Members Present via Zoom: Michael F. Kiggin

Members Absent: Hiroyuki Fujita and Gary R. Heminger

Mr. Zeiger:

Good afternoon, everyone. Thank you for joining us. In Chairman Fujita’s absence I have been asked to step in and lead today’s session. So at this time, I would like to go ahead and convene this meeting of the Board of Trustees. Will the Secretary please note the attendance?

Ms. Eveland:

A quorum is present.

Dr. Zeiger:

Thank you. Reminder to everyone that this meeting is being recorded and livestreamed for the public on WOSU. So that we are able to conduct the business of this meeting in an orderly fashion, I would ask that any sound on cell phones and other devices be turned off, and I would ask that all members of the audience observe rules of decorum proper to conducting the business at hand.

Today I would like to express congratulations on behalf of the Trustees to the entire Ohio State community for an outstanding spring semester and academic year. Several of our graduate and professional programs have been recently recognized and reaffirmed as among the very best in the nation. And the work of our faculty and scholars continues to earn national recognition and make a difference for our students and the people and businesses of our community. We were informed again this week during our meetings of a number of our faculty members who have been recognized as members of very elite national organizations and academies, and again we recognize that makes a big difference for our students and for the rest of the university.

 Closer to home, we would like to recognize our undergraduate student trustee, Tanner Hunt. Tanner not only graduated a week ago Sunday, but today will be his final meeting with the Board. Tanner, we appreciate all your dedication to Ohio State and the contributions you’ve made. It has been a real pleasure...
May 16-18, 2023, Board of Trustees meetings

working with you and your input has been invaluable. I am very pleased your mother and sister are here with you today...there in the front row...welcome and thank you for loaning us Tanner for the past two years.

[APPLAUSE]

Tanner, we know you have a great career prospect lined up and you are off to start that, but we will miss you. Again we appreciate you and all you have done for the Trustees and the university.

Mr. Hunt:

Thank you everyone, I really appreciate it. When I first came to Ohio State, I never thought this would be part of my college experience. It's been an immense privilege. To the Board, President's Cabinet, student leaders and anyone else I've had the opportunity to cross paths with, I really appreciate your confidence in me and the support in my development as a Student Trustee. Also, thank you to Ohio State as a whole for allowing two voices to serve in this capacity; I believe it is really important. Lastly, thank you to my family. My dad wasn't able to come but thank you to my mom and dad for raising me and teaching me how to carry myself. I don't think I would be in this chair if it wasn't for you two. And my sister, for all your love and support, and checking me when my head gets too big. I will leave it at that. Thank you everyone, it has been a great two years.

[APPLAUSE]

Mr. Zeiger:

We have not one but two recent graduates on our Board of Trustees. Taylor Schwein is our graduate student trustee, and she received her Master of Science in nursing this spring, but Taylor is going to continue with us for another year as our graduate student trustee as she works to complete her doctorate degree in nursing.

Taylor, again thank you for all you do for this Board. Any comments about graduation?

Ms. Schwein:

Two down and one to go!

Mr. Zeiger:

I love the spirit. I finished at two.

We also are privileged today to have two new trustees with us as the public may be unaware. Trustees currently serve a nine-year term and cycle off and the Governor then appoints the replacement trustees. The Governor moved very expeditiously this time and we very much appreciate it. This process brought us George Skestos and Brad Kastan as our two new trustees. We are fortunate they both bring very significant experience and expertise to our discussions, and I am sure they will find it as rewarding as we have in their service in the next nine years. Thank you both.

[APPLAUSE]

Whenever we have new trustees that means we lose old friends. For the last nine years Abigail Wexner and Alex Fischer have served with a unique distinction on this board and we would be remiss if we did not express our appreciation to the two of them for major contributions. Abigail has brought a sense of judgment and decorum and knowing how to do the right thing in the right way to every meeting. Alex clearly has had a major involvement in all the building programs at Ohio State. We heard today with one notable exception, we are on schedule and on budget which is remarkable, and Alex had a big hand in that. While they are not here, we do express appreciation to Abigail and Alex for their long-time commitment.

[APPLAUSE]

Trustees are with charged with the responsibility of using their best judgement to protect the university in a fiduciary capacity and we try in every meeting to focus on what is best for the university in a strategic sense. It is not our role to run the place, but we are charged with responsibility for its strategic direction. This week the Board took several steps that I think should be highlighted today.

