EDWARD “ED” J. KANE

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on March 2, 2023, of Edward “Ed” J. Kane, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Economics in the College of Arts and Sciences. He was 87.

Kane received his BS (1957) in economics from Georgetown University and a PhD (1960) in economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He taught at Princeton, Iowa State and Boston College before joining Ohio State in 1972 as the Everett D. Reese Professor of Banking and Monetary Economics. During his 20 years as the Reese Professor, he left an incredible imprint on Ohio State. Specializing in banking and financial regulation, Kane authored three books as well as hundreds of highly cited academic articles. He was one of the few economists to foresee the Savings and Loan debacle of the 1980s and coined the now-ubiquitous term “zombie bank.”

A prolific scholar, Kane will be missed for his enormous influence in the field. He was perhaps the youngest president of the American Finance Association, president of the International Atlantic Economic Society and the North American Economics and Finance Association, research associate of the National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER), founding member of the Shadow Financial Regulatory Committee, and consultant for the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and World Bank, among other high-profile assignments. He also co-founded the Journal of Financial Services Research (JFSR), which remains active to this day.

Kane remained attached to Ohio State after he took a position at Boston College as the inaugural James F. Cleary Chair in Finance in 1992. He stayed in touch with his Ohio State colleagues and attended Finance alumni conferences in the years before his passing. He continued to exert major influence on the Journal of Money, Credit, and Banking (JMCB), a prestigious journal housed at the Department of Economics. Banking editors who served the journal over the years consider him an intellectual giant, an inspiring scholar and a mentor.

His interests outside of academics were diverse. He was inspired by comic books and horror movies and enjoyed watching boxing and baseball. Blind in one eye, he found humor in telling people to look into his normal eye when talking to him. Kane was a “people person” and hosted many parties in his house. He had a great relationship with the benefactor of his chaired position, always buying Mr. Reese lunch on campus visits.

Caring deeply about his students, Kane took a family-oriented approach to PhD advising. He viewed his students as his children, and their students his grandchildren. One prominent student reflected fondly on a moment of tough love, when Kane refused to communicate with him until he turned in his next chapter of the dissertation. Just as relationships continue after children leave home, his mentorship was for a lifetime.

He was generous with his time, attending seminars and offering invaluable insights and encouragement. The Reese Professorship required splitting time between Economics and Finance, but instead of two half-time jobs, it seemed he worked both jobs full-time. Kane’s passing leaves a void in our academic community, but his legacy of leadership and camaraderie remains a source of inspiration and gratitude for those who knew him.

On behalf of the entire university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family and loved ones of Dr. Edward “Ed” J. Kane its deepest sympathy and compassion for their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

STELLA BICOUVARIS KONTRAS

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on August 8, 2023, of Stella Bicouvaris Kontras, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Health in the College of Medicine. She was 95.

Dr. Kontras had a long and trail blazing life. She finished her undergraduate degree in biology at the Ohio State University in 1948 in three years’ time, at the age of 19. She then completed her master's degree in anatomy and continued on to graduate from the Ohio State University College of Medicine in 1953. Dr. Kontras completed her residency and fellowship in pediatrics at Columbus Children’s Hospital, now Nationwide Children’s Hospital. She remained on faculty as a practicing physician in the Department of Pediatric Hematology and Oncology and later in the Department of Pediatric Genetics.

Dr. Kontras lectured nationally and internationally on the emerging field of genetics. She had many wonderful colleagues with whom she wrote and published over 80 medical articles, leading cutting edge genetic research while caring for patients with sickle cell anemia, Tay-Sachs disease, and thalassemia disorder. At the time she was awarded tenure, Dr. Kontras was the youngest to have received this milestone within the OSU College of Medicine. She was a strong women's advocate in her field and was very proud to have been the first woman professor appointed to the OSU Medical College's admissions committee, especially because she was only one of three women in her own graduating class. Her photo is included in Nationwide Children's Hospital's Wolfe Auditorium Wall of Honor, having served as Vice Chair of Pediatrics and conferred a Career Contribution Award. She received the Alumni Teaching Award from the Ohio State University College of Medicine and several teaching awards for excellence in training medical students.

Not content with these accomplishments, Dr. Kontras attended Capital University Law School in order to broaden her knowledge and further her understanding of medical legal issues. In the 1980s, Dr. Kontras retired from Children's Hospital and completed a second fellowship in child psychiatry, then remained on the OSU Department of Psychiatry faculty for many more years. In that capacity she provided considerable clinical care while also training and encouraging countless OSU medical students. Her combined knowledge of child psychiatry and genetics made her an invaluable teacher. After retiring from OSU, Dr. Kontras continued to practice at various clinics, ultimately working in medicine for over 63 years, until the age of 88. She was a member of many professional societies, including the Central Ohio Chapter of Women in Psychiatry.

