Members Absent: James D. Klingbeil and Alan VanderMolen

Mr. Gasser:

Good morning, everyone. I would like to convene this meeting of the Board of Trustees and ask the secretary to please note the attendance.
Mr. Kaplan:

A quorum is present, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gasser:

So that we are able to conduct the business of this meeting in an orderly fashion, I would ask that any sound on cell phones and other devices be turned off, and I would ask that all members of the audience observe rules of decorum proper to conducting the business at hand. Thank you.

As you probably know, the theme of our meetings this week has been Time and Change: A Year in Review. I believe I speak for everyone around the table when I say it has been wonderful to hear about the strides the university has made in advancing the pillars of our strategic plan. At the beginning of each committee meeting the last two days, there has been a short video of the different pillars of the strategic plan and some accomplishments.

I would like to thank our Chief Strategy Officer Gail Marsh and her entire team for the hard work they put into creating this series of videos and materials for this week. Gail, along with President Drake, have worked very hard to ensure that the strategic plan is a living, breathing document — something that we live by each day. It is very easy for boards to get distracted by the crisis of the moment, but it is very important that we focus our attention on a long-range plan. Gail, if you are in the audience, would you please stand so we can thank you for the work you have done?

I also want to acknowledge a commitment being made today by one of our fellow trustees. As you know, the ambition set forth in our strategic plan is to make Ohio State a leading national flagship public research university that offers an excellent, affordable education. One of the primary ways to achieve that is through scholarships. Today, as part of the University Foundation Report, we will approve the newly established Timothy P. and Jennifer C. Smucker 100% TBDBITL Scholarship Fund, which will provide scholarships to active members of the Ohio State Marching Band. Recipients will be recommended by the director of the band and approved by the director of the School of Music, in consultation with the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Tim, you have given your time and talent and now your treasure to Ohio State, and we want to thank you for all three of those gifts.

Mr. Smucker:

Thank you, Mike. As I think all of the trustees around the table would say, it has been a privilege and an honor to be associated with this great university, and this is just a small way we can help. We were band parents with our children and we spent a lot of time in band meetings and on band trips, so we understand the dedication it requires. So thank you for your comments.

And just to let you all know, this strategy book about the Time and Change strategic plan — the more we think about this, the better we will be in terms of doing what we can to help this university. We know what this university does for us as individuals and for this community, state and country. Now how can we help?

Mr. Gasser:

If you haven’t had an opportunity, you might want to ask Gail why she does what she does. In the Governance Committee meeting today, she told a very warm story about why she is doing what she is doing today. I’m not going to ask her to repeat it, but if you have time afterwards, ask her. It is very heartwarming. Thank you, Gail.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES

Mr. Gasser:

Our first order of business today is the approval of the minutes from the board’s November meeting, which were distributed to all trustees. If there are no additions or corrections, the minutes are approved as distributed. Hearing none, they are approved.

Mr. Gasser:

Now we have the fun part of our meeting, which is always the student recognition part. We have two students with us today who are dedicated to the type of innovation and social change that will help us solve some of society’s greatest challenges. Mr. Moseley, would you please introduce our President’s Prize recipients?

Mr. Moseley:

Yes, thank you, Chairman Gasser. First, I want to acknowledge the student trustee selection process. We have 10 semi-finalists to fill my slot as the undergraduate student trustee. If you are a semi-finalist waiting to interview tomorrow, I would like you to stand and be recognized.

Thank you. We are looking forward to meeting all of you very shortly. I also want to say thank you to my friends. As I am rolling off the board here soon, a lot of them came to support me. Thank you, guys, for showing up. Now I’d like to ask Zac Graber and Christian McGhee to come to the presenters’ table.

It is my pleasure to introduce this year’s recipients of the President’s Prize — the highest recognition Ohio State awards to students who are committed to social change. Each President’s Prize scholar will receive a living stipend and start-up funding for their first year post-graduation, along with access to the mentorship of accomplished experts and the opportunity to share their ideas with the university’s global community of alumni, friends and partners.
Zac and Christian are both seniors in Ohio State’s Fisher College of Business. They were selected from a talented group of applicants who submitted ideas for projects with the potential to make a meaningful impact on society.

Zac, who is from Liberty Center, Ohio, will work on a research project designed to help central Ohio significantly reduce the amount of waste sent to local landfills. And Christian, who is from Westerville, wants to create a transition center for children who have been involved in the justice system and may otherwise be homeless. I would like to ask them both to tell us more about their projects, which address some of society’s most important challenges and align closely with our strategic plan.

Zac, would you like to start?

Mr. Graber:

Thank you for the opportunity to speak with you this morning. I appreciate the time you are giving me to tell you a little bit more about my project.

My proposal arose from research I did as a student here at Ohio State. I was always extremely interested in sustainability and started narrowing in on the topic of food waste. I quickly realized there were plenty of startups already working on collecting food from super centers and larger retailers because it is in mass quantities and logistically economical to collect. What wasn’t getting enough attention were the small amounts of waste at every one of our households that add up to an enormous amount.

As I researched this problem, two potential solutions arose — we can either change how society collects waste or sort the waste out once it gets to the landfill. Since option one would take far more government intervention, I decided to do my research on option two. My research and industry analysis showed that a break-even on a facility such as this would be promising, but another huge bottleneck could arise — the utilization of it. We need to make sure there is a market for this material before sorting it out, or else it will just end up right back where it started.

My project will test whether farmers can use this on corn and soybeans, because it is the only market large enough to take our full land stream’s compostable amount. If they can, then we will be able to cut our waste stream in half from the current 1.1 million tons per year over the next decade. If we can’t, this still isn’t a lost cause — it’s a great endeavor that will help show us that we need to hit the drawing board again to solve this massive world problem. I’d like to thank you all for your support in trying to make our world a more sustainable place.

Mr. McGhee:

Thank you for the opportunity to be here today. I’m pleased to be able to share with you all what I will be working on through the President’s Prize. Last year, this started through the Honors Cohort program when we went through a yearlong service project known as the Impact Challenge. During this time, we partnered with Student Life’s Social Change Department and their Buckeye Reach program and we were able to provide professional development to kids and youth in the Circleville Juvenile Correctional Facility. We were also able to donate goods to the local youth homeless shelter, Star House. From that, thanks to the benefits of the President’s Prize, I am able to establish a nonprofit we call GROW (Getting Ready for Opportunities and Work). GROW is working to provide transitional housing for incarcerated youth in the heart of our home, Columbus.

In the past year, my team and I had the opportunity to learn about the issues of recidivism and homelessness for justice-involved youth. It is an unfortunate reality that most times youth find themselves out of school, unemployed or without a stable place to live. This cycle has to end. While there are ample resources right here in the community — such as houses for foster care children, drug counseling and behavioral health — justice-involved youth are often overlooked.

Thankfully, Ohio State has recognized how much of a need this is and has decided to support our cause through the President’s Prize. I am honored to have been given the opportunity of living out my dream of serving others. I also would like to thank my parents who are here today, Susan Colbert and Ty Shepfer, for just being tremendous supporters and encouraging me throughout all of this. Thank you for allowing me to speak before you today.

Mr. Gasser:

I think I speak for all the trustees when I say this is why we do what we do — for the students like these young men who are overachievers. Let’s give them another round of applause.

STUDENT RECOGNITION AWARDS

Mr. Gasser:

Ms. Bonsu, would you please introduce our Student Recognition Award recipient?

Ms. Bonsu:

Yes, thank you, Chairman Gasser. I’d like to invite Brian Hansen to the presenters’ table.

Brian grew up not far from here in Dublin, Ohio, but his impressive research as a Buckeye has taken him around the world. After earning his Bachelor of Science in Biology in 2014, Brian matriculated into the College of Medicine’s prestigious MD/PhD Medical Scientist Training Program, where he works as a Fellow in the lab of Dr. Vadim Fedorov. In Dr. Fedorov’s pioneering lab, Brian uses 3D imaging to see inside living, beating human hearts. He is part of a team that brings donated human hearts back to life in order to track abnormal heartbeats called arrhythmias. His research focuses on sinus node dysfunction, which is the leading reason for having a pacemaker inserted, and atrial fibrillation, which is the most common cardiac arrhythmia. Brian has presented his research at national and international conferences from San Francisco to Rome and has been honored with a number of awards for his work.
In 2017, he received the Cardiac Electrophysiology Society’s Young Investigator Award, and in 2018, he received the Department of Physiology and Cell Biology Nishikawara Scholar Award, which is given to the graduate student with the greatest accomplishments in the preceding year. Brian will graduate in May 2022, but in meantime, we can expect to see a few more years of research while he is training to be a medical scientist here at Ohio State.

Brian, would you like to say a few words?

Mr. Hansen:

Thank you so much for that great introduction. I would like to thank the board for recognizing me and my hard work and research. As it was alluded to, this is my ninth year as a student at Ohio State. I started in 2010, and I stayed here because of the many opportunities there are at such a large university to do groundbreaking research. We are one of the only universities in the world who gets donated human hearts directly from the operating room so that we can study them in a way no one else can. I am lucky enough to be a part of the Medical Scientist Training Program here at Ohio State, as well as the Biomedical Sciences Graduate Program, so I am getting a dual degree, an MD/PhD. I am supported by my great mentor, Dr. Vadim Fedorov, who is here with us today. I have been in his lab for seven years, and he has given me the opportunities and tools I need to succeed as a researcher. My parents still live in Dublin, so they are here today and are a great support system as well. Again, thank you for your recognition.

Mr. Gasser:

Nine years and counting, that is great. Again, another round of applause.

Jordan mentioned earlier that we will be talking to some potential student trustees later today and I want to take this opportunity to say how thrilled we are with having student trustees — both Jordan and Janice are great additions to our board. Those of you out there who are interviewing, you will have big shoes to fill. Thank you, Jordan and Janice, for all that you do for the university.

TIME AND CHANGE STRATEGIC PLAN PRESENTATION

Mr. Gasser:

As I have said, we have used the Time and Change strategic plan as the theme of our meeting today. Ohio State is at an unprecedented moment in its nearly 150-year history. Our momentum has never been greater, and as we move through the first year of our strategic plan, we are very pleased with the results we are seeing university-wide. Our plan provides a roadmap for future excellence as a leading public research university. And our efforts are geared toward both student and faculty success, as well as having national impact through research and innovation. The Board of Trustees was involved in the development of this plan, and each of our meetings this past year has focused on a pillar of that plan. Now, I’d like to ask President Drake to comment and share some of the first-year accomplishments.

President Drake:

Thank you. We were proud to partner with the Board of Trustees and our entire university community to develop a roadmap for accelerated excellence here at The Ohio State University. That roadmap is our Time and Change strategic plan. The plan is meant to be transformative and to further distinguish us as a leading public research university. We have measurable accomplishments to share in each of the five pillars, and I will give you a brief highlight in each.

Pillar I, Teaching and Learning — We are very proud of our first-year retention rate, which at 94.5 percent is a record for the university and one of the highest in the country.

Pillar II, Access, Affordability and Excellence — We have increased access to Ohio State while maintaining the lowest rate of increase in tuition among flagship research universities over the past decade at any place in the United States.

Pillar III, Research and Creative Expression — We rank No. 1 in the Big Ten in invention disclosures, which is the first step in the technology commercialization pipeline.

Pillar IV, Academic Healthcare — We are nationally ranked in 10 specialties, which counts us among fewer than 0.5 percent of all hospitals in the country.

Pillar V, Operational Excellence and Resource Stewardship — We had a record fundraising year in fiscal year 2018 with more than 270,000 supporters. We were pleased about the breadth and extent of our support.

In conclusion, we have a solid roadmap, dedicated people and we are broadly committed to exploring new and innovative areas in a community that is invested in the success of the university. This combination strongly positions us to take the next steps in what it means to be a flagship public research university in the 21st century. Now let’s take a few minutes to hear from the people we are impacting with this important work.

[Video Plays]

Mr. Gasser:

Again, Gail, thank you for putting all of these videos and materials together. I think it is a good reflection of what we have done and what we still need to do as we move forward.

President Drake, I think it is now time for your report.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

President Drake:

Thank you, Chairman Gasser. Before I begin my report, I would like to invite Provost Bruce McPheron to the table to provide a brief update on the Richard Strauss matter.

Dr. McPheron:

Thank you, President Drake and good morning, everyone. At this time, I would like to share an update on the independent investigation of sexual misconduct allegations against Dr. Richard Strauss. At the board’s last meeting in November, we heard from individuals in the community who shared their experiences. We respect their courage and were grateful to all those who have come forward.