On Tuesday, the Board announced its opposition to the current version of Senate Bill 83. This was an action that was not taken lightly. It was the result of many consultations and considerations, but it was a statement we felt strongly about and one that was unanimously adopted by all trustees.

We needed to send a message to the General Assembly that we acknowledge the issues that are being raised not only by them but also by other components of society, but we believe there are much better solutions that will not undermine the traditional shared governance model of universities, or risk weakening academic rigor, which we are committed to or impose extensive and expensive new bureaucratic reporting requirements. We have tried to make clear in our statement that we will seek to continue to work with the members of the legislature to address the fundamental flaws in the current version of this legislation, but those flaws are indeed fundamental because we believe they will diminish OSU’s ability to fulfill its educational and research missions, and negatively impact, in our view, the economic future of the state of Ohio. We do however share with the General Assembly a commitment to free speech, open dialogue, and the importance of all views, diverse views of every nature being openly discussed without a threat of intimidation or negative consequences. The university is taking steps already to reinforce that we are sensitive to this issue and make sure all viewpoints are welcomed and respected within and on our campuses.

Today, the Board will take action to approve a resolution which reaffirms the fundamental and foundational values of intellectual diversity and our commitment to it. Today the trustees will also adopt a robust, updated campus free speech policy that again ensures the ability of all to be heard whether we agree with what they have to say or not. Additionally, in April of this year, the university updated its uniform hiring practices so as to preclude the use of required diversity statements except when they are required or mandated by federal law, research contracts, licensure requirements or accreditation mandates.

The Board also looks forward to working with the members of the General Assembly on Senate Bill 117, which would establish the Salmon P. Chase Center for Civics, Culture, and Society at Ohio State; that is an effort to broaden, even further, the intellectual diversity on our campuses and to provide an even better platform for education on the basic tenants of American democracy.

The Board’s statement outlines our highest priority concerns with Senate Bill 83. I strongly encourage everyone to read the statement if you have not already. It is available on the university’s news website.

Shifting gears, we ought to talk for a second on the presidential search, which is a focal point for all of us.

Chairman Fujita updated the university community last week on the status of the search for Ohio State’s 17th president. We are pleased to report that great progress has been made. There is strong interest by highly qualified candidates and the process is moving forward efficiently and timely.

We are very thankful for the engagement of students, faculty and staff throughout this process, and we encourage all of you to keep providing input, comments and nominations online so that we have a maximum pool to evaluate for this extremely important decision.

During the time between the presidential hire and now, the members of the President’s Cabinet will continue to lead the management and operations of the university. This aligns with how it has been done in the last presidential transition period and, I must say, we trustees are confident that the Cabinet is doing a very good job managing these issues on a day-to-day basis with only bringing extreme, priority issues to the Board. We are most appreciative of the Cabinet’s commitment and success in this endeavor.

Let’s reflect for a second on spring commencement. We can forget sometimes when we are trustees sitting here dealing with some weighty issues that this a great institution. This year we graduated at the spring commencement, not counting the earlier two commencements in the academic year, spring we graduated 12,400 individuals with certificates and degrees. Truly a remarkable accomplishment for our faculty and our university.

Closer to home on May 3 one of our dear colleagues, Dr. Reggie Wilkinson, served as the keynote speaker during a special ceremony recognizing master’s, specialist and doctoral candidates from the College of Education and Human Ecology. He also received the Department of Political Science’s 2023
Distinguished Alumni Award this month. Congratulations, Dr. Wilkinson, and thank you again for your tremendous service as a very, very fine trustee.

[APPLAUSE]

In closing on these opening comments, I would like to say that we are deeply thankful for the continued dedication and support of our faculty, our students and our staff across this university.

The Board looks forward to continuing to support you and the outstanding teaching, learning, service and discovery that you do here — now, and into the future.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Ms. Kessler:

As mentioned earlier, Dr. Fujita had to depart early due to a prior commitment, but I would still like to note for the record the Board’s sincere gratitude for his strong leadership as our Board chairman this past year.

In keeping with our standard practice, Mr. Zeiger, as chair of the Talent, Compensation and Governance Committee, spent time talking individually with each trustee about their thoughts and opinions on the performance of our Board chairman and their recommendations moving forward. Out of that collaborative process the trustees have unanimously agreed to bring Dr. Fujita forward for reappointment. In addition, Dr. Fujita has recommended Mr. Zeiger for appointment as the Board’s vice chair.
May 16-18, 2023, Board of Trustees meetings

With this, we are bringing forward the following slate of officers for reappointment or appointment:

- Hiroyuki Fujita as Chair of the Board, and
- John Zeiger as Vice Chair of the Board.