Dr. Kontras was deeply committed to her family, her faith, and her patients. She was a consummate professional. Although bright and knowledgeable, she was unassuming, sociable, and collegial. Dr. Kontras was a terrific role model for young women physicians, anyone considering a midlife career change, and anyone who just wants to be a good human being.

On behalf of the entire university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family and loved ones of Dr. Stella Kontras its deepest sympathy and compassion for their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to her family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

JOHN DAVID LATSHAW

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on September 10, 2023, of John David Latshaw, Professor Emeritus of Animal Sciences in the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences.

Professor Latshaw served in the U.S. Army. He earned his BS from Pennsylvania State University and earned his Ph.D. from Washington State University. He served as faculty at the Ohio State University for 42 years, first in the Department of Poultry Sciences and then the Department of Animal Sciences following merger of the departments.

While on faculty at the Ohio State University, Professor Latshaw taught introductory nutrition and poultry management. He advanced poultry education and created a pipeline to careers in the poultry industry through his work as the coach of the Poultry Judging Team and supervisor to the Poultry Science Club. His nutrition research used egg and meat type chickens and included studies of selenium requirements and the utilization of selenium sources, amino acid requirements and retention or excretion of dietary nitrogen, utilization of nutrients that affect leg problems, and the partitioning of energy between maintenance and production. Professor Latshaw held a national and international reputation in the field of poultry nutrition and was instrumental in the writing of The Nutrient Requirements of Poultry, National Academies Press, which is the premiere reference for poultry nutrition.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Dave Latshaw its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on October 17, 2023, of Sean O’Sullivan, Associate Professor in the Department of English in the College of Arts and Sciences. He was 58.

Professor O’Sullivan received an A.B in English from Princeton University in 1988; a B.A. in Drama from the University of Bristol (United Kingdom) in 1990; and a PhD from Yale University in 2000. After teaching for six years at Clemson University, he joined the Department of English as an assistant professor in 2006 and was promoted to associate professor in 2012. His interests and expertise in narrative, especially serial narrative across media; television and film studies; the British novel; and fiction and the visual arts were deep, broad, and energizing. His publications included a book on the contemporary realist British director Mike Leigh as well as articles and chapters in edited collections on such topics as The Sopranos and episodic storytelling; modernist structure in Mad Men; poetic design and the serial season; the afterlives of Krzysztof Kieslowski’s Decalogue; Deadwood and third seasons; apocalyptic television in Margaret Thatcher’s Britain; the limits of satisfaction in Dickens, Eliot and contemporary serials; and the showrunner Ingmar Bergman’s Scenes from a Marriage and Fanny and Alexander. His 2019 essay, “Six Elements of Serial Narrative,” is recognized by scholars of narrative as a major theoretical statement about its subject. At the time of his death, he was working on a book project on “The Sonnet-Season and the Transformation of American Television, 1999-2015” that studied the relation between storytelling and the formal shape of the television season at the turn of the millennium.

From 2014-2016, Professor O’Sullivan directed the Project Narrative program housed in the Department of English. He also chaired the department’s lectures and events committee for several years, served on the executive, undergraduate, and graduate studies committees, and co-convened the film and popular culture area group. Beyond the department, he was a member of the Arts and Sciences Faculty Senate, the Ohio State University Press Editorial Board, and the Rhodes and Marshall Scholarship Selection committee. He was also a core member of the interdisciplinary Film Studies Program that is now located within the Department of Theatre, Film, and Media Arts.

Professor O’Sullivan was a dedicated and passionate teacher, and students in his classes regularly described them as enjoyable, welcoming, and collaborative. In Professor O’Sullivan’s last semester of teaching in spring 2023, his son, an undergraduate at Ohio State, was able to audit one of his father’s most popular courses, on serial television, and experience the pleasure of being in his classroom. An engaging and animated conversationalist whose vibrant curiosity and knowledge knew no bounds, Professor O’Sullivan was known for keeping graduate students talking in his office well beyond their scheduled meeting time. Whether in his office, in department common spaces, or at home in Clintonville, Professor O’Sullivan brought warmth and openness to any topic. He had an infectious enthusiasm for intellectual pursuits and a knack for making every discussion a joyful exploration of ideas. A lifelong baseball enthusiast who interned as a sportswriter for The Boston Globe while in college, Professor O’Sullivan was a fixture on the sidelines of his children’s sporting events. He was also known for his regular evening walks with his daughter, especially during the COVID pandemic.