Earlier this month, we informed alumni and former student-athletes that the university will cover the cost of professionally certified counseling services needed by former students as a result of Dr. Strauss’s conduct during their time at Ohio State. We engaged the firm Praesidium to facilitate confidential access to support resources. Praesidium is a nationally recognized leader in preventing and responding to incidents of sexual abuse, and we continue to encourage individuals in need of support resources to contact Praesidium. Under this arrangement, former students have access to counseling services that are comparable to what we make available to students who are enrolled at Ohio State today. Those who have already pursued counseling because of what they experienced related to Dr. Strauss will have access to additional resources available through Praesidium. As a reminder, the contact information for Praesidium is available on the Strauss investigation website, accessible from the university’s homepage. This counseling is completely confidential and involves no contact with the university.

On a separate front, we are working with the federal court to arrange for mediation pursuant to its established processes. We do appreciate the court’s care and attention to this matter.

I want to reaffirm that the independent investigation is of the highest priority for the university. For almost a year, we have encouraged members of our community who were effected by or had knowledge of Dr. Strauss’s behavior to participate in the investigation. The purpose of that investigation is twofold: uncover what happened and determine what the university and its leaders at the time knew. I want to reiterate in the strongest possible terms that we remain steadfastly committed to understanding the extent of Dr. Strauss’s misconduct and to responding appropriately. That has been our guiding principle since last spring when we first heard of these horrible and profoundly disturbing experiences from decades ago.

The investigation is nearing its conclusion, and based on what we learn, the university will address the past and continue to take action to support a better and safer future.

Thank you, President Drake.
President Drake:

Thank you, Bruce. As always, we remain ever focused on our Buckeye community and specifically the ways the university is advancing our impact on many communities we serve. Earlier, we heard about the progress that the university has made across the five pillars of our strategic plan. I want to thank our university community for all their efforts to ensure that we continue to move forward, including our alumni, friends, faculty, staff and students. Our President’s Prize recipients are one example. They are among the many Buckeyes who work each day to make the world a better place — the embodiment of our motto “Education for Citizenship”.

I was privileged last month to highlight several signs of our continued progress in the annual State of the University Address. As mentioned earlier, we set records for our first-year retention rate. In the past year, we also saw university highs for applications, academic excellence, diversity, four-year graduation rates, sponsored research, donor support and more. More recently, our online Master of Science in Nursing program was ranked No. 1 among public institutions, and our online bachelor’s programs are No. 3 overall. It is the fifth consecutive year that these programs have been in the top 10.

I am also pleased to share a few firsts. Surgeons at the Wexner Medical Center are the first in the nation to implant a new device designed to relieve knee pain and to help prevent or delay the need for knee replacements in people with osteoarthritis. An Ohio State engineering professor has become the first woman from Ohio State to be named to the National Academy of Engineering — one of the highest professional distinctions an engineer can receive. Dorota Grejner-Brzezinska, associate dean for research in the College of Engineering, was one of 86 new members to receive this honor this past year. An Ohio State soil scientist — Rattan Lal — received the 2019 Japan Prize, among the most prestigious honors in science and technology in the world. It is awarded to two scientists each year out of approximately 15,000 nominees.

We also have a number of recent announcements to share, all of which support various pillars of the strategic plan. First, we were delighted to announce this week that the new executive vice president and chancellor for health affairs will join the university this spring, pending board approval today. Dr. Harold Paz will be the first to serve in this position, and he brings an unparalleled combination of experience in leading major medical programs at two public research universities and Fortune 50 company business development. He most recently served as executive vice president and chief medical officer at Aetna, where he was instrumental in many things, including implementing an innovative data-driven approach to fighting opioid abuse.

Dr. Paz is recognized as a visionary leader — one who advocates a comprehensive model for addressing the health and wellness of individuals and communities in a rapidly evolving society. I am grateful to everyone who helped us in the search process to find the person who was the right fit for this position in our university community, in particular Susan Basso and Bruce McPherson, who led the search process internally with our search consultants. I want to thank both of you. Many of you on the board also participated actively and we do appreciate that as well. We enjoyed welcoming Dr. Paz to campus on Wednesday and look forward to future opportunities for faculty and staff to connect with him in the upcoming months. We are thrilled to have him on board.
We are also pleased to announce that Mike Papadakis has been named the senior vice president of the Office of Business and Finance and chief financial officer, pending board approval. Mike has held this role on an interim basis for the past year and we look forward to making this a permanent position.

Also before the board today is a plan to expand digital course materials in an effort to cut costs for students. If approved, the university anticipates the benefits will impact 11,500 students from 32 courses in nine colleges and departments, and result in more than $865,000 in direct student savings. This is a part of our larger focus on access, affordability and excellence, which we heard about earlier.

We continue to make progress on Framework 2.0 — the long-term planning vision for the physical footprint of the university. West Campus offers the exciting opportunity to develop a future Innovation District. An Interdisciplinary Research Facility, for example, will provide modern environments for multiple disciplines, and the Energy Advancement and Innovation Center — first outlined in the comprehensive energy management partnership — will be a hub for technology commercialization.

We are also at various stages of planning and design for the growth of our medical enterprise, with plans for an inpatient hospital, interdisciplinary health sciences center and ambulatory center that will include central Ohio’s first proton therapy treatment facility in partnership with Nationwide Children’s Hospital. Ambulatory locations to serve individuals and families throughout our community are also planned in northeast Columbus, Powell and announced most recently, Dublin.

There is a tremendous amount of exciting news to share across our university, and I would like to conclude my report today with one of my favorites. Earlier this month, the annual BuckeyeThon Dance Marathon — organized and run by the university’s largest student-run philanthropic organization — brought together Buckeyes with children diagnosed with cancer and their families. The 24-hour event is a culmination of a year of fundraising activities and lots of support from the Office of Student Life. I am pleased to share that the group raised a record $1.7 million to support Nationwide Children’s Hospital. BuckeyeThon has now raised more than $9.8 million since its creation. This is just one example of the many ways we advance our land-grant mission and how much we can accomplish by working together as Buckeyes.

Thank you all very much.

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you, President Drake, for that very complete and thorough report. Are there any questions for President Drake?

Mrs. Wexner:

I have a comment about BuckeyeThon. It is an extraordinary event, and I know I speak on behalf of Alex Fischer and I, who also sit on the Nationwide Children’s Hospital Board, and most importantly for every member of this community. Children’s Hospital serves such an important function, taking care of all of our kids. To have the students of this university dedicate themselves so dramatically and work so hard to raise unprecedented levels of support is truly extraordinary. So again, I just want to congratulate those students for the incredible effort they put in and remark about how extraordinary it is.

Mr. Gasser:
I sense they have fun with it, too.

Mrs. Wexner:
They do.

President Drake:
I would echo what Mrs. Wexner said. BuckeyeThon is so important, it is a great activity and hundreds of these students work all year to raise money. So it is a great philanthropic effort in addition to being a fun and exciting 24-hour dance marathon. It teaches our students the value of philanthropy and it teaches them how to work together as a team. Plus, the bond our students have with the children and their families is really touching. So it is one of our favorite events.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Mr. Gasser:
We will move to our committee reports. As you know, the heavy lifting of this board is done in the committees. We have a day-and-a-half of committee meetings and you are going to hear a snapshot over the next 20 minutes of what happened, but it is many, many hours of work being done. Mrs. Wexner, would you kick us off?

Wexner Medical Center Board

Mrs. Wexner:
Thank you, Mr. Chairman. The Wexner Medical Center Board met on Wednesday and as Dr. Drake has already mentioned, we began our meeting by welcoming Dr. Paz. I want to say how excited we are to have been able to recruit someone of his caliber who has tremendous experience both in academic medicine and private industry. I’d love to thank Dr. Drake and Dr. McPheron in particular for taking the time and care not to rush this search, but to ensure we attracted a candidate of this caliber who will build on the tremendous success we are already seeing at the medical center.

In keeping with our Time and Change theme, we heard an update from Gail Marsh on the progress we have made related to our strategic plan at the medical center. As you’ll note, this is the first time ever that the medical center strategic plan is now a prominent pillar in the overall strategic plan of the university. This marks a very important change — it is the recognition of what a critical role the medical center plays in the success and reputation of the university. So having it be one of the pillars is important for all of us.
This past year, we made great strides toward our goals, leading the way in patient satisfaction, clinical outcomes and creating high-impact transformational research that benefits not only our faculty and students from an academic perspective, but our community from a healthcare perspective. We are taking care of not only people in this immediate community, but of Ohioans at a very high level.

Dr. Raphael Pollock shared an interim progress report on the cancer center’s immuno-oncology efforts. This is a truly ambitious undertaking that involves collaboration with many colleges across the university. It is a reminder of how unique Ohio State is that people in the medical center can work with so many different departments. That is one of the greatest assets we have here. This project has profound support from the community, including from the Pelotonia efforts and its board, as well as the James Foundation Board. We will hear more about it, but it is anticipated that when it is up and running, we will have one of the very best — if not the very best — funded efforts of this kind in the entire United States.

Dr. Craig Kent then introduced three new recruits — Dr. Benjamin Poulose, chief of the Division of General and Gastrointestinal Surgery and the Robert M. Zollinger Endowed Chair of Surgery; Allan Tsung, director of the Division of Surgical Oncology; and Dr. Benjamin Segal, chair of the Department of Neurology. Again, just to note, under Dr. Kent’s leadership, we have seen tremendous increases in the level of the recruits that we are now able to attract to the medical center from the finest institutions in the country, elevating and pursuing the strategic plan.

We then heard a presentation from Dr. Tom Ryan and the doctors of the cardiovascular service line. They talked about a one-of-a-kind innovation called transcatheter aortic valve replacement — a unique device that was created here at Ohio State that is completely personalized to a particular patient’s physical structure, working with the College of Engineering. It is transformative to patients and unique at Ohio State. Again, this is a mark of the collaboration that is unique across the colleges of the university.

During the medical center operations report, David McQuaid shared that the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses has awarded the Medical Intensive Care Units at both the James Cancer Hospital and the Wexner Medical Center gold and silver Beacon Awards for excellence, respectively. Again, all of you at the medical center know just how critical nursing care is, and to have this type of recognition is both inspiring and so important. He also shared ways we are responding to the needs of our patients and their demands for differentiated services. The Upper Arlington Ambulatory Facility, for example, has seen tremendous growth in the last year, really reaching out to patients where they are and supporting that work.

Our final item for discussion was Mark Larmore’s financial summary. There are a few areas in the summary that we need to continue to watch, in particular admissions are slightly behind budget by 2.6 percent and flat compared to last year. These are partially due to some anticipated changes, including a closure of a floor at Harding Hospital and some reimbursement changes. We will continue to monitor those carefully. One of the big challenges that we are also going to keep a close eye on is the length of stay — we have seen an increase of 5 percent over our budget of 3.5 percent. That really affects us and is obviously something the team is fully focused on.
The Wexner Medical Center then reviewed three items for action. The first two items related to the purchase and development of 34 acres of property at Shier Rings Road in Dublin for the second of three planned ambulatory sites. Finally, Mr. Kasey presented a request to enter into professional services and construction contracts for two projects related to the replacement of University Hospital. First, he request $45.7 million for the creation of a centralized, free-standing sterile supply center that will be located on university-owned land at Kenny and Ackerman. Second, he requested $74 million for a new inpatient hospital garage, which will house 1,870 spaces for patients and visitors and will come online in late 2020.

These items were recommended for approval and forwarded to the Finance and Master Planning and Facilities committees for their review. They all appear on the consent agenda today. That concludes my report, Mr. Chairman.

(See Appendix XLIII for background information, page 970)

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you, Abigail. Any questions for Mrs. Wexner? Thank you for your leadership on that committee and on the board.

Mr. Fischer, Master Planning and Facilities?

Master Planning and Facilities

Mr. Fischer:

The Master Planning and Facilities Committee met yesterday. Our Time and Change strategic plan update focused on the ways in which current and completed projects — envisioned as part of Framework 2.0 — advance the pillars of the strategic plan. As stewards of the university’s physical environment, the Master Planning and Facilities Committee ensures that proposed projects align with the university’s strategic initiatives.

The planning and delivery of key projects supports and represents excellence in teaching, research and discovery. When done well, facilities and open spaces have the ability to serve as an incubator for ideas and the unlikely connections that might not otherwise happen. They can serve as differentiators among our peers and competitors, and support the aspiration to be a leading national flagship public research university.

