. He received his Bachelor's, Master's and Ph.D. degrees from The Ohio State University, the latter in 1965. While an undergraduate, he received the President's Scholarship Medal in 1959, and was a Central Ohio Heart Association Research Fellow while doing his doctoral work. He was a United States Public Health Service Post-doctoral Fellow at Indiana University in 1967-68.

May 5, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

He joined the faculty of The Ohio State University in 1968 and became a Professor of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in 1973. He also held appointments as a Professor of Medicine, Associate Professor of Preventive Medicine and Associate Professor of Physiology. He believed deeply in the mission of the University, and was one of its greatest advocates.

Professor Fox was one of the most respected people in the exercise sciences. He was a Fellow of the American College of Sports Medicine, and recently served as Vice President of that organization. Articles reporting his research appeared in the most prestigious journals, and his textbooks are considered to be among the very finest in his field. Colleagues from the world over sought his opinion, and his reputation was such that he attracted students of the highest caliber.

On behalf of the University community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Dr. Fox its deepest sympathy. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed in the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as sincere appreciation of the Board's realization of the loss that the family, the University and his many friends and associates have sustained.

Edward M. Kennaugh

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow upon the death on March 11, 1983 of Edward M. Kennaugh, Professor Emeritus of Electrical Engineering.

Professor Kennaugh attended City College of New York prior to entering the U. S. Army in 1943. During the period of military service, he attended The Ohio State University, in 1943 and 1944, as part of the Army Specialized Training Program. He returned to OSU after his discharge in 1946 and obtained a Bachelor's degree in electrical engineering in 1947, a M.S. degree in physics in 1952, and the Doctor of Philosophy in electrical engineering in 1959.

Professor Kennaugh was a widely acclaimed authority on electromagnetic theory. His basic work on frequency- and time-domain scattering not only gained widespread recognition for himself and for The Ohio State University, but also provided the basis for work of many researchers to follow.

His fundamental study of the polarization properties of radar scattering objects, accomplished in the early 1950's, remains today the definitive work in the area. His introduction, in 1958, of the "Impulse Response" concept of three dimensional electromagnetic scatterers became the foundation of a large body of literature on active radars. In 1981, he introduced the "K-pulse" concept as a new theoretical tool for the development of future generations of sophisticated radar systems. In this sense, Professor Kennaugh typified the high ideal of scholarship which is at the very cornerstone of a university's existence.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM (contd)

Edward M. Kennaugh (contd)

Professor Kennaugh was associated with the OSU Antenna Laboratory (now the Electro-Science Laboratory) from 1949 to 1976, and also served on the faculty from 1961 to 1976, when he retired from University service. He served as the Director of the ElectroScience Laboratory from 1970 to 1973. He continued to remain active in electromagnetics research following his retirement.

Although his entire career was spent at OSU, Professor Kennaugh served as a consultant to industry and government; he was a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and of Commission B of the International Scientific Radio Union. He was also a member of the Sigma Xi Scientific Society.

On behalf of the University community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Edward Kennaugh its deepest sympathy. It was directed that this resolution be inscribed in the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to the family as sincere appreciation of the Board's realization of the loss that the family, the University, and his many friends and associates have sustained.

WHEREAS President Jennings asked Dr. Robert A. Burnham to assist in the organization and development of that new function on a temporary basis, serving in the capacity of Acting Vice President for Communications and Development until a search could be conducted and a regular appointment made to that position; and

WHEREAS Bob Burnham agreed to serve in that acting position, one which demanded an enormous amount of time, energy, understanding and leadership ability, all of which qualities Dr. Burnham brought to the position; and

EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION TO ROBERT A. BURNHAM (contd)

WHEREAS after a lengthy and thorough search process, Thomas L. Tobin has been appointed as Vice President for Communications and Development and Dr. Burnham has resumed his duties as Dean of the College of Education:

NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, That the gratitude and deep appreciation of this Board be expressed to Dr. Burnham for his willingness to provide leadership during the period of transition in connection with the establishment of the Office of Communications and Development, and for his tireless efforts on behalf of the University in the capacity of Acting Vice President during the last year.