On behalf of the entire university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family and loved ones of Professor Sean O’Sullivan its deepest sympathy and compassion for their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.
ALMA MONTANO SADDAM

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on September 25, 2023, of Faculty Emerita Alma M. Saddam, College of Education and Human Ecology. She was 85.

Originally from the Philippines, Saddam worked at Ohio State University Hospitals while earning a master’s, then later a PhD and ultimately becoming an assistant professor in 1978 and an Ohio State University Extension specialist, School of Home Economics, Department of Human Nutrition and Food Management.

As an active faculty member and Extension specialist, Saddam conducted a myriad of outreach activities, provided training for Extension family and consumer sciences agents in the counties, now called Extension educators, wrote or co-wrote Extension publications, presented at conferences, served on multiple Extension committees, provided statewide leadership for issues teams and conducted grant projects. In 1989, she received the Ohio Dietetic Association Member of Merit Award.

Using 1999 as an example of accomplishments, Saddam co-authored Senior Series Fact Sheets and Senior Series Hotline articles on Ohioline. She highlighted her “Staying Well” teaching tools for older adults, a private/public partnership with Ross Laboratories and the Ohio departments of Aging and Health. She received an Ohio 4-H Foundation grant and developed a nutrition training module for 4-H youth and adults as well as Extension agents. She coordinated an in-service training on nutrition core competencies for new faculty and staff and served on a planning committee for a multidisciplinary in service for agents on nutrition in the middle years. She presented at a national symposium and at two statewide Extension meetings.

Saddam regularly taught Human Nutrition 704: Community Nutrition her specialty. That year, as a member of the university’s Service-Learning Scholars Roundtable, Saddam won a grant from the university’s Campus Collaborative to include a service learning component in that course. She continued work with the Elderly Nutrition Education Research Group involving representatives from five states, including Ohio.

Saddam spent years coordinating the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program. County educators still teach the educational portion of Ohio’s Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program. It is required of all receiving SNAP benefits. Saddam ensured that content was up to date and reflected the latest research.

Faculty Emerita Anne Smith remembers Saddam as being the first director of the Approved Preprofessional Practice Program, today called the Dietetic Internship. Students must complete it before siting for the Registered Dietitian exam. They spent six months in qualifying, supervised practice in a variety of dietetics roles. Julie Kennel, associate professor of human nutrition and the current coordinator of the internship, said Saddam developed partnerships with local hospitals, long-term care facilities and community agencies to provide rotations for students. Her many quality connections in the community brought benefit.

Kelly Walsh, ’06 PhD, a successful alumnus, attests to that benefit, having completed the Dietetic Internship under Saddam’s supervision. “I have fond memories of Dr. Saddam as a teacher, mentor and friend,” he wrote. “She was incredibly connected in the community and academia. She always went above and beyond to ensure that her students received training opportunities that would prepare them for careers in the field.”

For all these 1999 achievements, Saddam’s peers voted for her to receive the first Marilyn Siegel Family and Consumer Sciences Excellence in Extension Award, named for the retired Ohio State program director.

Saddam retired in 2002, although she remained engaged in academia. She judged in the annual Russell Klein Nutrition Symposium given by Ohio State’s Graduate Society of Nutritional Sciences. She continued to publish, producing refereed journal articles with colleagues as recently as 2009.
ALMA MONTANO SADDAM (cont’d)

On behalf of the entire university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family and friends of Faculty Emerita Alma M. Saddam its deepest sympathy and compassion for their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to her family as an expression of the board’s heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

NEIL E. SMECK

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death of Neil E. Smeck, Professor Emeritus of Soil Science in the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences School of Environment and Natural Resources on August 14, 2023.

Professor Smeck served on the faculty for 36 years with distinction from 1971 until he retired in 2007. He and his colleagues focused on broadening the understanding of the genetic processes involved in the formation of soils and their classification. His research has made an indelible contribution to the understanding of the dynamics of soil formation.

Professor Smeck has made a lasting scholarly impact on improvements in Soil Taxonomy. Dr. Smeck led efforts to “modernize” soil survey data shifting from a focus on updating soil survey reports to updating soil information for Major Land Resource Areas to produce “seamless” soil survey data. Through the Ohio Cooperative Soil Survey Program, Dr. Smeck contributed to soil characterization techniques, and the recording, storing, and retrieval of laboratory data to allow for the characterization of Ohio soils morphologically, physically, and chemically and contributed to national efforts to not only classify and map soils, but also to the understanding of their management and conservation.