Our committee remains focused and committed to advancing projects that prioritize the needs of students, faculty and researchers, and are delivered creatively and align with the university’s financial strategy. It was a fantastic opportunity for us to pause and think about how the work of the community and the physical environment of the campus connect with the five pillars of the strategic plan.

We also welcomed a new staff member to the committee. Mark Conselyea is taking the place of Lynn Readey, who retired at the end of the year, as the new associate vice president for Facilities Operations and Development. He is not new to the university, having served for many years at the Wexner Medical Center. His experience there will be very important in the years ahead as we look at major facilities as they relate to the medical center and to the entire university. He and Mr. Kasey presented the Physical Environment Scorecard. Overall, the scorecard has 10 areas coded green and six areas coded yellow. They also presented the Major Project Status Report, which includes all projects over $20 million.

The Postle Hall project is coded yellow for budget and schedule, but a great plan for watching it and ensuring it is completed is in place. The Advanced Materials Corridor Phase 1 is coded yellow for schedule and the Controlled Environment Food Production Research Complex is coded red for schedule and budget. This project has been on our agenda for the last several months. It has actually gone back under the provost’s leadership for a total reprogramming, and it will come back at the May meeting for what we all believe is going to be a new and refreshed plan after months of considerations on the right level of programming for that facility.

Keith Myers then presented an update on West Campus. As you might recall, we have had many discussions over the last several years about West Campus and a potential Innovation District. The new Interdisciplinary Research Building had previously been planned as part of the strategic capital projects on the Midwestern Campus. However, a summer evaluation put it in the context of other projects — including the West Campus ambulatory facility and the goals of Framework 2.0 — and the decision was made to relocate the research building to West Campus and site it in proximity to the new Energy Advancement and Innovation Building, all emerging as a catalyst to create the first-ever Innovation District on West Campus.

This Innovation District, as articulated in Framework 2.0, is a vibrant mix of research, innovation and mixed-use spaces that are vital to growing academic and industrial partnerships that support the mission of our strategic plan. A great example of those partnership opportunities is the aforementioned Energy Advancement and Innovation Building. This new building will be the cornerstone of the university’s public-private partnership with Ohio State Energy Partners, and it will serve as an experiential hub for energy research and technology incubation. Also, it will be the North American headquarters of ENGIE and one of only several worldwide research hubs they have across the globe. As a part of the agreement, $50 million was committed for the project by Ohio State Energy Partners, and siting these two buildings together allows for programmatic synergies and efficient delivery.

The committee also reviewed items for approval, several of which were reviewed by the Finance Committee for alignment with applicable financial plans.

Mr. Kasey presented a request for approval to increase professional services and construction contracts for three projects, including the previously discussed Energy Advancement and Innovation Building. As Mrs. Wexner mentioned, the Wexner Medical Center Board also reviewed and recommended for approval the Central Sterile Supply and Inpatient Hospital Garage projects. All of the details are in your board materials.

Mr. Myers then presented three real estate items. The first two items were reviewed and recommended for approval by the Wexner Medical Center Board. These requests relate to the acquisition and development of the site along U.S. Route 33 in Dublin that Mrs.
Wexner already discussed. The final real estate item was the request for authorization to enter into a long-term lease and purchase option with Campus Partners for the construction of a new home for WOSU Public Media. This will be the first time that we will begin to see construction coming out of the ground after a lot of mediation and work over the last couple of years at 15th and High, which I think we all anticipate is a great addition to that new entrance to our campus.

Lastly, Mr. Myers presented two requests to enter into joint-use agreements with the Boys and Girls Club of Marion County and Smart Columbus. These agreements don’t use university funds, but rather are pass-throughs that allow state capital appropriations approved by the legislature and governor to be released to these entities as outlined in the State Capital Bill.

All of these resolutions were approved by the Master Planning and Facilities Committee and are included on the consent agenda. We also met in executive session to discuss real estate issues. That concludes my report, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gasser:

Questions for Alex? Alex, as I mentioned in your meeting yesterday, it was just a few years ago that we formed this committee. With all that’s going on, I can’t see how we ever survived without it. Thank you and your committee for all the hard work you’ve done and will be doing in the future as we embark on this ambitious programming.

Mr. Fischer:

Well, it is all supported by the incredible team here at the university. Kudos to the administration for their efforts as well.

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you. Dr. Fujita, Talent and Compensation?

Talent and Compensation

Dr. Fujita:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. The Talent and Compensation Committee met yesterday. We began with an overview of how the university’s talent strategy has helped to propel us toward our goals in the Time and Change strategic plan. The university’s talent strategy plays a pivotal role in ensuring that we attract and retain the best talent to move the strategic plan forward for The Ohio State University.

Susan Basso shared with us some of the key highlights of what we have accomplished this past year related to talent, including several key executive hires. We continue to promote top talent within the organization and we are pleased to say that many of those talented leaders are women. Additionally, we have developed several important programs around leadership development and apprenticeship.
Next, Julie Hovance — who is the university’s retirement benefits manager — gave us an overview of Ohio State’s complex retirement plans and the specific offerings that are available to faculty, staff and student employees. Ms. Hovance reported on the types and features of both the mandatory plans as well as the supplemental 403(b) and 457(b) plans that are available as part of the total rewards package offered at Ohio State. Her comprehensive presentation also touched on contribution amounts and limits, asset management, investment risk responsibility and the continued evolution of our retirement plan offerings and administration.

Ms. Basso then shared with the committee an updated Procedure for Setting and Reviewing Compensation for University Executives document, which now gives the board authority to set and review compensation for individuals who receive interim appointments to board purview positions. The committee approved this document in its new iteration.

Ms. Basso also updated the committee on several critical searches, including dean positions at Moritz and the colleges of Public Health and Arts & Sciences. Additionally, she touched on the ongoing searches at the Wexner Medical Center for a new chief nursing executive; the medical director of the Stefanie Spielman Comprehensive Breast Center; and the CEO for the Ohio State Health Accountable Care Organization.

Finally, the committee approved the personnel actions pertaining to the appointment of Gail Marsh as senior vice president and chief strategy & implementation officer; Michael Papadakis as senior vice president and chief financial officer; Harold Paz as executive vice president and chancellor for Academic Heath Care; and the reappointments of Chris Culley as senior vice president and general counsel; and Jeff Kaplan as secretary and senior advisor to the Board of Trustees.

We also met in executive session. That concludes my report, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you. Questions for Hiro and the Talent and Compensation Committee? Hiro, thank you for bringing great discipline to this committee. We appreciate it very much.

Mrs. Hoeflinger, Advancement?

Advancement

Mrs. Hoeflinger:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. The Advancement Committee met yesterday and I am pleased to share our progress. Similar to other committees, we also started our meeting by reflecting on the strategic plan and how the Advancement Committee fits in and supports those pillars. Advancement’s mission is to inspire people and organizations to be meaningfully and continuously engaged with Ohio State. While it might be easy to focus on the metrics and dollars raised — and certainly the cash receipts are important — Advancement is about more than fundraising. It is about ensuring that we meet our mission and that we have the means to deliver on that mission.
Our Advancement scorecard reflects the good work that is happening to cultivate and engage various audiences. I was intrigued and, I might add, felt old to find out that our marketing team uses YouTube and 70 percent, I believe, was the number of Generation Z members who use YouTube to get the news. I did not realize that YouTube has news, so it is great we have a marketing team that keeps up with all of that and optimizes Ohio State’s presence through the YouTube platform to reach prospective students. It is a great opportunity to understand how to use social media and to continue to reinforce it.

We also have the Net Promoter Score for events. It continues to be very strong for us. Fundraising results, however, are not as strong through the first six months of the year. We are a little behind where we want to be. Some of it is related to the timing of gifts closing later than anticipated, and the market has been uncertain at best, which has also impacted giving. But donor counts are up and we remain optimistic about the pipeline. The number of principal gifts is also up year-over-year for us as well.

As many of you know, next year we will celebrate Ohio State’s sesquicentennial — or, if that’s a little hard for you to say like it is for me, the university’s 150th anniversary. The collection of programs being planned will enable Buckeyes to honor the past, understand how we’ve gotten to where we are today, and look forward to where we are headed. March 22, 2020, is the official date, but there will be a variety of programs and events leading up to that, including the Sesquicentennial Student Scholar Leadership Program. As part of that program, 150 students will each receive $2,500 and leadership training throughout the year. They will serve as ambassadors and take part in the sesquicentennial events. More than 2,000 students have applied.

One of the most touching aspects of the sesquicentennial programming will be The Carmen Collection — a series of multimedia stories about Buckeyes in history whom we have rarely heard about. We had a preview and saw one or two of them and it was incredibly moving. The Carmen Collection will provide the opportunity to understand the people who have taken us to the next level and who have been such a critical part of Ohio State. The sesquicentennial football game will take place September 7, 2019, and the big sesquicentennial weekend will be March 19-22, 2020.

We also discussed the incredible success of BuckeyeThon. If you think about it, again, it’s a student-run organization that raised $1.7 million for children who are being treated for cancer at Nationwide Children’s Hospital. If you get a chance, you should watch some of the videos of the kids and the way the Ohio Union fills up with people. I had the opportunity to see all of this because my daughter participated in the overnight and she thought it was important that, as a board member, every hour on the hour I got an update of what was happening. The energy, excitement, enthusiasm and the teaching of philanthropy — we’ve talked about it before, but it’s such a critical thing.

Among the items for action, our committee approved the University Foundation Report, as well as the seven naming resolutions that are on the consent agenda. We also approved the recommendation to present Distinguished Service Awards to George Acock, Richard Hollingsworth, Linda Kass, Dr. William McDaniel and Dr. Gifford Weary. All of them have made remarkable contributions to this university.

We then recessed into executive session, and that concludes my report, Mr. Chairman.
Mr. Gasser:

Thank you. Questions for Erin? Advancement is the lifeblood of the university, so thank you for your work there.

Mr. Zeiger, Audit and Compliance?

Audit and Compliance

Mr. Zeiger:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. The Audit and Compliance Committee met yesterday and there were four items for discussion in the public session.

First, like the rest of our committees, we heard a presentation on the Time and Change strategic plan and discussed how the Audit Committee’s work in four critical areas reinforces the work of the strategic plan. Those areas which, in my mind, come down to blocking and tackling, include the internal and external auditing function, which we oversee; we also oversee the compliance and integrity function, which becomes ever more complicated with various regulations and laws that have been imposed on the university; the third area is the legal activity of the university, which has been a large undertaking; and finally, our review and oversight of the university’ affiliated entities.

We watched a brief video highlighting the work of the university’s newest affiliated entity, OSU Global One Health. This initiative brings together faculty and students from 15 of our colleges to establish prevention and response efforts for emerging diseases in Ethiopia and other countries. This program demonstrates the truly worldwide reach and impact that Ohio State and its strategic plan can have.

Next on our public session agenda was a presentation by Christa Dewire from our auditing firm, PwC. She gave a status report on the finalization of the fiscal year 2018 audit, as well as the steps moving forward on the fiscal year 2019 audit. We should take great satisfaction that the 2018 audit was completed and we met all of the appropriate standards. It has been submitted to the Auditor of State as required by law and the Auditor of State has approved our 2018 audit.

Additionally, the auditing firm PwC issued an unqualified report on compliance with the detailed requirements of the Office of Budget and Management’s Uniform Guidance. Again, that is a compliment to the strength of our management team. The planning process for the 2019 audit will begin soon and will include discussions with management to identify areas for improvement and any needed scoping changes in the audit. PwC will present their full audit plan for the fiscal 2019 audit at the board’s meeting in May.

We then had our director of compliance, Gates Garrity-Rokous, provide us a report on the Compliance and Integrity Program. We had a very good discussion with Gates and Helen Patton, the university’s chief information security officer, about the university’s information security framework. Due to the university’s decentralized IT structure, Gates, Helen and their teams have worked with the colleges and units across campus to create a coordinated compliance strategy to mitigate the risks in information security. Since developing the framework in 2013, the university has made significant strides on campus, but there is still more work to be done and more focus to be brought to the subject. Information security will continue to be an inherently high-risk area for all industries, and particularly our university, given the nature of the work that goes on here. It will require ongoing vigilance and the commitment of resources to continue to stay ahead of evolving threats.

We did discuss that, unfortunately, the IT threat is one that will impair us at some point given the fact that we have national actors and others involved in attempting to breach our security on a regular basis. It is an area we will continue to watch and we need to have resources brought to assuring that while we are behind a step, we will catch up.