Upon motion of Mr. Hilliker, seconded by Dr. Jacob, the Board of Trustees adopted the foregoing resolution by unanimous voice vote.

At the request of President Jennings, Mr. Berry convened the Student Affairs Committee.

Deb Cassidy distributed copies of the Graduate Voice which is the quarterly newsletter to report on the activities of graduate students.

Colleen O'Brien reviewed the past year and some of the accomplishments of the Undergraduate Student Government. Last June when assuming the presidency of the USG she had expressed her thoughts and feelings concerning what she had hoped to achieve. One of her concerns had been the lack of continuity of the workers in the student government from one year to the next. She reported that USG has a student base that is supportive of the new administration and thus will have continued organizational continuity for the coming year. Colleen introduced Todd Shaver and Lisa McGlone, the new president-elect and vice president-elect, respectively.

Todd Shaver enumerated some of the upcoming projects which USG has planned. One of the highlights of the Autumn Quarter will be a motorcoach trip to Norman, Oklahoma, for the Oklahoma-Ohio State football game on September 17, 1983.

Mark Berry of Ohio Staters, Inc., outlined plans for their project entitled "Sing Ohio's Praise Week." This week is designed to increase student awareness of the academic excellence that is available to them at The Ohio State University. During the week of May 15 through 21 there will be quarter-page ads in the Lantern which will focus on academic accomplishments at the University; National Merit Scholars and the number of class valedictorians; top ranked colleges and departments; and individual achievements.

Ohio Staters, Inc., will hand out 5,000 book marks that will contain some kind of information about Ohio State.

Mr. John Berry proposed the following proclamation in support of "Sing Ohio's Praise Week":

May 5, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

PROCLAMATION - "SING OHIO'S PRAISE WEEK"

Resolution No. 83-136

WHEREAS The Ohio State University is recognized nationally and internationally for the strength of its academic programs and attracts some of the nation's top scholars; and

WHEREAS students at The Ohio State University are not always familiar with the breadth of this strength, especially in areas outside their academic majors; and

WHEREAS "Sing Ohio's Praise" is a campaign designed and sponsored by Ohio Staters, Inc., a student-faculty service organization, to promote and encourage greater awareness of academic excellence at The Ohio State University:

NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University hereby proclaims the week of May 15 through 21, 1983, as "Sing Ohio's Praise Week" at The Ohio State University.

Upon motion of Mr. Berry, seconded by Mrs. Bowser, the Board of Trustees adopted the foregoing resolution by unanimous voice vote.

Mr. John Berry presented the following resolution:

RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION FOR THE PARTICIPATION OF THE 1982-83 STUDENT GOVERNMENT LEADERSHIP

Resolution No. 83-137

WHEREAS the terms of office of the 1982-83 elected student officers are nearing completion; and

WHEREAS during the 1982-83 year this Board has received from leaders of the student governments numerous reports on projects, activities, interests and concerns; and

WHEREAS the Board recognizes that the student leaders this year have taken time from busy schedules and conflicting demands in order to bring to the attention of this Board matters and concerns of special interest to students; and

WHEREAS the participation of elected officers and other representatives of student groups in the deliberations of this Board has enhanced communication and understanding between the Board and the students as well as other constituencies:

May 5, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION FOR THE PARTICIPATION OF THE 1982-83 STUDENT GOVERNMENT LEADERSHIP (contd)

NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Trustees of The Ohio State University express to the presidents of the Undergraduate Student Government, the Council of Graduate Students and the Graduate-Professional Council their gratitude and appreciation for the contributions of those individuals and their colleagues during this year, and wish them every success and happiness in the pursuit of their interests and objectives in the years ahead.

Upon motion of Mr. Berry, seconded by Mr. Hilliker, the Board of Trustees adopted the foregoing resolution by unanimous voice vote.

President Jennings called on Dr. Haenicke to make an announcement.