Dr. Smeck was a published author of three books and numerous articles for scientific journals with extensive lecturing nationally and receiving a one-year teaching and research invitation from the Ministry of Education and Science in Spain and awarded a Fulbright Scholar Award for study in Argentina. He served eleven years on the Editorial Board of the leading soil science journal in the world, Soil Science Society of America Journal.

He expanded learning and development for both undergraduate and graduate students through exemplary research and teaching serving as an advisor to graduate students, who have gone on to esteemed careers and leadership positions in the field of soil science or related fields. Dr. Smeck served as coach of the Soil Judging Team at The Ohio State University – teaching the next generation of soil scientists and land managers how to identify, evaluate, classify and describe soil profiles. Testament to his dedication to students Dr. Smeck on at least three occasions was awarded the Agronomy students’ Distinguished Faculty Award.

Dr. Smeck also served the field generously. He was recognized as a Fellow of the American Society of Agronomy, the highest recognition bestowed by the American Society of Agronomy and a recipient of the National Cooperative Soil Survey Cooperator Award. He served as president and on executive board of the Association of Ohio Pedologists and president of the All-Ohio Chapter of the Soil and Water Conservation Society.

On behalf of the university community, the Board of Trustees expresses to the family of Professor Neil E. Smeck its deepest sympathy and sense of understanding of their loss. It is directed that this resolution be inscribed upon the minutes of the Board of Trustees and that a copy be tendered to his family as an expression of the board's heartfelt sympathy and appreciation.

REUBEN “MARK” SULC

The Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University expresses its sorrow regarding the death on September 16, 2023, of Reuben “Mark” Sulc, Professor of Horticulture and Crop Science in the College of Food Agriculture and Environmental Science (CFAES).

Professor Sulc served on the faculty from 1992 until he retired in 2022. His professional appointment was 80% extension and 20% research. Dr Sulc was the State Extension Specialist of Forage Agronomy and had a deep commitment to the communication of research information to the forage producers of Ohio.

Dr Sulc was also committed to forage research and developed a strong in-state and global reputation in intensive forage production. He authored and co-authored 80 peer-reviewed research publications with 1853 citations.

Dr. Sulc was an innovator in the development of extension programming that supported Ohio agriculture. He was especially successful in obtaining funding for applied research projects. His 30-year career saw tremendous change in communications technology. Initially, Dr Sulc attended innumerable farmer education meetings throughout Ohio, but transitioned some of his programming to digital media, including YouTube video, websites, podcasts and Zoom conferences to increase engagement.

Dr Sulc was widely recognized for his meticulous approach to research. His specialty was in livestock and hay production from intensive and short-term crops. He was among the first researchers to develop predictive equations for alfalfa quality that were used to develop a simple tool for farmers to measure alfalfa quality. He wrote a series of invited reviews on integrated crop-livestock production systems. He was recognized by the journal “Crop Science” with the outstanding paper in forages in 2020, for his landmark paper “Multistate Evaluation of Reduced-Lignin Alfalfa Harvested at Different Intervals”.

Mark was an intensely focused, disciplined, dedicated, and honest man both professionally and personally. He set an example to strive for excellence and to never stop learning. He was highly respected within his Department, College, and University. He served on many Departmental Committees including P&T, Graduate Studies, and Executive Advisory Committee as Chair. He served as interim Department Chair in 2011/2012. Dr Sulc served on numerous university and national committees.

Dr Sulc was an active member of and contributor to the American Society of Agronomy, the Crop Science Society of America, and the Soil Science Society of America. He was elected Chair of C6-Forages Division of CSSA in 2006. He was recognized by awards including the Merit Award from the American Forage and Grassland Council (2004) and the Jack Tucker Distinguished Service Award from the Ohio Forage and Grassland Council (2009).

Dr Sulc was a long-time supporter of US. International Friendships, Inc. (IFI), a national organization with close ties to campus. His unique perspective from living in Brazil as a child empathized with international students. He included many international students within his research and extension program, and throughout his academic career sought to build bridges with international research groups. He and his family regularly hosted innumerable international students for meals and hospitality in their home.

The highest ranking official in the College of Arts and Sciences or his/her designee has the discretion to hold all or a portion of the unused distribution in the distribution fund to be used in subsequent years, and/or reinvest all or a portion of the unused distribution in the endowment principal.