Gates also provided a brief report on the Conflicts of Interest Policy and processes of the university. A very prominent, national organization has obtained some very adverse publicity by some weakness in their Conflicts of Interest Policy. Gates explained that over the last five years, the university has worked to simplify our policy, streamline its disclosure requirements and provide training for those who are exposed to these issues so we can identify issues early and conflicts can be avoided.

Finally, Dr. Ryan Schmiesing and Alexandra Schimmer gave us a status report on the important steps that are going forward on the development of the university’s new office to support students and employees impacted by sexual misconduct. There are many goals for this new office and those include:

- Ensuring for every student, faculty or staff member who comes forward on a sexual misconduct issue a consistent and coordinated response consistent with university policy;
- Providing coordinated intake and outreach support to university community members to help them access campus and community support resources and have consistent information about university policy and resolution options; and
- Ensuring a rigorous, fair and impartial review of reports by trained and experienced professionals through a process that prioritizes procedural protections for all involved.

This model is consistent with the best practices nationally at other large state universities, builds upon the strengths of our existing resources and better coordinates these components university-wide. The initial focus and priority of this office has been on sexual and gender-based harassment and violence. However, given the combination of these issues with other protected classes, such as race, ethnicity and disability, the objective is for this office to also include the institutional prevention and response to all forms of discrimination and harassment.

The university is in the final stages of a national search for the associate vice president to be responsible for this new office, and is actively working on a series of revisions to university policies and rules to ensure alignment with the responsibilities of the new office. These changes to our policies and rules also are designed to align with the anticipated direction of the U.S. Department of Education’s proposed Title IX rule changes and recent decisions by our federal courts in the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Through a letter from President Drake, Ohio State recently submitted comments to the Department of Education as part of the federal rulemaking process. Those comments were among more than 100,000 comments received by the department regarding the proposed changes. As a result, we have no idea when the department will make it through their 100,000 comments and implement changes. President Drake’s letter to the Department of Education acknowledged that while the proposed rules will likely alter the regulatory landscape in some manner, our university’s core values remain. We are committed to preventing sexual and gender-based harassment and assault in our campus community; we are and will continue to provide fair and effective processes for addressing and resolving complaints; and we are committed to serving as a national model for education, prevention and campus engagement on these important issues.

There were no items presented for action, but the committee did meet in executive session, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you. Any questions for John and the Audit and Compliance Committee? John, I couldn’t think of a better leader for that committee right now with all that is going on, so thank you for your leadership.

My good friend, Mr. Kellogg, Academic Affairs and Student Life?

Academic Affairs and Student Life

Mr. Kellogg:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. The Academic Affairs and Student Life Committee met yesterday and discussed a number of items. Provost McPheron, Dr. Adams-Gaston and Dr. Stone kicked off our time with their strategic plan update. The provost began by looking at the Teaching and Learning pillar. He talked about the University Institute for Teaching and Learning’s signature program, the Teaching Support Program. The program invited more than 4,700 eligible faculty to participate in order to enhance their teaching approaches, and half of those faculty members joined. As these faculty members embark on instructional redesigns for their courses, the changes they make will be noted and the student-related outcomes will be measured.

Dr. Adams-Gaston, our senior vice president for Student Life, also highlighted the Teaching and Learning pillar by looking at our approach to offering a comprehensive, well-rounded and well-balanced student experience, including encouraging engagement in philanthropic activities. We heard about the student-led BuckeyeThon multiple times and with good reason. It is a remarkable way not only to serve the community, but also to educate our students in a more comprehensive way. Imran Nuri, a third-year Finance major, was on hand to talk about his own philanthropic experiences. He is currently president of BuckeyeThon and under his leadership, BuckeyeThon recently raised more... than $1.7 million to fight pediatric cancer. While this is a bit redundant, it is worth repeating. I like to clap every time I hear that.

Dr. Stone, our senior vice president for research, then highlighted the Research and Creative Expression pillar by recognizing the accomplishments of three faculty members. I would just highlight that these distinctions and recognitions are really at the top of the pyramid in terms of such recognitions and awards. He recognized Professor Rattan Lal for receiving the Japan Prize; Professor Dorota Grejner-Brzezinska for her election into the National Academy of Engineering; and Professor Arnab Nandi for his collaborative research with Honda. Dr. Stone also discussed extramural research funding, industry-funded R&D and the importance of using the breadth of the university strategically. Dr. Stone is standing up a new travel program to send faculty members to interact with funding agencies prior to solicitation. He is also increasing support for staffing in the Office of Sponsored Programs and working to multiply research impact by moving partnerships from transactional to interdependent approaches.

Next, Provost McPheron shared that Vice President and Chief Information Officer Mike Hofherr was — at the same time our meeting was taking place — taking two items for action to the Finance Committee related to efforts around the Digital Flagship and the Affordable Learning Exchange. Digital Flagship, a collaboration with Apple, is the university’s comprehensive digital learning initiative. This year, all incoming first-year students received iPads and related technology, which represents the largest-ever deployment of learning technology in university history. Faculty members are also using this technology to innovate in their classrooms; a coding curriculum is under development; and a mobile design lab will be unveiled this spring. The Affordable Learning Exchange includes several initiatives to reduce the cost of textbooks and course materials. It is on pace to save students more than $10 million by 2020. The program offers grants for faculty members to redesign their course materials and serves as a pilot initiative to provide students with digital textbooks that cost up to 80 percent less than traditional textbooks. We went to school too early, everyone.

The provost also announced the recent launch of the Sustainability Institute, which will be responsible for coordinating and enhancing the university’s strong presence in the sustainability realm. More than 600 faculty and researchers are already engaged with the institute’s work and, since 2015, the university has hired 60 new faculty to join our sustainability efforts. To give you an idea of the scope, Ohio State offers 340 courses that focus on sustainability issues, more than 700 additional courses featuring sustainability topics and more than 70 student organizations focused on aspects of sustainability. We are extremely proud of these efforts.

Provost McPheron then recommended a series of faculty personnel actions, including appointments, reappointments, faculty professional leave requests and emeritus status requests. He welcomed Gil Latz, the new vice provost for global strategies, and introduced Kay Wolf as senior vice president and Ryan Schmiesing as vice provost for outreach and engagement. He also acknowledged the appointment of Johanna Burton as the new director of the Wexner Center for the Arts, and thanked Mrs. Wexner for her support and service on the search committee.
Dr. Adams-Gaston requested the approval of amendments to the Code of Student Conduct that relate to the following — the university’s jurisdiction over any student activity that could constitute a criminal offense, whether on or off campus, while a student at the university; issues of honesty, for example, if a class is retaken, students may not turn in the same materials; policies related to handguns and keeping them inside a car; and policies related to posting any material online that attacks others.

Finally, the provost requested approval of degrees and certificates for distribution at Spring Commencement, which will be held on May 5. This includes a request for two posthumous degrees, one for a student in Food Science and the other for a student in Chemical Engineering.

After approving these items for action, which appear on our consent agenda today, the committee recessed into executive session. That concludes my lengthy but exciting report, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you. Any questions for Clark?

President Drake:

I have a couple comments. First, that was a great report and it got to the heart of what we do. One thing that I mentioned to the board yesterday — an organization called Times Higher Education from the UK does worldwide surveys of universities in a variety of areas. One survey they use looks at the universities in the United States and ranks those that produce the most job-ready graduates. The top nine are mostly Ivy schools, like Harvard, with Stanford and Duke. No. 10 was UC-Berkeley. The next six were small, elite private universities. Very proudly, No. 17 on the list was The Ohio State University. That is a great reflection on us, coming from a group that does this full time in England. There were two large public universities in the top 17 — UC-Berkeley and The Ohio State University — which is a great reflection of the work that we do.

I also wanted to mention that Laila Ujayli, who was one of the women speaking about her Ohio State experience in the video we saw earlier, is also a Rhodes Scholar and a tremendous student. She is the seventh Rhodes Scholar in our history, and the second in the last three years. The quality of our students — and the recognition that the world has about how ready they are to make the world a better place — is very special.

Mr. Fischer:

By my calculation, that basically makes us No. 1 among public institutions in producing graduates that are ready for the workplace. Columbus and the central Ohio community lead the country in job creation, but it would not be possible without this talent pipeline. There may be no greater evidence of a land-grant institution contributing to its state and the state’s economy by producing graduates who are ready to go to work. So I’m going to put an exclamation point around being one of the very top public institutions in the country in that workplace-readiness factor.
Mr. Gasser:

It all ties together, doesn’t it? Thank you, Clark. Mr. Smucker, Finance?

Finance

Mr. Smucker:

Yes, Mr. Chairman. The Finance Committee met yesterday. During the meeting, three items were presented for discussion. Mr. Papadakis presented the strategic plan update and focused on progress that has been made in the Operational Excellence and Resource Stewardship pillar. The university has made significant progress since 2015, generating more than $1 billion in new resources and efficiency savings that are being used to support student financial aid, teaching excellence and other academic priorities. Mr. Papadakis and his team are focused on continuing that momentum to fuel Ohio State’s academic mission.

Mr. Papadakis and Ms. Devine then presented the consolidated university and Wexner Medical Center financial scorecards through January 2019. The metrics demonstrate the university’s strong financial position, with consolidated revenue ahead of budget for the year to date, and expenses close to plan. All metrics on the consolidated financial scorecard were green, with the exception of three metrics. Two of those areas are affected by volatility in the current investment markets — Change in Net Assets and the Three-Year Return for the Long-Term Investment Pool. In addition, our Total Expenses are marked yellow, primarily because of growth in the health system.

Mr. Hofherr then presented an update on the Digital Flagship and the Affordable Learning Exchange initiatives that, as Clark already mentioned, are enhancing learning at the university and increasing affordability for students.

The Finance Committee then discussed seven items for action, including two associated with Mr. Hofherr’s report. First, the university is seeking approval to acquire iPads for first-year students at all campuses who will start in the next academic year. The university is finalizing negotiations with Apple, but is seeking approval for an agreement in which the terms will be the same or better than last year’s lease on a per-student basis. The total cost over four years will not exceed $13.8 million.

Next, the university is seeking to extend the digital textbook affordability pilot through summer and fall 2019. The existing pilot saved students more than $217,000 this spring, and total savings for the expanded program is expected to exceed $1 million over the first year of the Carmen Books pilot.

We reviewed proposed ticket prices for men’s basketball games in the 2019-20 season, which would continue to use the university’s variable pricing model. Student ticket prices would be unchanged at $9 per game, and most other seats will cost the same or less than they do for the current season. Tickets for non-students would cost $7 to $28 for non-conference games, $10 to $45 for conference games and $14 to $57 for premier games.
And finally, the Finance Committee also reviewed four items that have already been discussed by Mrs. Wexner and Mr. Fischer related to professional services and construction contracts; the acquisition and development of real property in Dublin; and the long-term lease and purchase option with Campus Partners for WOSU Public Media’s new home.

These resolutions were approved by the Finance Committee and are included on the consent agenda today. The committee then met in executive session. That concludes my report, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you. Questions for Tim and the Finance Committee? There is a lot of hard work being done there, Tim, so thank you.

Mr. Shumate, Governance?

Governance

Mr. Shumate:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. The Governance Committee met earlier this morning and, like the other committees, we began with a strategic plan update. Our Chief Strategy Officer Gail Marsh began our meeting with a discussion regarding our first year of the implementation of the strategic plan. I would refer all of the board members to the infographic Ms. Marsh shared with our committee, which highlights the achievements and accomplishments of the first year of our strategic planning implementation process.

Considering the integral role this board played in the development of the plan, I am very proud to see how thoroughly it is being implemented and executed. We are truly standing at the doorway of transformational change for Ohio State with university records in applications, graduation rates, academic excellence, diversity, donor support and more. To continue to be successful in our aspiration of being a leading national flagship public research university, good governance requires us as a board to lead, guide and support the university and its ongoing strategic planning efforts. As a best practice, this plan should be revisited annually to make sure we are still on the right track. I am sure I speak for the entire board when I say the future seems very bright for The Ohio State University.

Second on our agenda was an update from our undergraduate student trustee, Jordan Moseley, about our annual student trustee selection process. Since the November board meeting, the selection committee conducted a review of student trustee applications, evaluating them against a rubric that focused on each individual’s academic strength, commitment to service and intellectual curiosity, just to name a few of the criteria. Later today, the board will meet the top 10 candidates at a trustee mixer. This is a wonderful opportunity to interact with the applicants in an informal setting while they learn about the governance role of the Board of Trustees. Tomorrow, each of these top candidates will have thorough interviews with the selection committee, and they will ultimately recommend five candidates to Governor DeWine for final selection.
Finally, we had one item for action — the resolution to ratify committee appointments. The updated roster is at your seats and reflects the assignments of Liza Kessler to the Talent & Compensation, Audit & Compliance and Academic Affairs & Student Life committees; Gary Heminger to the Master Planning & Facilities, Audit & Compliance, Finance and Governance committees; and Alec Wightman to the Advancement Committee as one of the Foundation Board representatives.