APPOINTMENT OF DR. FRANCILLE FIREBAUGH AS ASSOCIATE PROVOST

Dr. Haenicke made the following statement:

I'm very pleased to inform the members of the Board that at the June meeting we will bring a request for approval that Dr. Francille Firebaugh be appointed Associate Provost, effective June 1. As you all know, Professor Firebaugh earned her Ph.D. at Cornell University, holds the rank of full professor in the School of Home Economics, served in a very distinguished fashion for many years as Director of that school, and most recently served the University as Acting Vice President for Agricultural Administration and Executive Dean of the College of Agriculture, including the School of Natural Resources and Home Economics. Francille and I have worked extremely well together during the last several months during the transition period. I have received, through her, an enormously interesting introduction into the problems that concern the agricultural sector of our school. I have admired during the last month that we have worked together, her commonsensical approach to administrative problems, her sensitivity to academic affairs, to faculty and student concerns, her good judgment in all these matters, and her high administrative talent. I am looking very much forward to her joining my office and I am sure that I'll be greatly assisted by that move and that the University is going to be extremely well served by this appointment, if the Board will approve it.

President Jennings stated further:

Thank you, Diether. I'd just like to--I think that is one of the fine appointments--we often talk about the appointments we make, but I think it is very clear with the work done this past year in the College of Agriculture that Francille has shown all of us, and I think the community at large, that she is truly one of the nation's fine educational leaders in this country and we are delighted she is going to continue on in the leadership post and will be very beneficial to Ohio State and may make a farmer out of Diether and I yet.

Mr. Galbreath: She is good, but I don't know about that.

Dr. Haenicke:

She would be the third person in Agriculture in the Provost's office at that time. So we are surrounded by "aggies" up there.

Mrs. Bowser: I'm very happy about that.

President Jennings: We won't be able to defend ourselves.

President Jennings called on Vice President Mount to make a presentation on the Regional Campuses.

REPORT - REGIONAL CAMPUSES

Vice President Mount reported that those involved with Regional Campuses are especially mindful of twenty-five years of service where the educational services of The Ohio State University have been attended through the offering of courses in the Lima, Mansfield, Marion, and Newark communities, a region that conservatively covers twenty-three counties. Since that time some 75,000 persons have earned credit through those facilities. The North Central Association Accreditation Team visited the Regional Campuses during the past year. They have formally notified the University that the Regional Campuses of Lima, Mansfield, Marion, and Newark have been accredited to be continued with the offering of lower division courses including the degree of associate of arts and a baccalaureate program in early and middle childhood education.

Dr. David Kramer, Dean/Director of the Mansfield Regional Campus, brought with him a brick which was made by John B. Conard, the grandson of John A. Conard, Sr., who made the bricks for the original University Hall. "This brick reminds us of our tie to the very origins of The Ohio State University and symbolizes those founders and loyal supporters on whose shoulders we stand," said Dr. Kramer. The primary mission of the Regional Campuses is to offer degree programs, but each of the Regional Campuses serve their communities in ways that go far beyond the traditional role. Dr. Kramer described a few of the community projects that the Mansfield Campus faculty work on each year. The entire campus has been made available to the community for a wide variety of meetings, banquets, fundraising events and other activities which bring more than 10,000 people to the campus each year.

REPORT - REGIONAL CAMPUSES (contd)

Dr. Charles Bird, Associate Professor in the Department of Psychology, reported that the Mansfield Regional Campus has a faculty that is truly excellent in every sense of the word. Despite limited facilities, higher than normal teaching loads for OSU, and the lack of graduate students or advanced undergraduates, a high level of scholarly productivity is achieved. There will be two full professors and twelve associate professors on the Mansfield Campus next year. Dr. Bird expressed the view that there must be few places in the country where freshmen and sophomores receive instruction and guidance from such well established scholars in an atmosphere that encourages personal contact.

Vickie Lynn Echelberry, a senior in Early and Middle Childhood Education, was recognized at the President's Recognition Dinner as one of the top 400 seniors of The Ohio State University. She expressed her appreciation at having a Regional Campus with such fine facilities and an excellent faculty to guide the students in their studies. Mrs. Echelberry said there were many caring professors who don't try to tell their students what to think, but instead try to help them learn how to think.