Mr. Zeiger:

Any comments, discussion? Hearing none I will take the liberty to again commend Dr. Fujita for a tremendous commitment to OSU during the last year. I have been privileged to serve with three different chairs of this board and no one works harder and is more personally involved to accomplish consensus on important issues than Dr. Fujita. I thought it was extraordinary when I spoke to each of you there was not a single person who didn’t have the enormous regard for his commitment and appreciation for what he has done. Thank you for your support of him.

Are there are any other comments? Hearing none I will ask the secretary to call the roll call on the pending motion.

Ms. Eveland:

Motion carries.

Upon motion of Ms. Kessler, seconded by Dr. Wilkinson, the Board of Trustees passed the foregoing forgoing motion by majority roll call vote, cast by the following trustees: Mr. Stockmeister, Ms. Kessler, Mr. Von Thaer, Mr. Kaplan, Mrs. Harsh, Dr. Wilkinson, Mr. Kiggin, Mr. Mitevski, Mr. Bigby, Mr. Perez, Mr. Kastan, Mr. Skestos, Mr. Hunt, and Ms. Schwein. Mr. Zeiger abstained.

CONSENT AGENDA

Mr. Zeiger:

Thank you all. We have now arrived at the portion of our meeting to deal with our consent agenda. Each trustee has been given a copy of the consent agenda, it is also available online for the public to review. Please notice we have placed two items for action directly on the consent agenda for approval today as they were not dealt with in committee. The first is Resolutions in Memoriam which recognizes the passing of emeritus faculty members. The second a resolution reaffirming the foundational values of intellectual diversity as I mentioned, that would be item two on the list of consent agenda items. Also, please note, number seven is the adoption of the campus free speech policy. A previous policy has been in effect for many years but this is an updated policy the Board adopted on an interim basis some months ago but wanted the full input from faculty, and that process has been completed and now we are adopting it on a permanent basis.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Resolution No. 2023-104

BARBARA A. NELSON

Synopsis: The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sympathy regarding the death on January 10, 2023, of Faculty Emerita Barbara A. Nelson in what was then the School of Physical Activity and Educational Services, College of Education and Human Ecology. She was 91.

Nelson received her BA from Montclair State University and taught fifth grade and high school in New Jersey before relocating to Ann Arbor. There she earned an MA and PhD from the University of Michigan.

Arriving in Columbus in 1967, she joined the brand-new School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in the College of Education, which combined the separate Men's and Women's Physical Education Departments.

In her faculty role, Nelson was the coach of Field Hockey and taught in the Physical Education Teacher Education Program. As Title IX became a reality, she became interested in the personal meanings and social connections of sport. The area was first known as the Psych-Soc of sport. Interestingly, as women became more involved in sport at all levels, the subject was not yet being studied by sociologists or psychologists.

To bring together researchers, Nelson invited interested researchers from around the country and Canada to a seminar held at Ohio State in the early 1980s. The meeting brought together prominent coaches, researchers and writers and identified a new interdisciplinary area, Women in Sport. She and her program were sought after by graduate students from the United States and beyond.
Nelson was an excellent teacher and mentor to students who, themselves, have become leaders and scholars in the field of sport and leisure.

She retired in 1995 and became active and an officer in The Ohio State University Retirees Association. She continued her membership in the Ohio State Women's Golf Association.

In all, Nelson spent 26 years serving Ohio State as a coach, teacher, advisor and mentor to undergraduate and graduate students. They continue to honor her memory with their good works and loyalty to our university.

On behalf of the entire university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the friends and former students of Emerita Professor Barbara A. Nelson its deepest sympathy for their loss. It is directed that this resolution shall be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees, and a copy will be tendered to her loved ones as an expression of the board’s heartfelt appreciation.

SAMUEL JAMES WOODS

Synopsis: The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on February 3, 2023, of Samuel J. Woods, Professor Emeritus of Crop Production and Management at the Agricultural Technical Institute (ATI), College of Food Agriculture, and Environmental Sciences, The Ohio State University.