After approving this resolution, the committee met in executive session, and that concludes my report, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Gasser:

Thank you. Questions for Alex and the Governance Committee? Very good job Alex, thank you very much.

CONSENT AGENDA

Mr. Gasser:

That brings us to the consent agenda. President Drake, would you like to present it to the board, please?

President Drake:

Thank you, Chairman Gasser. Today we have 25 resolutions on the consent agenda. We will hold a separate vote for item No. 25. There are three hand-carried resolutions on this list. Copies of these resolutions have been placed at your seats and we also have copies available for the public.

To begin, we are seeking approval of the following:

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 2019-56

Michael W. Browne

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on October 10, 2018, of Michael W. Browne, Professor Emeritus of both Psychology and Statistics in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Browne was born in Johannesburg, South Africa. He earned his BA and MS degrees from the University of the Witwatersrand and a PhD from the University of South Africa. He served as a professor at the University of South Africa until 1991, when he joined the faculty at Ohio State with a joint appointment in Psychology and Statistics.
Dr. Browne specialized in the application of statistical models to data collected in the social sciences, in particular to tests of academic achievement and health behavior. This activity is designed to better understand, for example, how children learn in school and how patients respond to medical treatment.

Dr. Browne was one of the most influential scientists of his generation in this specialty. Among the specific methods he developed are factor analysis, structural equation models and structured latent growth curves. In addition to these statistical procedures, he also developed a related and equally valuable body of work in estimation theory and computing algorithms.

He published more than 100 articles, book chapters and sponsored research reports, which have been cited by other scholars more than 50,000 times. His research received support from the National Institutes of Health and the National Science Foundation. He received several honors, including the Roger E. Kirk Scholarship from Ohio State as well as commendations for scientific achievement from the Psychometric Society and the Society of Multivariate Experimental Psychology. In both of these societies, he served as the organization's president.

During his career, Dr. Browne served as the PhD advisor to 14 students, almost all while at Ohio State, and was co-advisor to many other graduate students who are active in universities and private businesses nationwide. He was most proud, however, of the professional careers of his two distinguished sons, Drs. David and Andrew Browne.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Michael W. Browne its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board's heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

Donald Bolon Cooper

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on December 11, 2018, of Donald Bolon Cooper, Professor Emeritus in the Department of History.

Dr. Cooper was born in Columbus, Ohio, and was a proud graduate of North High School, class of 1949. He served four years in the U.S. Navy during the Korean War, including one year aboard the USS Currier (DE-700); one year at Naval Hospital Corps School; service at the Balboa U.S. Naval Hospital in San Diego, California; and a two-year deployment to the U.S. Marine Corps at Fleet Marine Headquarters in Pearl Harbor. He was discharged on November 19, 1954, as Hospital Corpsman, Second Class.

After Dr. Cooper completed his military service, he attended The Ohio State University. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he graduated from Ohio State in 1957 with a BA in History. He went on to receive the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for graduate study of Latin American History at the University of Texas, Austin, where he earned his MA in 1958 and his PhD in 1963.

Following graduate school, Dr. Cooper completed a one-year fellowship with The Doherty Foundation, researching and archiving the early history of epidemics in Mexico.

Dr. Cooper taught Latin American History for more than 40 years, first at Oklahoma State University (1961-63), then at Tulane University (1963-69) and finally at Ohio State (1969-2002). Dr. Cooper was very active in the Ohio State community. He was a member of the Torch Club, as well as The Ohio State University Retirees Association, where he served on the Executive Board and was the group’s historian.

He was also active outside of Ohio State. Dr. Cooper was a member of First Community Church, and his hobbies included classical music, Cincinnati Reds baseball, spending time with his grandchildren and making homemade wine from fruit gathered at his cottage in northern Wisconsin.

Dr. Cooper was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Ellen Hutchins Cooper; brother, Charles William Cooper; and parents, Charles Dolman and Gladys Bolon Cooper. He is survived by his sister, sister-in-law, three children, nine grandchildren, three step-grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Donald Bolon Cooper its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

Felix P. Kollaritsch

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on January 27, 2019, of Felix P. Kollaritsch, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Accounting and Management Information Systems.

Professor Kollaritsch served on the faculty at Ohio State from 1962 until his retirement in 1990. He was a recognized expert in cost accounting, controllership and accounting theory, and possessed deep insights into public and industrial accounting. He twice served as chair of the Department of Accounting, first in 1974 and later in 1984. His research and insights were published nationally and internationally, and while at Ohio State, Professor Kollaritsch authored the 1968 book Opinions, Scholastic Rankings and Professional Progress of Accounting Graduates.

He proudly served his department, college and the university through participation in and leadership of several key committees and organizations. In particular, he chaired the College Research Committee, the Professorship and Named Professorship Search Committees, the Accounting Curriculum Committee, the Accounting PhD Committee, the Master of Accounting Committee and numerous internal review committees.
Born in Graz, Austria, Professor Kollaritsch arrived in the United States as an exchange student at the University of Texas. At Ohio State, he helped foster students’ focus on global perspectives, serving as the faculty advisor of the university's chapter of the Association for the International Education of Students in Economics and Commerce.

Professor Kollaritsch also served the accounting field generously. As a member of the American Accounting Association, he chaired its Management Accounting Committee, its National Member Committee and he was vice president of the organization’s Ohio region. He served two terms as vice president of the National Accounting Association and he belonged to the American Institute of CPAs.

Locally, Professor Kollaritsch was director of the Ohio Society of CPAs and served as leader of the Columbus chapter. Prior to arriving at Ohio State, he was a CPA in Indiana and a member of the Indiana Association of CPAs.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Felix P. Kollaritsch its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

Stanley K. Laughlin Jr.

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on October 20, 2018, of Stanley K. Laughlin Jr., Professor Emeritus of Law in the Moritz College of Law and Adjunct Professor of Anthropology.

Professor Laughlin served on The Ohio State University faculty from 1968 until his retirement in 2012. He taught Constitutional Law, Foreign Relations Law, Anthropology and Law, Ethical Issues of the Professions, Law and Religion, Law and Society, Evidence, Economic Regulation and Criminal Law.

He earned his undergraduate degree from Miami University and served three years as an officer in the U.S. Navy on the aircraft carrier USS Oriskany (CV-34). Following his military service, Professor Laughlin pursued a law degree at Ohio State, where he served as editor-in-chief of The Ohio State Law Journal and became a member of the Order of the Coif, a national honorary scholastic society for lawyers. He graduated first in his class in 1960.

Following law school, Professor Laughlin practiced with Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP in Los Angeles, California. However, Professor Laughlin would eventually follow his love of the law into teaching. He was a teaching fellow at the University of Michigan and taught at the University of Florida before joining the faculty at Ohio State. He also served as a visiting professor at the University of Hawaii and as a CLEO professor at Indiana, Kentucky and Notre Dame.

In addition to teaching, he conducted empirical legal research in American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Fiji, the Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands and the Republic of Samoa. Professor Laughlin was especially interested in Constitutional Law and focused his research on studying the application of the Constitution to the U.S. territories, eventually publishing the leading textbook on the subject.

In 2004 and 2005, Professor Laughlin held appointments as a visiting scholar at the University of Hawai'i’s William S. Richardson School of Law. He also served as the director of Moritz’s Oxford Pre-Law Program in 1998, 1999 and 2004. Professor Laughlin helped design, direct and teach for the Continuing Legal Education program at the University of Oxford as well.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Stanley K. Laughlin Jr. its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. Dr. Moeschberger earned a BS degree in Mathematics and Chemistry from Taylor University, an MS degree in Mathematics from Ohio University and a PhD in Statistics from North Carolina State University.

After teaching at the University of Missouri for 10 years, Dr. Moeschberger accepted a position at Ohio State in 1980, where he served the College of Public Health as an associate professor of biostatistics for 27 years. Dr. Moeschberger was acclaimed for his work in the field of survival analysis, publishing several books, including Survival Analysis: Techniques for Censored and Truncated Data. He was most passionate, however, about helping students to recognize their true potential.

During his tenure, Dr. Moeschberger also served as chair of several public health divisions, including Biostatistics and Epidemiology. He was instrumental in the creation of the Center for Biostatistics and Bioinformatics at Ohio State. In recognition of his lifetime of research, teaching and professional service, he was elected a Fellow of the American Statistical Association in 2006.

John Francis Underwood

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on October 31, 2018, of John Francis Underwood, Professor Emeritus with OSU Extension in the College of Food, Agricultural and Environmental Sciences.

Professor Underwood completed his undergraduate studies at Michigan State University and earned his MS in Agronomy from Cornell University in 1952. After college, he served in the U.S. Army and attained the rank of corporal. He was stationed at Fort Detrick, in Frederick, Maryland — where he met Roxie, his beloved wife of 63 years — and in St. Croix on the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Following his military service, Professor Underwood served as an agronomist and professor for The Ohio State University for more than 23 years, basing his work from the Area Research Station in Jackson, Ohio. His work focused on no-till crop production, reclaiming strip-mined land for crop production and eliminating multiflora rose from southern and eastern Ohio hillsides.

His professional activities kept him busy, as he was active in the Jackson-Vinton Farm Bureau, the American Legion Post 81 and the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. In his spare time, Professor Underwood was an active member of Christ United Methodist Church in Jackson, a member of the Michigan State University alumni marching band, a PTA officer and Girl Scout leader, and a United Methodist Men’s group member. He also helped Roxie care for the city trees and the church landscaping.

Professor Underwood continually sought to expand his knowledge base, regularly attending farm management, pesticide education, pesticide safety and insect identification workshops. He also worked on the North Central Region Dow Chemical Company 10-Day Study Tour, the state’s Environmental Quality Recognition Program and an energy program funded in part by the Ohio Department of Energy.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor John Francis Underwood its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. BACKGROUND

AUTHORIZATION OF ADDITIONAL SCHEDULES TO MASTER EQUIPMENT LEASE WITH APPLE INC.

In October 2017, Ohio State announced the Digital Flagship University, a comprehensive, university-wide digital learning initiative in collaboration with Apple. In line with the strategic plan, Digital Flagship supports educational innovation for students and economic development opportunities for the community. There are three main components:

- a student-success initiative to integrate learning technology throughout the university experience, including the distribution of an iPad Pro learning technology suite to new first-year students at the Columbus and regional campuses, which started in fall 2018.

- an iOS design laboratory on the Columbus campus serving faculty, staff, students and members of the broader community. A 35-foot bus will be the first Digital Flagship Mobile Design Lab. Programming will launch in March 2019, providing opportunities to learn about mobile app development, coding, digital creativity, enhancing professional skills, how to take an app idea to market, and how to translate technology skills into future career pathways across a wide range of disciplines.

- university-wide opportunities to learn coding skills to enhance students’ career readiness in the app economy. We are developing an online four-course sequence in coding to provide students the opportunity to earn skills-based coding certification from both Ohio State and Apple. The first course in the sequence, planned for May 2019, targets Ohio State students, faculty, or staff who want to learn to code. The course will be available at no cost to the participant. The full certificate program will be available in the 2019-20 academic year.

The learning technology suite to be provided to new first-year students entering in 2019-20 will include the following bundle as well as apps that support learning and campus life:

- 10.5-inch iPad Pro Wi-Fi 256GB
- Apple Pencil for iPad Pro
- Smart Keyboard
- STM Dux Shell Case
- 3-Year AppleCare+ for iPad

Ohio State obtained the learning technology bundle listed above for the 2018-19 cohort by entering into a Master Lease Agreement with Apple, Inc. This year, the university will finance the cost of the leased Apple bundle products in an aggregate amount not to exceed $13,782,200 by entering into additional schedules pursuant to the lease which provide for four (4) annual lease payments commencing in spring 2019. This year’s leased bundle will exclude the STM Dux Shell Case as the university will acquire the case under separate procurement. The university will own and service the devices during students’ undergraduate careers at Ohio State.

The Digital Flagship distributes devices to Columbus campus students during orientation, with opportunities to leverage this technology throughout the two-day experience. At regional campuses, the university distributed through orientation events, convocation activities and during first-week survey courses.