James Miller, a junior student, represented the students who plan to go two years on the Regional Campus and transfer to the Columbus Campus. He transferred to the Columbus Campus as of Autumn Quarter, 1982. He feels that he has had the "best of both worlds" having had the experience of being on a small campus for two years then coming to the Columbus Campus. At Mansfield he indicated he found faculty, administration, and staff interested not only in a student's education, but also in helping students make the adjustment from high school to college.

Mrs. Jean Smith, speaking on behalf of the Citizens Council, thanked the Board of Trustees and the University administration for the recognition and support they had given to all the regional campuses--and especially the Mansfield Campus. She enumerated some of the activities that the Citizens Council had been involved in, in attempting to meet the needs of the constituent groups of the Mansfield Regional Campus. The National Commission's Education report has precipitated some stirring dialogue and grave concern among citizens and educators in the local community. Mrs. Smith pointed out that Ohio State must do what it can to encourage improvement in the local schools.

President Jennings then commented:

John, thank you and thank you all. I think there is a couple of things that bear emphasis which are somewhat subtle in the educational world. We were very pleased with the North Central report for full accreditation to the Regional Campuses. More subtly, what John pointed out, that the next North Central evaluation should incorporate the Regional Campuses, as well as the Columbus Campus, it's a very, very unusual statement to the quality of the Regional Campuses. The typical and indeed most usual accreditation process from North Central--four regional campuses is a separate accreditation for the Regional Campuses. The North Central statement that the Regional Campuses should be part of the entire accreditation process is coming from their belief that the educational process, the educational quality at the Regional Campuses is no different, is not significantly different than the Columbus Campus. And it really represents a maturing of the Regional

REPORT - REGIONAL CAMPUSES (contd)

President Jennings (contd):

Campuses where an outside agency has said that our concept of one campus is really the case. I don't know of another regional campus system in the country that has now fully been incorporated by North Central which is the overall accrediting body for most of the United States where those regional campuses have had that large a compliment (and believe me it is a large compliment) to be incorporated with the main campus associated with it. And I think that bears emphasis too, that it's just not Dr. Kramer who is saying that the Mansfield, Lima, Newark, and the Marion Campuses are outstanding, it is a national organization that is saying that they are outstanding, as well.

I think secondly, it does bear repeating, and I am very pleased that the House Finance Committee looks as though they will recommend an increase in the Governor's recommendation of $65 million. I should point out that that recommendation, while we appreciate their help, continues to fall far short of the needs of higher education in this state. We will be able to make progress on that, but our tuition as a percentage of the cost of education will continue to remain above 40 per cent--with the national norm is one-third--our tuition will remain high with that kind of recommendation. We are hopeful that the Senate in its wisdom will also be responsive to these needs and suggest a further increase beyond the House's recommendation.

Finally, I think--and Jean you reported to the National Report--I think it is also worth noting that despite budget problems--and Time magazine pointed out that Ohio (while Time magazine said the State of Ohio, I think what they meant was Ohio State) had already adopted many of the recommendations that were in that report and essentially Ohio State and the State of Ohio are at least two years ahead of the rest of the nation in addressing some of the problems--in not only higher education, but primary and secondary education. But, we thank you folks very much and I can assure you that nobody on this Board thinks you are an "old" student. And we appreciate your time and look forward to having lunch with you. Thank you for your report and thank you, John.

APPRECIATION TO WARREN J SMITH

President Jennings made the following statement:

We have one more item before we adjourn, Mr. Chairman. The May meeting is in some ways always a sad event and we at The Ohio State University would like to express our great appreciation in our small way of what Mr. Warren Smith has done for The Ohio State University in these past nine years. I certainly appreciated all your help during the last two years, Warren, and it's a small token of our appreciation and we appreciate that very much at your last meeting.

The University is proud to recognize Dr. Bloom for his many contributions to education and for fostering the development of America's most precious resource—our children.