The investment and management of and expenditures from all endowment funds shall be in accordance with University policies and procedures, as approved by the Board of Trustees. As authorized by the Board of Trustees, a fee may be assessed against the endowment portfolio for the University’s costs of development and fund management.

Should the University units referenced in this endowment restructure in the future, the terms of the endowment shall apply to their successors in interest. The University and the Foundation may modify the purpose of this fund, in consultation with the donors named above. In accordance with Ohio Revised Code, if the purpose of the fund becomes unlawful, impracticable, impossible to achieve, or wasteful, the University and Foundation may modify the purpose of this fund. The University and the Foundation shall consult the highest ranking official in the College of Arts and Sciences or his/her designee to identify a similar purpose consistent with the original intent of the donors. Modifications to endowed funds shall be approved by the University’s Board of Trustees and the Foundation’s Board of Directors, in accordance with the policies of the University and Foundation.

James F. and Patricia C. Dietz Engineering Scholarships Fund

The James F. and Patricia C. Dietz Engineering Scholarships Fund was established April 8, 2011, by the Board of Trustees of The Ohio State University, in accordance with the guidelines approved by the Board of Directors of The Ohio State University Foundation, with a gift from James F. (BChE 1969, MS 1970) and Patricia C. Dietz. The fund was revised on January 30, 2015. Effective November 16, 2023, the fund description shall be revised.

The annual distribution from this fund shall provide scholarship support. It is the donors’ desire to provide one scholarship equivalent to 20% of Ohio State’s Engineering tuition and fees for in-state students to an incoming first-year undergraduate student who graduated from Botkins High School (or its successor) in Shelby County, Ohio, plans to attend the Columbus campus or regional campus and major in engineering, architecture, landscape architecture, or city and regional planning. If multiple students are eligible from Botkins High School (or its successor), the preference will be given to those with demonstrated financial need. If no Botkins High School (or its successor) students are available, consideration will be given to students from Shelby County, Ohio with preference given to those with demonstrated financial need. The scholarship is renewable for students who remain enrolled in engineering, architecture, landscape architecture or city and regional planning at The Ohio State University and in good academic standing (not on academic probation or not maintaining full-time status), not to exceed four years total.

It is the donors’ desire to provide three or more scholarships equivalent to 50% of the cost of in-state tuition and fees to undergraduate students from any state who are of sophomore standing or higher majoring in chemical and biomolecular engineering at The Ohio State University with consideration being given to students with demonstrated financial need. Scholarship awards will be renewable for students who remain enrolled at The Ohio State University in chemical and biomolecular engineering and in good academic standing (not on academic probation or not maintaining full-time status), not to exceed three years total. The donors’ intention is to fund at least one sophomore student, one junior student, and one senior student each year whenever possible.

The College of Engineering will develop brochures regarding application for this scholarship and distribute these brochures to Botkins High School (or its successor) in Shelby County, Ohio. Candidates may be recommended by the highest ranking official in the William G. Lowrie Department of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering or his/her designee. Scholarship recipients, the number of recipients, and amount of each scholarship shall be determined in accordance with the then current guidelines and procedures for scholarship administration established by the college, in consultation with Student Financial Aid. Scholarships may be awarded in varying amounts based on student enrollment, available funding, and other factors.

The University may modify any selection criteria should the criteria be found, in whole or in part, to be contrary to federal or state law or University policy.

In any given year that the endowment distribution is not fully used for its intended purpose, the unused portion should be held in the distribution account to be used in subsequent years and only for the purposes of the endowment, or reinvested in the endowment principal at the discretion of the dean of the College of Engineering.

The investment and management of and expenditures from all endowment funds shall be in accordance with University policies and procedures, as approved by the Board of Trustees. As authorized by the Board of Trustees, a fee may be assessed against the endowment portfolio for the University’s costs of development and fund management.
James F. and Patricia C. Dietz Engineering Scholarships Fund (cont’d)

It is the desire of the donors that the endowment established herein should benefit the University in perpetuity. Should unforeseen circumstances arise in the future so that the need for this endowment ceases to exist, then another use, as nearly aligned with the original intent of the contribution as good conscience and need dictate, shall be designated by the Foundation’s Board of Directors and the University’s Board of Trustees. In making this alternate designation, the Boards shall seek advice from the donors or their children (Anita Kae Frey or Douglas Alan Dietz), if possible, and from the dean of the College of Engineering.