The university has made significant progress on other elements of the Digital Flagship initiative, including:

- Student technology: 11,441 Ohio State students received a Digital Flagship student technology package. More than 90 percent of the distributed iPads are concurrently active (used within 24 hours) at any given time and less than 1 percent of students reported an incident (this includes a damage/cracked screen).

- Student Learning: More than 750 students attended a Digital Flagship event in Autumn 2018. Sessions were offered on all campuses focusing on study skills, note-taking strategies, time... management, digital creativity, app training and app development basics. More than 3,450 students enrolled in Digital Flagship-enhanced course offerings in Autumn 2018 and Spring 2019.

- Faculty & Staff Engagement: By the end of March, more than 300 faculty and staff members will have participated in the Digital Flagship Educators program. This includes more than 240 faculty and staff from all campuses receiving the technology package, digital literacy trainings and course design support. All regional advisors and half of Columbus campus undergraduate advisors have participated in the program. Another 65 faculty and staff members are registered for Spring 2019 and Digital Flagship Educators is a “Teaching Endorsement” program through the University Institute for Teaching and Learning.

- App Development: The Ohio State Discover app launched in May 2018 to instruct students on utilizing their iPad, support orientation and the first-year experience, provide access to activities and resources, promote student organizations, and offer access to a brand-new degree planning tool. There have been more than 8,000 article and tutorial views, with the top areas of interest being career development, wellness, instructional support and app challenges. The app, designed by Ohio State students and staff in collaboration with Apple, was developed by the university. The second Apple app design collaboration occurred in January, focusing on ways to enhance access to mental health wellness and crisis prevention resources.
As part of Ohio State’s focus on access, affordability and excellence, the university regularly reviews opportunities to simplify fees and reduce costs for students.

Effective Spring Semester 2019, the university introduced a textbook affordability pilot to reduce the cost of course materials by up to 80 percent in nine courses. In the inclusive access pilot, the university replaced conventional textbooks in participating courses with digital materials available at steeply discounted rates. A digital textbook fee, which is a pass-through charge, covered the cost of these materials. The cost is visible when students sign up for an inclusive access course and is paid for along with tuition and fees, ensuring that students have access to their materials on Day One of class.

Request of The Board of Trustees:

Approval of the attached resolution.
The university has piloted an inclusive access approach to provide students with digital course materials, which are proven to reduce costs by up to 80 percent and enhance learning outcomes. Students are charged a pass-through digital textbook fee, which is based on the cost of materials.

Under Ohio State’s inclusive access program, called CarmenBooks, all students receive digital access to course materials on Day One of class through Unizin’s Engage eReader.

Ohio State tested Engage in Fall Semester 2018 and in Spring Semester 2019, the university piloted CarmenBooks in nine courses. Students were notified of the discounted digital textbook cost during their course registration and paid the associated digital textbook fee as part of their tuition and fees.

The university has seen significant results from the pilot: 1,606 students participated from 12 courses in 2 colleges and resulted in savings of $217,173. These exceeded the projected enrollment by 156 students and the projected savings by $20,705.

The university seeks to extend the CarmenBooks initiative in Summer Term 2019 and Autumn Semester 2019. If approved, the university anticipates the expanded pilot will impact 11,500 students from 32 courses in 9 colleges/departments, and result in more than $865,000 in savings.

Overall during the first year of CarmenBooks (Spring 2018 through Autumn 2019), students will have saved more than $1 million.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF TRUSTEES
FINANCE COMMITTEE

February 21, 2019

TOPIC: Men’s Basketball Ticket Prices

CONTEXT:
The Ohio State University Department of Athletics continues to be one of only 13 self-sustaining athletic programs across the nation. Currently, the Department of Athletics funds more than 1,100 student-athletes in successful endeavors of academic achievement and athletics competitions, with a Graduation Success Rate of 89 percent. Yearly, the Department of Athletics contributes more than $30 million back to the institution’s academic mission. Funds generated from ticket sales are used to sustain the scholarships for over 625 student-athletes.

The Department of Athletics first introduced premier-game pricing in 2013, and beginning with the 2017-2018 basketball season adopted an expanded variable pricing model for all individual game tickets, while implementing percentage discounts for public season ticket purchasers and faculty and staff season ticket purchasers. This pricing model provides a fluid pricing structure to align to market demands, offers significantly more choice for ticket purchasers, and has contributed to successfully increasing both sales and attendance. The Athletic Council and university administrators recommend continuation of these pricing guidelines.

RECOMMENDATION:
For Men’s Basketball tickets:

- Price the individual games according to exhibition, non-conference, conference or premier opponent categorization, with a maximum of five games categorized as premier.
- Expand the configuration of scaling the arena seating from four price zones to six price zones.
- Assign the individual game and season ticket pricing for the 2019-2020 men’s basketball season as indicated in the following table.

CONSIDERATIONS:
Men’s Basketball Tickets:

- Variable ticket pricing is widely used by other Big Ten institutions and various athletic programs across the country, provides better access and affordability for fans and has been successful at Ohio State since it was first introduced for the 2013-2014 season.
• The current season ticket discounts will remain — approx. 12% off the aggregate total price of the individual game tickets for the public and 20% off the aggregate total price for faculty and staff.
• The student ticket price will remain at $9 for all opponent categories.
• Two new price zones will be established in the lower level seating with a slight increase in pricing, while upper level seating zones will have prices either reduced or remaining static.
• Premier games for previous seasons have been designated as follows:
  o 2014-2015 season: Marquette, Michigan and Wisconsin o 2015-2016 season: Virginia, Maryland and Michigan State
  o 2016-2017 season: Connecticut, Michigan State, Wisconsin and Indiana
  o 2017-2018 season: Michigan, Michigan State, Maryland and Indiana
  o 2018-2019 season: Syracuse, Michigan State, Purdue and Wisconsin
• The schedule for the 2019-2020 season has not yet been determined.

APPROVAL FOR PURCHASE AND POTENTIAL SALE OF UNIMPROVED REAL PROPERTY

SHIER RINGS ROAD
DUBLIN, FRANKLIN COUNTY, OHIO

Background

The Ohio State University’s Wexner Medical Center (WMC) seeks to acquire vacant land for development of an additional ambulatory care facility in Franklin County, Ohio. Acquisition of this land supports the WMC’s ambulatory care strategy, which is in turn a key component of the WMC Strategic Plan and its mission to improve health in Ohio and across the world through innovation in research, education and patient care.

As partial consideration for the city of Dublin’s (Dublin) agreement to transfer and convey ownership of the property to the university pursuant to the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement, Dublin and the university have agreed that under certain limited circumstances following the closing of the sale and conveyance of the property from Dublin to the university, Dublin may elect to have the university reconvey the property to Dublin after payment of the original purchase price by Dublin to OSU. This agreement will be memorialized in a Property Reconveyance Escrow Agreement (PREA) to be signed simultaneously with the Economic Development Agreement (EDA) and the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement.

Location and Description

The property is located along US 33 and Shier Rings Road, Dublin, Ohio. The site consists of approximately 34 +/- acres located within the City of Dublin (Dublin). Dublin will be responsible for installation and construction of public infrastructure improvements identified in the Economic Development Agreement, which is the subject of an additional board resolution request.

Property History

The 34 +/- acre undeveloped site is comprised of three parcel numbers owned by Dublin. Upon acquisition by The Ohio State University, the property will be titled to the State of Ohio and will require State legislative approval for sale. After the execution and delivery of the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement and the EDA, the university will seek State legislative approval for the sale, will obtain an executed Governor’s Deed, and the Governor’s Deed will be held in escrow pursuant to the terms of the PREA.

Purchase of Property and Potential Sale

WMC recommends that the 34 +/- acres of unimproved real property described above be acquired on terms and conditions that are in the best interest of the university and at a price determined to be fair market value for the property. The source of funding for the acquisition and subsequent development of the property will be the Wexner Medical Center. WMC further recommends authorization to sell the land under terms and conditions outlined in the PREA.
 APPROVAL FOR EXECUTION OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT

SHIER RINGS ROAD
DUBLIN, FRANKLIN COUNTY, OHIO

Background
The Ohio State University’s Wexner Medical Center (WMC) seeks to acquire vacant land for development of an additional ambulatory care facility in Franklin County, Ohio. Acquisition of this land supports the WMC’s ambulatory care strategy, which is in turn a key component of the WMC Strategic Plan and its mission to improve health in Ohio and across the world through innovation in research, education and patient care. Simultaneous with the execution of the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Contract for the acquisition of the land, the parties will execute an Economic Development Agreement (EDA), which memorializes, among other items, agreements regarding certain public infrastructure work to be performed by the city of Dublin (Dublin) and municipal income tax incentives to be paid to The Ohio State University (OSU).

Location and Description
The property is located along U.S. 33 and Shier Rings Road in Dublin, Ohio. The site consists of approximately 34 +/- acres located within Dublin.

The EDA contains provisions pertaining to project development, public improvements, and municipal income tax incentives:

- Infrastructure – OSU is responsible for paying the cost of and constructing on-site improvements and will contribute a proportionate share to additional public improvements in the immediate vicinity, which will provide support to OSU’s development, as specifically outlined in the EDA.
- Municipal Income – OSU is entitled to certain economic development incentives as outlined in the EDA.
- Adjacent Properties being retained by city of Dublin – OSU imposes certain use restrictions as outlined in the EDA.

Property History
The 34 +/- acre undeveloped site is comprised of three parcel numbers owned by the city of Dublin.

Execution of Agreement
Wexner Medical Center and University leadership recommend that the Board of Trustees authorize the university to enter into the Economic Development Agreement upon the terms set forth above and as otherwise deemed to be in the best interest of the university. The source of funding for the acquisition and subsequent development of the property will be the Wexner Medical Center.
AUTHORIZATION TO ENTER INTO A LONG-TERM LEASE AND PURCHASE OPTION

14TH AVENUE AND PEARL STREET, COLUMBUS, OHIO

Background

The Ohio State University, on behalf of WOSU Public Media (WOSU), seeks authorization to enter into a long-term lease and purchase option with Campus Partners for Community Urban Redevelopment (Campus Partners), through its wholly owned subsidiary Redstone Realty Company, LLC (Redstone), for certain property and a newly constructed building to be located at the corner of 14th Avenue and Pearl Street.

The majority of WOSU’s office and production spaces are presently confined to the basement of the Fawcett Center. This 48-year-old facility has neither the space nor the infrastructure to meet the needs of a 21st century media organization. In order for WOSU to reach its service potential, a new home is desired that properly reflects its mission to engage, inform and inspire.

Project Summary

WOSU believes that such a space for its new home can be constructed on the east side of High Street as part of the planned new 15 + High development, and would boast an open environment with ample space for collaboration, connectivity and innovation. In addition, the new building will include a new media lab for creative experiments and research; a performance space; and a community studio for local programming developed by WOSU and The Ohio State University faculty, staff and students. With these new amenities in place, WOSU projects that it will be able to grow its 1 million monthly users and 26,000 annual members by providing more local programming and educational services as media continues to transform in the coming years. Most importantly, because the new space will be built at the nexus of campus and community, the new location will allow WOSU to strengthen the organization’s standing as a long-term university/community asset capable of engaging minds, enriching lives and evolving to meet the ever-changing needs of the population it serves.

Under the thirty (30) year lease, it is the obligation of Redstone to construct the new building. Construction is estimated to begin in spring 2019 with the planned opening occurring October 2020. In accordance with the terms of the lease, the university will reimburse Redstone for such construction costs. Further, this lease will be a triple net lease and all costs associated with the lease and ongoing operating expenses will be the responsibility of WOSU. Through philanthropy and earned revenue opportunities, WOSU has raised more than $17 million to date for this building. The proposed lease grants to the university a purchase option on the property, together with a right of first refusal and a right of first offer.

Location and Description of Proposed Project

The proposed development is an approximately 52,000 square foot, 4-story building to be located at the northeast corner of 14th Avenue and Pearl Street as part of the planned new 15 + High development.

Authorization Requested

Authorization is requested to enter into a long-term lease and purchase option of a ± 52,000 square foot office building to be located at the northeast corner of 14th Avenue and Pearl Street, upon such terms and conditions that are deemed to be in the best interest of the university.

CHAPTER 3335-23 CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT
As of September 2, 2016

3335-23-01 Introduction and purpose.

The code of student conduct, a part of the Ohio Administrative Code, is established to foster and protect the core missions of the university; to foster the scholarly and civic development of the university’s students in a safe and secure learning environment, and to protect the people, properties and processes that support the university and its missions. The core missions of the university are research, teaching and learning, and service. Preservation of academic freedom and free and open exchange of ideas and opinions for all members of the university are central to these missions.