George Bush

Doctor of Humane Letters

Vice President Bush's service to his country dates back to World War II. Upon graduating from Phillips Academy in 1942, he immediately enlisted in the U.S. Navy at 18, becoming the youngest commissioned pilot in the Navy at that time. After the war, he entered Yale University, where he majored in economics, and in 1948, he was graduated Phi Beta Kappa.

In 1966 he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives. As a congressman he worked on legislation dealing with problems of excessive government spending and inflation, national defense, civil rights, quality education, natural resources, and the environment. From 1971 to 1973, he was the United States Ambassador to the United Nations and in 1974 became the chief of the U.S. Liaison Office in the People's Republic of China. He was then appointed director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

He was nominated by his party for the vice presidency in July of 1980. Mr. Bush was then elected vice president designate of the United States in November and sworn into office as the 43rd vice president of the United States in January of 1981.

In bestowing this honor, the University seeks to recognize Vice President Bush for his many years of dedicated public service and is honored to have him address the graduates of its 284th Commencement.

Vincent T. DeVita Jr.

Doctor of Science

A tireless researcher, Dr. Vincent DeVita is widely known for his work in developing the curative drug therapy for Hodgkin's disease. He and his colleagues at the National Institutes of Health developed a four-drug combination that increased the cure rate for patients with advanced Hodgkin's disease from nearly zero to 50 percent. In 1972, he received the Albert and Mary Lasker Medical Research Award for his work on Hodgkin's disease. He also played a major role in developing curative combination chemotherapy treatment for a common non-Hodgkin's lymphoma as well as similar treatments for cancers of the ovary and breast.

A prolific writer, Dr. DeVita is the author or coauthor of more than 300 scientific papers and the coauthor of a major textbook in cancer medicine—Cancer Principles and Practice of Oncology. He also serves on the editorial boards of numerous scientific journals.

A recipient of many honors and awards, Dr. DeVita received the Griffuel Prize; the Superior Service Award of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare; the Alumni Medallion of the College of William and Mary; and the Langer Award. He received his bachelor's degree in 1957 from the College of William and Mary and in 1961 was graduated with distinction from the George Washington University College of Medicine, where he later served as a professor of medicine. Dr. DeVita joined the National Cancer Institute in 1963 and has served as its director since July of 1980.

The University is proud to honor this great researcher, teacher, and healer by bestowing upon him the degree of Doctor of Science, honoris causa.

Frank Press

Doctor of Science

Dr. Press is recognized internationally for his pioneering contributions in geophysics, oceanography, lunar and planetary sciences, and natural resource exploration. His primary scientific activities, however, have been in seismology and the study of the earth's deep interior. He has also led research efforts on earthquake prediction in the United States as well as efforts to foster international cooperation with Japan, the Soviet Union, and the People's Republic of China.

Dr. Press has a long career of public service, holding positions in the Kennedy, Nixon, Ford, and Carter administrations. He also participated in the bilateral science agreement negotiations with the Soviet Union and was a member of the U.S. delegation to the nuclear test ban negotiations in Geneva and Moscow.

He received his undergraduate degree in physics from the City College of New York and advanced degrees in geophysics from Columbia University in 1946 and 1949, when he joined the Columbia faculty. He also held positions at the California Institute of Technology and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was appointed Institute Professor in 1981. In that same year he was elected the 19th president of the National Academy of Sciences.

For his ongoing efforts to foster international cooperation, for his distinguished public service, and for encouraging basic research in the sciences—the University today honors Dr. Press by awarding him the degree of Doctor of Science.

EXPENDITURE AUTHORIZATION 1983-84

Resolution No. 83-152

Synopsis: Authorization to make interim expenditures in Fiscal Year 1983-84 is requested.