Professor Woods served on the ATI faculty from 1977 until his retirement in 2005. During his 28-year tenure at ATI, he provided leadership to the Crop Production and Management program. Dr. Woods was instrumental in growing the program, started in 1972, into a state and nationally recognized program. He annually advised 40 to 50 crop production students. He advised the on-campus student Agronomy Club. Many of his students were passionate and become successful crop producers and strong contributors to the agronomic industries because of Dr. Woods advising and teaching. Professor Woods taught courses in crop production, weed control, crop disease, and forage crops. He received a CFAES advising award.

Professor Woods had great connections with the agronomic industry. A major accomplishment was the establishment of the ATI Land Lab which consisted of farmland dedicated to the crops program and an industry donated building for classroom and laboratory instruction on the farm. By establishing the Land Lab, ATI students were and are provided real-world learning experiences in planting, spraying, harvesting, and precision agriculture … an opportunity to operate real production agricultural equipment and manage crop production and farmland. These experiences are not offered at many colleges and universities. The Land Lab also afforded Dr. Woods the opportunity to conduct applied research projects involving his students. The agronomic industry provided excellent promotional and financial support for Professor Woods’ teaching and research programs. Each year he would publish a “Land Lab Report” outlining the teaching and research work that was done at the ATI Land Lab.

Dr. Woods was an excellent ATI citizen. He served on many committees that contributed to student success and the success of the Institute. He provided the leadership to the development and implementation of the Associate of Science in Agronomy – the transition program leading ATI students to a Bachelors Degree in the Horticulture and Crop Science Department.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Samuel James Woods its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

SYED SAIDUDDIN

Synopsis: The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on November 10, 2022, of Syed Saiduddin, Professor Emeritus, Department of Veterinary Biosciences, The Ohio State University.

Professor Saiduddin earned his veterinary degree in India at the Andhra Veterinary College. He worked for the Indian Department of Animal Husbandry before applying to the University of Nevada, Reno, where he completed a Master of Science degree in 1964. He then completed a PhD program at the University of Wisconsin in 1968, studying under Dr. L.E. Casida, followed by post-doctoral studies at Tufts University under Dr. E.B. Astwood. He joined the faculty of the Department of Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology at The Ohio State University in 1971 as an instructor where he continued research in the areas of endocrinology and reproductive physiology and taught reproductive physiology at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels. He was very active in professional societies, university governance, graduate education, and mentoring students and junior faculty during his 34 years of service before he retired in 2006 as a Professor Emeritus.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Syed Saiduddin its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

RECOGNITION OF FUNDAMENTAL EDUCATIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES
Resolution No. 2023-105

Synopsis: Recognition of fundamental responsibilities in the education of students at The Ohio State University.

Members of the General Assembly of Ohio have raised questions regarding the university’s commitment to intellectual diversity in its academic pursuits, and its dedication to allowing students the freedom to develop and express independent views on societal and political issues. In response, the Board of Trustees wishes to reconfirm the university’s foundational commitment to the values of free speech, open debate, intellectual diversity, and the development of independent decision-making abilities in our students.

WHEREAS the Board of Trustees recognizes that, as a land-grant institution, the university has a deep and abiding responsibility to provide an educational environment that supports students as they learn, grow, and develop; and
WHEREAS it is essential that students have the ability to engage in free, open, and rigorous intellectual inquiry as part of such an educational environment without intimidation or fear of retaliation; and

WHEREAS, in providing such instruction and support to students, the university faculty is expected to develop students’ abilities to make independent and informed conclusions about the important social and political issues facing their communities, consistent with the protections of academic freedom and requirements of academic responsibility; and

WHEREAS these abilities are best honed through a curriculum that provides and values true intellectual diversity, and that further recognizes the value of hearing and understanding different ideas and perspectives in reaching one’s individual conclusions about matters of import; and

WHEREAS the Board of Trustees therefore recognizes that promoting, supporting, and protecting a free and independent inquiry process is central to the university’s academic mission, and that the twin values of academic freedom and academic responsibility work in parallel with a willingness to hear, understand, debate, and learn from the differing points of view that arise as part of those discussions; and

WHEREAS the Board of Trustees holds itself responsible for setting clear, open expectations regarding the fundamental values of the university, and in turn expects faculty, staff, and students to promote a positive culture of academic excellence in alignment with those values:

NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees hereby acknowledges that assuring intellectual diversity and promoting open dialogue are fundamental educational responsibilities of the university and its faculty to our students.