(Board approval date: 4/6/2012)

3335-23-02 Jurisdiction.

The code applies to the on-campus conduct of all students and registered student organizations, including conduct using university computing or network resources. The code also applies to the off-campus conduct of students and registered student organizations in direct connection with:

(A) Academic course requirements or any credit bearing experiences, such as internships, field trips, study abroad, or student teaching;

(B) Any activity supporting pursuit of a degree, such as research at another institution or a professional practice assignment;

(C) Any activity sponsored, conducted, or authorized by the university or by registered student organizations;

(D) Any activity that causes substantial destruction of property belonging to the university or members of the university community, or causes or threatens serious harm to the safety or security of members of the university community, or creates or could reasonably create a hostile environment on campus as defined in the sexual misconduct policy; or

(E) Any activity in which a police report has been filed, a summons or indictment has been issued, or an arrest has occurred for a crime of violence could constitute a criminal offense as defined by local, state or federal law, regardless of the existence or outcome of any criminal proceeding.

The code may be applied to behavior conducted online, via e-mail, text, or other electronic medium. Students should also be aware that online postings such as web postings and social networking sites are in the public sphere and are not private. These postings can subject a student to allegations of conduct violations if evidence of policy violations is posted online. The university does not routinely search for violations of this code, but may take action if and when such information comes to the attention of university officials.

Students or a registered student organization may also be held accountable for their guest’s or member’s behavior when the student or members of the registered student organization has knowledge of, facilitates, or contributes to the guest’s or member’s misconduct.

The code governs all campuses of the university. However, students attending regional campuses, centers, or institutes are advised to consult their local resources for additional information or rules pertaining to those locations, which may create hearing bodies or processes for the locations, consistent with these rules.

The university reserves the right to administer the code and proceed with the hearing process even if the student withdraws from the university, is no longer enrolled in classes, or subsequently fails to meet the definition of a student while a disciplinary matter is pending. The university may, within its discretion, place a hold or other notation on the student’s transcript while the matter is pending. The university may, within its discretion, place a hold or other notation on the student’s transcript while the matter is pending. Students continue to be subject to federal, state, and local laws while at the university, and violations of those laws may also constitute violations of the code. In such instances, the university may proceed with university disciplinary action under the code independently of any criminal proceeding involving the same conduct and may impose sanctions for violation of the code even if such criminal proceeding is not yet resolved or is resolved in the student’s favor.

SPRING COMMENCEMENT

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

MAY 5, 2019
If you’re like me, you’ve got a big head, not to mention a funny robe, full of music—poems and melodies, the tunes we move to, shower and shave by, study, write to. Not just the incidental.

but the momentous music keeping time. Our histories are measures of song. Listen to your heart: drums of Africa, sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho’s honeyed love lyrics. Often, music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolfo in Puccini’s La Bohème, Sono un poeta. I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony is loud music—pomp and circumstance of the life you began freshman year or that first day of graduate school. In my head I press Play, and the CD of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger over moments too sweet, nearly, for words. I’ll never escape rhymes from the nursery. Up above the world so high, like a diamond in the sky. We knew from the start of the life you began freshman year (King of what, butter sandwiches?)

Italian, Latin, English songs in nasal accents of Cleveland. Gaudeamus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can’t comprehend while we’re young. This ceremony means you all are less young than you were. Don’t let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth; to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades. Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King (King of what, fried batter sandwiches?) who stole away her hound dog. You ain’t never killed a rabbit, you ain’t no friend of mine. As with those pros and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—kill some rabbits—to earn respect.

And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford, “Sixteen Tons”: St. Peter don’t you call me ‘Cause I can’t go. I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno’s fervent urging to wish, sing, fly. Volare, Wo-oo. Cantare, Wo-o-o. My grandfather was a peasant farmer, a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it’s the human lot to dream of flying. Lucky, lucky, lucky me, I’m a lucky son-of-a-gun. I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours, That leaves eight hours for fun.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere, or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even, President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport. You’re bound for emigration to the next song of your life, Ohio State is the ark on which you’ve been sailing. You’ve been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing with the diversity of us. Diversity.

Networks and talk shows devalue the word. (continued on inside back cover)

A journalist, political scientist and distinguished author, Dr. Fareed Zakaria enriches the national dialogue and advances public awareness of global and domestic affairs. He is the host of “Fareed Zakaria GPS” on CNN Worldwide, a columnist for The Washington Post and a contributing editor for The Atlantic.

Originally from Mumbai, India, Dr. Zakaria came to the United States in the 1980s to earn a bachelor’s degree from Yale University and a PhD in political science from Harvard University. Since that time, he has worked in numerous capacities and mediums, including editor of Newsweek International, managing editor of Foreign Affairs, a columnist for Time magazine, an analyst for ABC News and host of “Foreign Exchange with Fareed Zakaria” on PBS.

He is the author of three New York Times best-selling books: In Defense of a Liberal Education, a commentary on the importance of a well-rounded education; The Post-American World, a discussion of the rise of non-Western powers; and The Future of Freedom, an in-depth study of the rise of illiberal democracies.

Since its debut in 2008, “Fareed Zakaria GPS” has become a preeminent public-affairs forum featuring interviews with U.S. presidents and military officials, foreign heads of state, business leaders and social commentators. The program received the prestigious Peabody Award in 2011 and an Emmy Award nomination in 2013.

Dr. Zakaria regularly hosts primetime specials for CNN Worldwide, such as “Blinded: How ISIS Shook the World,” “Why Trump Won” and “Putin: The Most Powerful Man in the World.” He also contributes his analysis of world events across CNN’s multiple platforms.

In 2017, Dr. Zakaria earned the Arthur Ross Media Award by the American Academy of Diplomacy. He has also been named a “Top 10 Global Thinker of the Last 10 Years” by Foreign Policy magazine and holds several honorary degrees.
A proud Buckeye and passionate future teacher, Melissa Martínez-Cuen graduates with her bachelor’s degree in early childhood education. Throughout her studies at The Ohio State University at Lima, she has exemplified the spirit of service and community engagement that has defined the university since its founding.

After growing up in Mexico, Ms. Martínez-Cuen did not speak English when she moved with her family to Paulding, Ohio, during high school. Yet with the support of friends and teachers, involvement in extracurricular activities and the positive attitude instilled in her by her parents, she and her younger sister quickly mastered their new language. The experience inspired her to pursue a career in education so that she might help others overcome obstacles to reach their full potential.

Ms. Martínez-Cuen enrolled at Ohio State Lima for the opportunity to earn a world-class education close to home and to build relationships within a smaller campus community. Seeking to model the behavior she hopes to inspire in her own students, she immersed herself in campus life — participating in and leading numerous student organizations.

In recognition of her leadership and engagement, she was named the student representative to the Ohio State Lima Advisory Board for the 2018–19 academic year, working alongside community and university leaders to guide the strategic direction of the campus. Ms. Martínez-Cuen also served on the campus-wide Diversity Committee, where she built bridges between her fellow students and the broader community.

She was honored to be crowned Ohio State Lima’s 2018 homecoming queen, a role that allowed her to give back through service and further strengthen the Buckeye community across the state.

Following graduation, Ms. Martínez-Cuen looks forward to shaping and inspiring young minds — and sharing her love for Ohio State — as an elementary school teacher in the Ottawa-Glandorf Local School District.

Nicholas “Nick” Frankowski is part of a proud Buckeye legacy. Following the path forged by his grandmother and his parents, Mr. Frankowski chose to attend The Ohio State University for its breadth and depth of opportunities.

Early in his college career, Mr. Frankowski learned that he had an affinity for public service and pursued experiences that enabled him to have a positive impact on the broader world. As a dual major in economics and political science, he joined the Politics, Society and Law Scholars Program during his first semester, which encouraged him to connect with other students and mentors dedicated to active citizenship.

Mr. Frankowski also led the Ohio State chapter of College Republicans, an experience that taught him the importance of listening to others. As chair, he and his administration worked to bridge political gaps and prioritize inclusive excellence. They met with student leaders and organizations across campus to facilitate an open dialogue about diversity, inclusion and politics while embracing different opinions and maintaining a cohesive environment.

His work for College Republicans has received national attention. He has been interviewed by NPR and Fox News, and had comments featured in The Atlantic, the California-based Sierra magazine, the Cincinnati Enquirer and other media outlets.

In addition to his accomplishments on campus, the Cincinnati, Ohio, native participated in internships in his hometown every summer, including one with Cincinnati City Council.

Mr. Frankowski is honored to be part of the Buckeye family and join the vast network of Ohio State alumni. After graduation, he will return to Cincinnati to begin an interdisciplinary position with Park National Bank. In that role and throughout his career, Mr. Frankowski plans to continue his work as a change agent who exemplifies Ohio State’s motto: “Education for Citizenship.”
George W. Acock

Distinguished Service Award

For nearly six decades, George W. Acock has been an engaged partner of The Ohio State University. His dedication to the university is evident through his remarkable architectural achievements and his unwavering support for new generations of Buckeyes at the Knowlton School of Architecture (KSA).

Mr. Acock aspired to become an architect from a young age. His pursuit of this ambition led him to Ohio State, where he earned his bachelor’s degree in architecture in 1963. Four years later, he founded Acock Associates Architects, one of the 10 largest architecture firms in the region, where he currently serves as president and principal-in-charge.

Acock Associates Architects has led the transformation of some of the most significant buildings on campus, including Thompson Library, Sullivant Hall and the newly renovated Pomerene Hall. Each of Mr. Acock’s projects exemplifies his devotion to his alma mater and his talent for preserving the grandeur of Ohio State’s most historic buildings.

In addition to these notable projects, Mr. Acock served KSA as a teacher, philanthropist, program designer and mentor — providing countless architecture students with real-world learning experiences. He established KSA’s Italy Program to facilitate broad cultural exchange by exposing students to the influence of ancient, medieval and Renaissance masters.

During her tenure with the Board of Trustees, Ms. Kass served on several notable committees, chairing both the Advancement Committee and the Academic Affairs and Student Life Committee — her engagement on the latter instrumental in the development of the Second-year Transformational Experience Program (STEP). She also co-led a sweeping effort to enhance the university’s marketing, fundraising and engagement activities by aligning key functions to maximize coordination and impact across the enterprise. She served as vice chair of the full board for the last two years of her term.

In addition to her board service, Ms. Kass is a dedicated supporter of countless programs at Ohio State — including several with a particular focus on creative expression.
Dr. William “Ted” McDaniel Jr. is a passionate promoter of jazz history, music performance, African American culture and inclusive excellence at The Ohio State University.

Hailing from the iconic Beale Street in Memphis, Tennessee, Dr. McDaniel’s appreciation for music was evident from the start. His passion shaped his educational pursuits as he went on to earn his bachelor’s degree from Morehouse College in Atlanta, Georgia, and his master’s degree and PhD in music from the University of Iowa.

Dr. McDaniel brought his expertise to Ohio State in 1981, holding joint faculty appointments in the School of Music as director of jazz studies and in the Department of African American and African Studies, where he served as department chair from 1989 to 1996. He worked tirelessly to promote a culture of inclusion and respect, and served as a mentor and advocate for his fellow faculty members.

He also served as director of the Ohio State Jazz Ensemble for 25 years. Under his leadership, the ensemble toured internationally at several of the most prestigious jazz festivals in Europe. His students have gone on to hold significant positions in some of the most respected bands, while others have written for major productions in film and television.

An influential composer-arranger in his own right, he has written over 200 arrangements for jazz and marching bands, including compositions for The Ohio State University Marching Band. In 2011, he served as the music conductor for the dedication of the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial in Washington, D.C.

Dr. McDaniel was the recipient of the Distinguished Teaching Award in 1987, the Distinguished Scholar Award in 1994, the Distinguished Diversity Enhancement Award in 2000 and a 2011 Faculty Award for Distinguished University Service.

He retired from Ohio State in 2015 and continues to serve the university community as faculty emeritus.
Dear Graduates:

Congratulations on earning the diploma soon to be in your hands. Few things are as satisfying as earning an education that is truly yours. This is a milestone achievement — one that gives the green light to begin your next chapter. While you anticipate what is ahead, also consider how much you have gained as an Ohio State student.

During your time on campus, you absorbed a great deal of knowledge, the true currency of today’s society. I hope that you were inspired inside a classroom, through a leadership position or by way of a research endeavor, and that we played a role in helping you discover your passion. As the years roll on, regardless of where life takes you, remember to cherish the friends you made here and the wisdom you gained.