WHEREAS levels of State financial support for 1983-84 have not yet been established; and

WHEREAS this University must proceed with its budget planning for 1983-84 even with the current uncertainties in State revenues; and

WHEREAS it is necessary to authorize expenditures for 1983-84 to be effective July 1, 1983, including payment of faculty and staff, prior to the time that this Board adopts the Current Funds Budget for 1983-84:

NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, That the University be authorized to make expenditures consistent with the budget guidelines and the Tentative University Current Funds Budget for Fiscal Year 1983-84, as described in the accompanying text and tables, effective July 1, 1983; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the President will present as soon as possible to the Board of Trustees the final version of the Current Funds Budget for 1983-84 with adjustments as may be necessary as a result of the final actions of the General Assembly and Governor of the State of Ohio.

Upon motion of Mr. Redman, seconded by Mr. Teaford, the Board of Trustees adopted the foregoing resolution by unanimous roll call vote.

STATEMENT OF BUDGET GUIDELINES/PRINCIPLES FOR 1983-84

I. Introduction

The Ohio State University budget guidelines, along with a tentative budget for 1983-84, are again being recommended to this Board of Trustees before State funding levels are known. This is the third year in a row that a tentative budget has had to be presented for Board approval. While reluctant to request the Board to consider another preliminary budget, the lack of a final State appropriations bill for the coming biennium, coupled with the need for the University to have a budget in place by July 1, 1983, has forced us to proceed.

As reported previously to the members of this Board, the University has been in the difficult position of having to cut budgets four times during the 1981-83 biennium, as a result of shortfalls in State revenues. These excessive budget reductions have created uncertainties and significant hardships throughout all areas of the University. We remain concerned that State funding in support of higher education be appropriated at a level which will allow the University to avoid further deep budget cuts or excessive student fee increases, especially in the second year of the 1983-85 biennium.

Recent actions by the Ohio House of Representatives have resulted in an additional $75 million in State support for higher education over the Governor's original recommendation; but this level of funding for 1983-84 in House Bill 291 still remains some $6.0 million below Ohio State's original appropriation of the current fiscal year. University efforts in the Senate continue to be directed toward achieving the amount of State support for higher education recommended by the Board of Regents. If successful, this would add another $138 million for higher education in Ohio. However, since the Senate has not yet voted, we have been forced to develop 1983-84 budget plans using the inadequate funding levels in House Bill 291.

The Regents' recommended State support would enable Ohio State to make significant progress in restoring budget stability over the biennium. This University would be able to enhance efforts to hold down the rates of future increases in student fees to preserve the University's land-grant mission of accessibility, and to make progress in reducing Ohio State's fee ranking in the Big Ten. Most importantly, this added support would contribute significantly to returning the average percentage of college costs which Ohio students--and their parents--must bear from the current 47 percent to the traditional 33 percent level which existed in 1979.

Added State support also is needed to enable Ohio State to begin restoration of appropriate funding to those areas of excellence and potential excellence which contribute so significantly to this University's longstanding tradition of high academic quality. Through well-established internal processes of regular program review, Ohio State continues to identify areas of particular strength, as well as areas with the potential to move from solid quality over the threshold of significant excellence. The members of the University Fiscal Advisory Committee have expressed their concern that the tentative budget recommendation lacks the resources to make significant progress in this regard. While special efforts have been made to reallocate funds for meeting these needs, the instructional subsidies in House Bill 291 are simply inadequate to enable such areas to make progress toward achieving their potential.

STATEMENT OF BUDGET GUIDELINES/PRINCIPLES FOR 1983-84 (contd)

In consultation with the University Fiscal Advisory Committee, deans, and vice presidents, this tentative budget recommendation continues the philosophies initiated over the past year. We are committed to emphasizing three key areas: the stability needed for long-term planning; the preservation of Ohio State's great land-grant tradition of accessibility and equal opportunity; and the maintenance and strengthening of excellence through continued attention to faculty and staff salaries as well as equipment and library resources. Since excellence in a University is dependent upon the quality of the faculty and staff, the primary emphasis will be to remain competitive with other outstanding institutions of higher education, even at the cost of further budget reallocations.

Until a State budget bill is in place, it is recommended that this Board authorize the University to begin the fiscal year within the parameters set forth in this Tentative Current Funds Budget for 1983-84 (Schedule A). Once State budget actions are taken in the legislature and approved by the Governor, a final 1983-84 Current Funds Budget will be recommended. We anticipate this will occur at this Board's July meeting.

II. Sources of Funds

The Tentative Current Funds Budget for 1983-84 includes funding sources which total $709,970,000, using projected revenues from House Bill 291. This level of State support is $6,360,000 below the amount originally appropriated to The Ohio State University for the 1982-83 fiscal year. While previous budget cuts absorbed by this University will enable us to bring to this Board a balanced budget for 1983-84 once a final budget bill is enacted, the inadequate levels of support included in House Bill 291 will adversely affect the expenditure and student tuition levels for the second year of the biennium. This is especially true for the Regional Campuses.

This University remains committed to keeping student tuition and fees at the lowest possible levels to maintain accessibility. Therefore, the average increase in student fees used in this Tentative Budget is 7 percent, effective Autumn Quarter, 1983. While the Governor's budget was based upon a 12 percent student fee increase, extra cost-cutting efforts within the University, as well as the added instructional subsidies included in the House budget bill, have allowed us to limit this planned tuition increase to 7 percent.

In addition to higher tuition, students face price increases in such other areas as residence halls, health insurance, parking and extracurricular activities. Therefore, continuing the practice initiated last year, increases in normal charges assessed by the University have been limited to a combined average of no more than 7 percent. The tentative budget has been constructed within the 7 percent average rate increase for all University services.

Considering the current uncertainties in State revenues, every effort has been made to create a budget plan which will allow this University to return to budget stability for the entire fiscal year. However, further adverse actions may be necessary for the second year of the biennium if the State funding levels in House Bill 291 are not increased.

June 9, 1983 meeting, Board of Trustees

STATEMENT OF BUDGET GUIDELINES/PRINCIPLES FOR 1983-84 (contd)

III. Uses of Funds

The planned expenditures for Fiscal Year 1983-84 will enable this University to implement the following budget planning guidelines.

- * Increase faculty and administrative/professional salaries by an average of 3 percent across-the-board and 4 percent for merit.
- * Provide classified personnel with appropriate step and longevity increases.
- * Provide an allowance of 1 percent as a supplemental allocation for special adjustments for designated faculty and administrative/professional staff.
- * Increase general expense budgets by 8 percent for colleges and offices, plus provide a special catch-up increase of 12 percent for continuing equipment budgets.
- * Provide special allocation of $238,000 to maintain the purchasing power of University-funded student financial aid support and a $4.5 million emergency fund to meet critical needs with emphasis on maintaining quality, providing adequate instructional staff, and supporting accessibility.
- * Provide resources to meet mandatory General Fund cost increases, such as utilities ($1.2 million) and employee benefits ($1.3 million).

This budget plan for 1983-84 includes having the colleges and administrative areas fund from current resources 2 percent of the salary guidelines for faculty and administrative/professional staff on General Fund budgets. This reallocation will total $2.5 million, of which a contingency fund of $500,000 has been set aside to assist areas for which such a reallocation would create extraordinary hardships.

Every effort will be made to continue to provide one-time funds for equipment and library acquisitions to maintain this University's progress in the replacement and improvement of these necessary support resources. If State funding is adequate, the budget target is to provide $7 million in one-time equipment and library funds for 1983-84.

While we applaud the stated goal of the Governor to stabilize State budgets, it is necessary to consider both years of the 1983-85 biennium in budget planning activities for this University. The level of State support currently provided in House Bill 291 creates potentially serious funding problems for the second year (1984-85) of the biennium. Therefore, without additional State funding, either further expenditure reductions will need to be implemented prior to the end of 1983-84 to provide carry-forward resources for the next fiscal year or next year's expenditures and student fee rates will need to be adversely adjusted to accommodate to the funding levels provided in House Bill 291.

If the amount of State support has been determined prior to this Board's July meeting, the final 1983-84 Current Funds Budget will be then recommended for Board action. Until that time, we recommend that expenditures be maintained at continuation levels based upon the planning guidelines included in this tentative budget.