Today is your day to celebrate, but it is also a day of gratitude — a time to thank your instructors, mentors, friends and family who helped you reach this pivotal moment. Whether they are sitting in the stands or congratulating you from afar, they have contributed to your success in many ways. So thank your loved ones for the brown-bag lunches that fueled you, and thank teachers for the resources that guided you. Much of what you have accomplished can be traced back to their support.

Many of you chose to attend Ohio State because you wanted to solve problems, change lives or make our world a better place — perhaps all three. Now, more than ever, our world needs ambitious, lifelong learners. Your unique ideas and diverse experiences will shape our future, and your accomplishments will be a positive force for change in communities around the globe. Congratulations, again, on becoming a Buckeye for life!

February 22, 2019, Board of Trustees Meeting

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably resulted in the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day. In light of our nation’s English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square — a shape that, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar’s book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master’s degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

- Graduate School (PhD): Gray
- (Others): Black
- College of Arts and Sciences:

On commencement day, Ohio State officials will be in continuous contact with the National Weather Service to monitor approaching weather. If it is feasible to delay the start of the ceremony and wait for clearing or less severe weather, the start of the ceremony may be delayed up to one hour. Should this happen, any changes will be announced on-site to graduates and guests. Graduates will remain in the assembly locations; guests are asked to remain in protected areas of Ohio Stadium. Your patience and cooperation will help facilitate this plan.

In case of cancellation

If it is determined that severe weather will not permit us to hold commencement, the ceremony will be canceled. Once cancellation has been announced, graduates should report to the following locations one hour after cancellation to receive their diplomas.

It is strongly advised that graduates and guests prearrange a meeting place in case the ceremony is canceled. Guests should not go to French Field House or RPAC where most diplomas will be distributed to graduates. St. John Arena and various locations on West Lane Avenue are some suggested meeting sites.

Diplomas will remain in the following locations until 4 p.m. on commencement day. Diplomas not picked up by 4 p.m. will be taken to Buckeye Link on the first floor of the Student Academic Services (SAS) building, 281 West Lane Avenue. Diplomas will be available for pick-up there between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., May 6–10. If a graduate’s diploma remains unclaimed after May 10, it will be mailed to the permanent address on record within two to four weeks of commencement. Graduates can verify/change their mailing addresses by navigating to the BuckeyeLink website at buckeyelink.osu.edu. Click on “My Student Center,” then scroll down to the “Personal Information” section to view the address. Click on the “Permanent Address” hyperlink if there is a need to edit it.

In case of inclement weather, every effort will be made to hold commencement as planned. Commencement will take place in Ohio Stadium, unless weather conditions are dangerous or severe, in which case the ceremony will be canceled. No indoor facility on campus can accommodate the graduating class and their guests.

POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

I say, rather, the richness of us, precious difference, the grand multiplicity of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—because my family labored long nights around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you’re sitting twenty-six years ago.
Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles!
My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history.
Now you, graduates, are being honored—by degrees. We’ve all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State.
Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we’ll sing together, Beautiful Ohio, in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78’s and 33’s, tapes, CD’s—they take up space in shelves of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing with pleasure or bathed in the blues.
We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul.
Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry is there. Drive, drive on down the field, Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park, and you searched our dark, ancient library for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary’s, father marched in the first “Script Ohio,” in 1936. He’s here today with us, blowing his horn, I can’t help but feel, as is the sweet mother
I lost last year, the one who gave me the stars. Today’s music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay.
So many of us would not be here were it not for the lullabyes and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs.
Some are here today in the flesh.
Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song.
When we sing to others, we honor our fathers and mothers, thank them for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance: O, come let’s sing Ohio’s praise; And songs to Alma Mater raise. Alma mater,
Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.
We came of age here, with her help.
Well, Mother, we love you, but, like,
it’s time we moved out, got a place of our own. You’re standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet from crying. We won’t forget you.
Now, even though this ceremony means we’re being weaned, taken off the nipple, let’s take care to cherish her al our days. Let’s remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We’ll remember always, Graduation Day. Summer’s heat, and winter’s cold. The seasons pass;
the years will roll, Time and change will surely show How firm thy friendship, O-ti-O. We call that little number Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You’ve worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.
You’re filled to overflowing with the notes; the poems we’ve written together. You know the score.
Continue to work hard for yourselves, and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world.
Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn our ancestors collaborated on with us, the calling of your name today is music to our ears. Sing that name proudly all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

For purposes of this procedure, “annual total compensation” means all cash compensation that may be awarded to, earned by or paid to an employee during a one-year period, including the employee’s annual base salary, annual target incentive payments, retention payments (prorated on an annual basis), deferred compensation credits (if not credited annually, then prorated on an annual basis) and supplemental retirement plan contributions. For purposes of this procedure the “market median” means the market composite data between the 50th and 60th percentiles of the applicable market. The annual total compensation ranges set forth in the table may be adjusted by the Board of Trustees.

Compensation Review and/or Approval by the Board of Trustees for New, Current, Interim and Renewal Appointments

The chair of the Talent and Compensation Committee of the Board of Trustees will review and approve: (1) the total compensation (base salary, incentive pay and benefits including perquisites) of the president and board purview executives; (2) the total compensation of any employee appointed as interim to a board purview executive position; and (3) any changes in the total compensation for an employee referenced in (1) or (2). Board purview executives are employees who are considered to have “significant influence” over the reputation and affairs of the university. Whether an employee is considered to have “significant influence” will be determined based on the employee’s reporting relationship within the university, the position’s perceived risk in relation to the university’s financial health and/or reputation, and the employee’s role in establishing or carrying out the university’s strategic goals. The chair may request additional information to include justification for the offer package as deemed necessary. All employees who report directly to the president will be considered to have significant influence and, therefore, will be board purview executives. Determinations as to whether any other positions are considered to have significant influence will be recommended by the Office of Human Resources, in consultation with the Office of Legal Affairs and senior administration, and approved by the Talent and Compensation Committee.

February 22, 2019, Board of Trustees Meeting
Procedure for Setting and Reviewing Compensation for University Executives

Any actions taken by the chair of the Talent and Compensation Committee of the Board of Trustees under this procedure shall be subject to ratification by the full Talent and Compensation Committee and the full Board of Trustees.

In addition, the president and the chair of the Talent and Compensation Committee of the Board of Trustees will be provided a periodic report of all compensation actions taken for other highly compensated employees with annual total compensation in excess of $270,000 and at or above the total compensation market median for purposes of consistency with the Total Compensation Philosophy for University Executives and this procedure.

Compensation Review: President and Board Purview Executives

The Talent and Compensation Committee of the Board of Trustees will conduct an annual review and report to the Board of Trustees on the total compensation opportunities provided to the president and board purview executives for purposes of ensuring consistency with the university’s Total Compensation Philosophy for University Executives.

The annual review will include a review of how base salary and annual total compensation compare to that of similarly situated employees of applicable peers. The university may provide annual total compensation in excess of the median if the president or board purview executive:

- has unique knowledge, skills and/or capabilities, and makes contributions to the university that are distinctive and reflective of attributes well in excess of norms;
- performs a role that has duties and responsibilities that are above and beyond what is typical in the marketplace (e.g., performs multiple roles, has a large and diverse set of responsibilities, has multiple appointments or designations); and/or
- is a recognized leader in his or her field(s), which enhances the employee’s personal value to the university.

In addition, a comprehensive biennial review will be conducted on the reasonableness of total compensation and any special benefits and perquisites provided to the president and board purview executive as part of their total compensation opportunities. Special benefits and perquisites include, but are not limited to, housing benefits or stipends, travel expenses and reimbursements, tax gross-up payments, car allowances, social club initiation fees and dues, and deferred compensation arrangements.

PUBLIC SESSION

The Wexner Medical Center Board convened for its 29th meeting on Wednesday, February 20, 2019, in the Ross Auditorium of the Richard M. Ross Heart Hospital. Board Secretary Jeff M.S. Kaplan called the meeting to order at 9:02 a.m.

Item for Action

1. Approval of Minutes: No changes were requested to the November 14, 2018, meeting minutes; therefore, a formal vote was not required and the minutes were considered approved.

Items for Discussion

2. Time and Change Strategic Plan Update: For the first time ever, the medical center’s strategic plan is a prominent pillar in the overall strategic plan of the university. Gail Marsh gave an update on the progress made in the past year. The medical center is leading the way in patient satisfaction, clinical outcomes and creating high-impact translational research that benefits not only faculty and students from an academic perspective, but also the community from a healthcare perspective.

3. Cancer Program Update: Dr. Raphael Pollock shared an interim progress report on the Cancer Center’s immuno-oncology efforts, an ambitious undertaking that involves collaboration with many of the colleges across the university. It is anticipated that, when the immuno-oncology efforts are up and running, it will be one of the best-funded efforts of its kind in the nation.

4. College of Medicine Report: Dr. Craig Kent introduced three new recruits — Ben Polouse, chief of the Division of Gastrointestinal Surgery and the Robert Zollinger Memorial Endowed Chair; Allan Tsung, director of the Division of Surgical Oncology; and Ben Segal, chair of the Department of Neurology. The board then heard a presentation from Dr. Tom Ryan and the directors of the cardiovascular service line. They talked about a one-of-a-kind innovation that can only be found at Ohio State called Transcatheter Aortic Valve Replacement, which is a minimally invasive, nonsurgical alternative for treating severe aortic stenosis.

5. Wexner Medical Center Operations Report: David McQuaid announced that the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses has awarded gold and silver Beacon Awards for Excellence to the Medical Intensive Care Units at the James Cancer Hospital and the Wexner Medical Center, respectively. He also discussed a variety of ways the medical center is responding to patients’ needs for differentiated services. For example, the Upper Arlington ambulatory facility has become very popular in the community, averaging 825 patient visits per day compared to last year’s average of 767 patients per day.

6. Wexner Medical Center Financial Summary: Mark Larmore shared that there are a few areas in the financial summary that are not growing at the predicted rate, but that is expected to change. Admissions are 2.6 percent behind budget and flat compared to the prior year, partially due to the closure of a floor during renovations at Harding Hospital and a change to the reimbursement methodology for inpatient drug rehab at Talbot Hall. While there is a decline on the admissions metric, year-over-year it is still growing at 1.3 percent. Length of stay has increased about 5 percent above budget.

APPROVAL FOR PURCHASE AND POTENTIAL SALE OF UNIMPROVED REAL PROPERTY

SHIER RINGS ROAD
DUBLIN, FRANKLIN COUNTY, OHIO

Background

The Ohio State University’s Wexner Medical Center (WMC) seeks to acquire vacant land for development of an additional ambulatory care facility in Franklin County, Ohio. Acquisition of this land supports the WMC’s ambulatory care strategy, which is in turn a key component of the WMC Strategic Plan and its mission to improve health in Ohio and across the world through innovation in research, education and patient care.

As partial consideration for the city of Dublin’s (Dublin) agreement to transfer and convey ownership of the property to the university pursuant to the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement, Dublin and the university have agreed that under certain limited circumstances following the closing of the sale and conveyance of the property from Dublin to the university, Dublin may elect to have the university reconvey the property to Dublin after payment of the original purchase price by Dublin to OSU. This agreement will be memorialized in a Property Reconveyance Escrow Agreement (PREA) to be signed simultaneously with the Economic Development Agreement (EDA) and the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement.

Location and Description

The property is located along U.S. 33 and Shier Rings Road in Dublin, Ohio. The site consists of approximately 34 +/- acres located within the city of Dublin (Dublin). Dublin will be responsible for installation and construction of public infrastructure improvements identified in the Economic Development Agreement, which is the subject of an additional board resolution request.

Property History

The 34 +/- acre undeveloped site is comprised of three parcel numbers owned by Dublin. Upon acquisition by The Ohio State University, the property will be titled to the state of Ohio and will require state legislative approval for sale. After the execution and delivery of the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement and the EDA, the university will seek state legislative approval for the sale, will obtain an executed Governor’s Deed, and the Governor’s Deed will be held in escrow pursuant to the terms of the PREA.

Purchase of Property and Potential Sale

WMC recommends that the 34 +/- acres of unimproved real property described above be acquired on terms and conditions that are in the best interest of the university and at a price determined to be fair market value for the property. The source of funding for the acquisition and subsequent development of the property will be the Wexner Medical Center. WMC further recommends authorization to sell the land under terms and conditions outlined in the PREA.
